"The County Sheriff."

A stirring sensational tale of western life is "The County Sheriff" by Lem B. Parker, which comes to Madry's opera house on Tuesday night, December 12th, under the management of O. E. Wee. "The County Sheriff" is a play made of new material, good plot and very dramatic situations. The Dakota's, the country roundabout and the life led in that locality, form an attractive setting for the action of the story. An elaborate scenic production, strong acting company including Miss Irma Manning, Mabelle Severton, Kitty Melville, Joe Lyonell Loftus Husband, Victor Bouvier, Bert James, Charles H. Brooke, Wallace E. Young and many others.

Do You Feel This Way?

Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., whose advice is given free to all who wish to write him. His great success has come from his wide experience and varied practice. The scenes of "The New County Sheriff" by Lem B. Parker, are laid in the far West where, according to early history, strange people coming from everywhere, joined forces, soon lost their names. There they struggled, laughed, cursed, killed and loved; of one thing only were they certain—they lived. A powerful play with a strong cast. At the Madry opera house Tuesday night, Dec. 12th.

There are more pretty girls with pretty faces in manager Desmond's presentation of "A Bunch of Keys" than have been projected into theatrical vision in many a day. If the performance possessed no other attraction it would be notable in this because the entire group of women are young and unconventional, and they look so much fresher and brighter than the usual crowning farce-comedy. "A Bunch of Keys" will be at Madry's opera house Thursday night, 7th.

The good roads train operated by the Atlantic Coast Line Railway, was here on schedule time Wednesday of last week. Quite a number of our people visited the train and enjoyed the illustrated lectures on the subject of good roads. The pictures showed the effect of good and bad roads on a community, which was very striking and convincing. In the demonstration car was shown models of road building machinery in operation. We regret that more of our people did not come out to see the good roads train.

"The County Sheriff" is one of those stirring dramas of the early days on the borders of civilization in which a sweet story is woven from, and tells a story of true love. It allows one to settle comfortably into an orchestra chair to smile broadly all the while. All the good work that is in a man comes to the surface. It is the pure soul triumphing in the end, by his very trust and honesty. It is the fundamental principle of success and happiness that one sees explained. "The County Sheriff" will be the attraction at Madry's opera house Tuesday night, Dec. 12th.

Hoyt's "A Bunch of Keys" bubbles with the richest humor. It is natural that unscrupulous persons should seek to strengthen parts of their own weak pieces with the fun that is so plentiful in Hoyt's play, the new "Bunch of Keys" is very different from the play represented the last year. Manager Boyer has made practically a new production of it with the new features and catchy specialties for which he re-sacked the new vaudeville theatres of Europe as well as New York in order to present original acts. This delightful farce comedy will be the entertainment at Madry's opera house, Dec. 7th.

PRETTY AUTUMN MARRIAGE.

Miss Mattie V. Baggett Becomes The Bride of Mr. C. A. Harrington.

One of the prettiest marriages witnessed in Scotland Neck in a long time was solemnized in the Baptist church on Wednesday evening, November twenty-ninth, when Miss Mattie Virginia Baggett became the bride of Mr. Claude Alonzo Harrington, of Gainesville, Georgia. It had been announced but a few days that this popular young lady was to become a bride, and much interest was manifested in the event.

The rostrum of the church had been beautifully decorated for the occasion, being barked with a profusion of ferns, cedar and potted plants, intermingled with autumn roses. While the congregation was assembling Mrs. James Allen Pittman played beautifully "Bridal Morn'" and "Apple Blossoms."

Promptly at the appointed hour, six o'clock, the large church organ pealed forth the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, announcing to the eager congregation the arrival of the bridal party.

First entered the ushers, Messrs. David Franklin Bryant, Herbert Stanley Putts, Charles Linwood Staten, and Roland James, being followed by little Miss Martha Beach-Madry and Master William Powers and little Miss Elsie May Vaughan and Master William Newell. Next came little Miss Katherine Shields bearing a beautiful band of gold, with which the couple plighted their troth. Following the ring bearer came the bride, who was beautifully costumed in a suit of white messaline with trimmings of lace and crystals, and carrying a bouquet of white carnations and fern, accompanied by her maid of honor, Miss Nettie Norfolk Bell, who was charmingly attired in a suit of champagne messaline, also carrying a bouquet of white carnations and fern. The groom with his best man, Mr. Louis Lester Cherry, entered from the right wing of the church, all forming a circle before the altar, where Reverend O-car Leonidas Powers, the bride's pastor, in a simple but careful ceremony took the vows that made them husband and wife. The party retired in reverse order while Mrs. Pittman played Bartholomew's grand march. During the ceremony Mendelssohn's was played softly.

Immediately after the marriage the bridal party hurried to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Peterson, on Roanoke street, the home of the bride, where hasty preparations were made to leave on the 7:28 train for Richmond, where the happy couple will spend several days before continuing their bridal tour to several points in Florida.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin B. Baggett, of Aulander, but has made her home in Scotland Neck for several years, being a popular saleslady for Mr. J. W. Madry. Since she has made her home here, she has made many friends who wish for her much joy and happiness through life.

The groom is a popular traveling man, and made his headquarters in Scotland Neck several months last year. He is very popular with his friends, a man of much energy and integrity, and while he is not so well known among the people here as his bride, yet he has many friends in this community who heartily congratulate him upon winning the heart and hand of so charming a young lady.

Many useful and valuable bridal presents were received from friends here and elsewhere, which attested the popularity of the happy young couple.
