

Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

A disease prevailing in this section because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the lungs, causing catarrh of the lungs, or sediment in the back, back ache, lumbago, sleeplessness, nervousness, etc. It is a disease which will creep up on you and take you by surprise. You may have a headache, a backache, or a general feeling of weakness, and you may have a book that tells all about it. Address: Dr. J. G. Anderson, 100 N. Y. St., Raleigh, N. C.

AN EXCUSE FOR HUSBANDS

Discovery of Woman Who Has Spent Twenty Years in Studying Domestic Problems.

A heavy load of moral responsibility should never be foisted upon a man in the first flush of youth. If it is, he is almost sure to let it slide off when he arrives at years of maturity, and all sorts of complications are liable to follow. Mary Austin, who wrote "The Arrow Maker," explained these things and several others to the members of the Legislative league at the Waldorf-Astoria.

"I have been spending a good deal of time lately at the domestic relations court," she said in elucidation of her statement concerning the overbright young man, "and I have learned that in a great majority of cases the man 40 or thereabouts who has grown tired of his wife, because her beauty has faded and refuses to support her any longer, so that she has to appeal to the courts, was compelled to go to work when he was thirteen or fourteen to help maintain his parents or brothers and sisters. By the time he reaches middle life his moral muscles, which were strained and stretched beyond their proper capacity when they were still soft and untrained, have become feeble, if they haven't snapped entirely, and he can't be depended upon for anything."

Mrs. Austin admitted that what she had just said wasn't generally known, but she added that it was nevertheless absolutely true. She was sure of it, because she had spent 20 years studying just such problems.

GERMAN KNEW THE PIECE

Amusing Incident in Campaign to Encourage Respect for the National Anthem.

Mrs. William G. Boyd of Kingsbury place, an enthusiastic member of the Daughters of the American Revolution and former chairman of the Missouri state song committee, is directly responsible for the new order requiring all public concerts in this city to be concluded with "The Star Spangled Banner." During a talk with Park Commissioner Davis, in which the lack of respect shown the national air by St. Louisians in public places was deplored, Mrs. Boyd suggested a campaign of education as a remedy for the existing condition.

As soon as the first notes sounded the men in the party removed their hats, but all were alert for developments around them. Nobody appeared to notice the music except one big German who gave vent to several disgusted grunts as it proceeded. Thinking to test him, Mr. Davis asked if he knew what that piece was.

"Know him? Ain't I a German? Don't 'Die Wacht am Rhein,' but mein Gott, how dey blays him!"—St. Louis Times.

Fashion Is Fashion.
"Why do all the women walk like ducks this year?" was the question put to a friend of mine, years since, by a younger brother.

He did not know that a quite new kind of corset had suddenly, during the summer months, "come in." To wear it meant change of gait and posture, eventually actual change of shape. Yet we all wore it, and doubtless went on praising the Venus of Melos as we did so.

The notion that, after we have learned from the scientists to deal in evolutionary periods of millions of years, we ought naively to expect to enter the human form in a season or two, never occurred, I fancy, to any of us.

"Business is business," men are credited with saying, when invited to apply abstract laws of honor. "Fashion is fashion," women would surely say if invited to apply abstract laws of beauty.—Atlantic.

"ROCK HILL PLAN"

Plea to Farmers to Cut Deep Cotton Acreage This Year.

To the Cotton Growers of the South: I feel it proper and advisable in me as the one who should be best informed as to probable results to be expected under the "Rock Hill Plan" movement for reduction of cotton acreage, to sound a final warning to every one who has signed the "Rock Hill Plan" pledge to adhere strictly to it, not only as a matter of personal honor, but for the sake of his own direct gain and protection.

With equal emphasis I would urge all, in their own interest, who have not been reached by "Rock Hill Plan" canvassers, or who have declined to sign the pledge, to cut the acreage and cut it deep. My opinion of the judgment of the man who will increase his acreage this year is not flattering.

Planting time is about on throughout the belt, and the "Rock Hill Plan" work is being closed up in the several States, with an unusual late spring prevailing generally over the belt. The movement of fertilizer has gotten a tardy start, but has put on a mighty gait recently.

Those who look to a late spring, the noise of fertilizer reduction, or to the other fellow doing the reducing—to any combination of these—are apt to be the ones to suffer.

The only safe course in the present crisis is to cut the acreage and cut it deep. The spring of 1897 is said to be the latest on record. The number of acres planted that year exceeded 1886 by 1,046,375, and the number of bales produced exceeded 1886 by 2,400,000 with the result that prices were low during the fall of 1897. If we are to take 1897 as an example it will not do to depend on the bad weather doing the work.

We have a four million bale surplus hanging over our heads. Important foreign spinners who bought at last fall's low prices for three years ahead, will not be in the market at living prices this fall. Mill labor unrest and world-wide coal troubles further militate against us. To play the game properly we should not make more than 12,000,000 bales this year. The courage of those who flirt with this condition is wonderful, but their judgment would not do to describe for publication.

Let the cry be, "Cut the acreage and cut it deep." Corn can be planted as late as July 1st, and the farmer will be a great deal better off if he raises less cotton and more corn, for in the end he will get as much for a small crop as he would if he raised a large one, and have all his corn clear.

J. G. ANDERSON,
Originator "Rock Hill Plan."

16,050,819 Bales Ginned.

Washington, March 20.—The census bureau's preliminary report on cotton ginning, giving the government's first figures, other than estimates, on the size of the 1911 cotton crop of the United States, was issued at 10 o'clock this morning, and shows the total crop to have reached the unprecedented size of 16,050,819 running bales, counting round as half bales and including linters, which is equivalent to 16,235,065 500-pound bales.

The crop reporting board of the department of agriculture in its estimate of the 1911 cotton crop, issued December 11, reckoned the total production at 14,385,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight. The country's 1910 production was 12,905,688 bales of 500 pounds. In previous record years, the total crop was 13,537,306 bales in 1908; 13,595,498 in 1903; and 13,679,954 bales in 1904.

P. Norfcoat, of Memphis, Tenn.; Matron of Honor, Mrs. Florence Wadley Coleman, of Macon, Ga.

Robin Hood and Guy of Gisborne.

The sheriff of Nottinghamshire had set an enormous price upon the head of Robin Hood. One Guy of Gisborne, a skilful archer, determined to win the prize and betook himself to Sherwood Forest. Little John and Robin caught sight of the stranger and knew instinctively that he had come on some definite errand which it would be well for them to find out. Little John proposed that he should go alone to sound the stranger. Robin was unwilling to entrust the delicate matter to him, and Little John left in a huff.

Robin had some pleasant words with the intruder, promised that he would lead him to Robin Hood, and did lead him into the heart of the forest. He proposed some archery feats to while away the time. They had some merry sport together and each admired the other's masterful use of the long-bow. Robin at length revealed his identity and Guy his errand. They agreed to fight till the death of one or the other, and there began as wonderful an exhibition of heroic combat as history records. Robin lost his footing and Guy was about to take possession of his helpless body, but Robin's importunate prayer to the Virgin was heard and he got on his feet again. He soon had vanquished his opponent. With a heartfelt note of compassion for the dead man and a grim jest over the necessity of putting the worst cloth on the best man, he exchanged clothes with Guy and then disfigured the dead face beyond recognition. Mounting a good horse he hastened to the sheriff and announced himself as Guy of Gisborne. The exultant sheriff would have rewarded him with money, but the hero declared that the slaying of that vile outlaw, Robin Hood, was reward enough, and hurried away.

In a few moments he saw Will Scarlett fleeing from the sheriff's soldiers, and he rescued him. Then he came upon Little John tied hand and foot, expecting to be barged. He rescued him. Then safely arriving in his forest home, he resumed his own clothing and impersonated Guy of Gisborne no more.

Guy of Gisborne will march in the procession on May 18th, at the State Normal College at Greensboro.

Governor Kitchin Appoints F. R. McNinch of Charlotte.

Raleigh, N. C., March 29.—Governor W. W. Kitchin announced the appointment of Mr. F. R. McNinch, of Charlotte, as manager of his campaign throughout North Carolina for the United States Senate to succeed Senator F. M. Simmons. He has just secured the consent of Mr. McNinch to take this position and will at once open headquarters in Raleigh, the campaign to be conducted from this place. The Governor's friends are expressing the deepest satisfaction at this selection. Mr. McNinch was local manager in Mecklenburg county for the Kitchin campaign for Governor and was eminently successful. The age of specialism! A pickpocket who was arrested in Paris last week mentioned that he only exercised his profession on the irresistible pockets of persons watching an airplane.—Punch.

"What made you go late?"
"I met Smithson."
"Well, that is no reason why you should be an hour late getting home to supper."
"I know, but I asked him how he was feeling, and he insisted on telling me about his stomach trouble."
"Did you tell him to take Chamberlain's Tablets?"
"Sure, that is what he needs."

Bright Definition.
A teacher asked a boy the difference between an island and a peninsula. The boy replied: "Take a glass of water and a glass of milk and keep in a cool place; they will catch a fly and put it in the water; it will be an island, because it is entirely surrounded by water. Put it in the milk and it will be a peninsula, because it is nearly surrounded by water."

To Keep Nuts Fresh.
If walnuts or any other kind of nuts are packed in layers of sand and kept in a cool place, they will keep fresh for an indefinite period. Soak them in warm water for an hour before using if you would have them peel as if they had just been gathered fresh from the tree.

TWENTY YEARS

Makes a great difference in most women. They are troubled with "nerves"—they suffer from backache, headache, sleeplessness, a sensation of irritability or twitching, hot flashes, dizzy spells, or many other symptoms of female weakness. The local disorder and inflammation should be treated with Dr. Pierce's Lotus Tablets and the irregularity and weakness of the female system corrected and strengthened with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This strain upon the young woman or the woman of middle age—upon the nerve and blood forming structures—may be too great for her strength. This is the time to take this restorative tonic and strength-giving nerve and regulator. For over forty years sold by druggists for women's peculiar weaknesses and distressing ailments. This remedy so perfect in its composition and so good in curative effects as to warrant its makers in printing its name on its outside wrapper. The one remedy which absolutely contains neither alcohol nor injurious or habit-forming drugs.

Following letter selected at random from a large number of similar cases and edited merely to illustrate these remarks:

"In the winter of 1905, I became greatly run down and nervous; I was unable to do my usual work, and I had to resort to the doctor for help. The doctor said I had indigestion, and gave me medicine, but it did not do any good. I then tried Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and after taking it for a few weeks, I felt much better. I had been told that this remedy would not work across the floor, but after I had taken it for a few weeks, I found that it would. I dropped the dose and took the Tablets. I would like to see the doctor who said I could never be cured—I really believe I cured myself. I feel better now than I have for twenty years."
