It can now be safely counted that the next big race meet of the Roanoke Racing Association, will be held in Scotland Neck on Thursday, July 4th.

These having the races in charge tell us that it is going to be a big occasion for Eastern Carolina. There will be a large number of horses on the track and the railroads will be asked to make ample arrangements to handle the crowds and give the people plenty of time to see all the races.

Remember the date, July 4th, and let your friends know about the big day.

Mr. E. L. Travis was here Monday afternoon.

Mrs. J. H. Applewhite spent a few days at Tillery this week.

Mr. Paul White is at home from the University of North Carolina.

Mr. Fred M. Shute, of Williamson, was here Sunday with relatives.

Miss Fannie Lewis is home from the Peabody Conservatory of Music, Baltimore, Md.

Miss Lala Cherry, of Tarboro, is visiting Misses Annie and Ernestine Cherry this week.

Mr. Robert L. Johnson, of Portsmouth, Va., was here Sunday to see relatives and friends.

Miss Minnie Lewis is home from South Mills, N. C., where she has been teaching music.

Mr. Albion Dunn, of Greenville, was a pleasant visitor to our town Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. O. L. Powers and children left Wednesday morning to visit her old home near Frankfort, Ky.

Mr. M. S. Strickland returned home from Oak Ridge a few days ago, where he has been attending school.

Mrs. Clarence Elmer Drake and her two little boys, of Baltimore, are visiting Mrs. Drake's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lewis.

Dr. H. H. Fries and family returned to New York City Monday after spending some time on his estate at Tillery. Dr. Fries will return again in the fall when it is time to kill game.

Messrs. G. C. Weeks and Teddy Kitchin accompanied Mr. Albion Dunn to Greenville Sunday afternoon on his Overland automobile purchased from the G. C. Weeks Motor Car Co.

Rev. J. E. Lanier is expected here this week to assume his duties as assistant pastor of the Baptist church. Mr. Lanier will also do local work around here during the summer. We welcome him to our community.

Mr. J. H. Allsbrook and daughter, Miss Brookie, and Miss Maggie Benson, of Sanford, S. C., visited Mr. A. M. Riddick and Mrs. G. W. Andrews this week. Mr. Allsbrook and party made the trip from Sanford in his automobile.

Sworn in as Attorneys.

Before Judge E. B. Cline at Halifax Monday Messrs. Chas. L. Staton and A. W. Darden took the oath as attorneys. They are now privileged to practice law before all Superior courts of North Carolina. May they both have many clients and a successful career in their chosen profession.

Mr. Anderson Very Ill.

Rev. R. W. Anderson has been dangerously ill at the Episcopal rectory since Saturday morning. Mr. Anderson arose that morning in his usual health and went in the garden to do some work. He soon became too warm, and going back to the house he suffered something like a sun-stroke. Mr. Anderson has been a very sick man since that time, though at the time of going to press his condition has slightly improved. We hope he may soon regain his health.

The Revival Services.

Rev. J. A. Hornaday came down from Weldon Monday and since then has been preaching at the Methodist church in a series of meetings. The attendance has been interfered with some on account of rain, but those who have attended enjoyed the preaching. Mr. Hornaday is a very strong preacher.

Mr. Frank Fitzgerald, of New York, is leading the singing and directing the music. Mr. Fitzgerald has a fine voice and he is using it to good effect.

It is worth your time to hear the preaching and singing by these two Godly men.

The hours of service have been slightly changed from those announced last week. The day service is held in the morning for one hour beginning at 9:30 o'clock and the evening service begins at 8:00 o'clock.

THE CLOSING EXERCISES.

The Graded School Closes a Successful Year's Work.

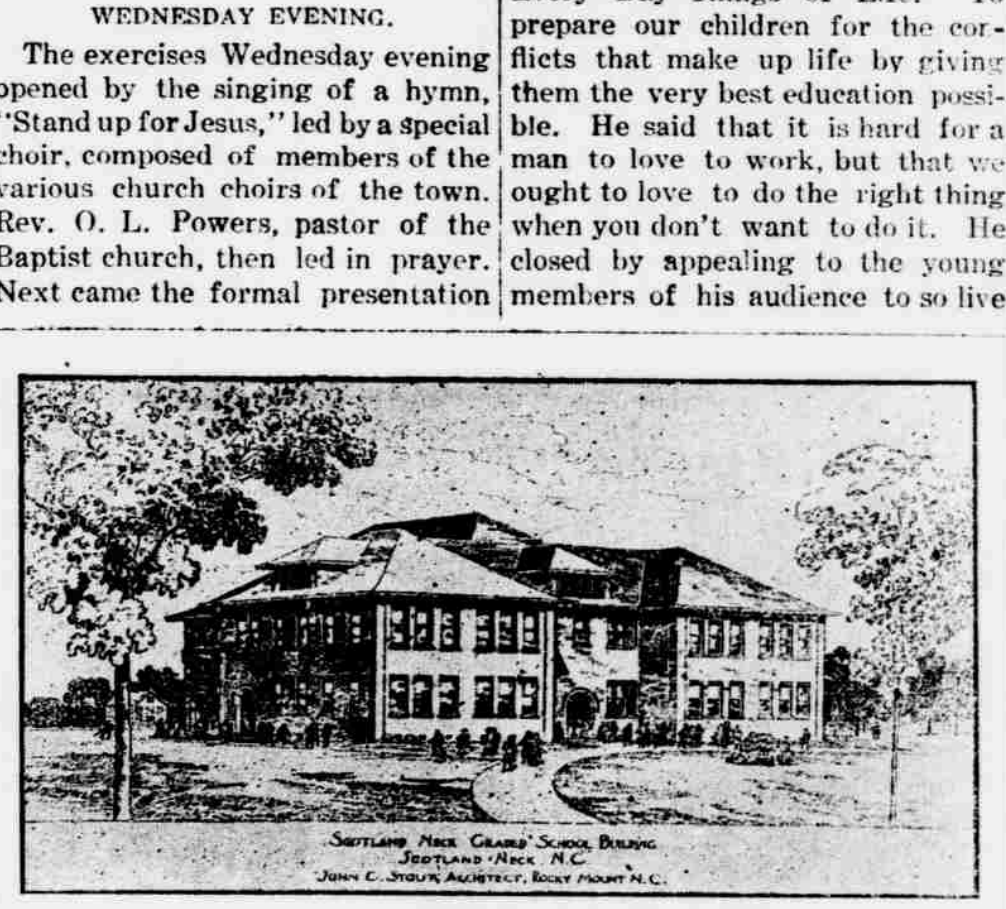

BUILDING PRESENTED TO THE TOWN.

Dr. Beaman Preaches The Sermon and Governor Kitchin Delivers The Address. The Graduating Class and Declamation Contest.

The first closing exercises of the Scotland Neck graded school since the new building was erected, took place Wednesday evening and Thursday of last week. The building having never been dedicated it was thought proper to open the commencement by presenting the building to the town. This plan was carried out to good effect.

WEDNESDAY EVENING.

The exercises Wednesday evening opened by the singing of a hymn, "Stand up for Jesus," led by a special choir, composed of members of the various church choirs of the town. Rev. O. L. Powers, pastor of the Baptist church, then led in prayer. Next came the formal presentation of the building by Mr. Chas. L. McDowell, chairman of the board of trustees. Mr. McDowell made a very appropriate speech and his friends were surprised to know that he was such a good speaker. He referred with feeling to the life work for the school of the late E. E. Hilliard, who served as chairman of the board from the establishment of the graded school to the day of his death. Mr. McDowell proposed that the school establish a library and that it be known as the E. E. Hilliard Library. Seated on the stage were the other members of the board of trustees as follows: Wilson Allsbrook, G. Hoffman, J. A. Kitchin, Stuart Smith, E. T. Whitehead and A. L. Purrington.

Mayor J. E. Shields, as the representative of the town, accepted the building, and he, too, distinguished himself for the speech he made.

Mr. Ashby Dunn, a former superintendent of the school, spoke for a few minutes. Among the good things he said was his appeal to the parents to support the school and especially standing by the teachers in their work in the school room. Prof. C. W. Wilson, the other former superintendent, could not be present on account of previous engagements. His absence was regretted.

After several songs by the special choir, Rev. R. W. Anderson, rector of Trinity church, read the Scripture lesson and then followed the commencement-dedication sermon by Rev. R. C. Beaman, of Durham, N. C. Dr. Beaman read the first verses of the 12th chapter of the book of Genesis and took as his subject, "Abraham the Great Altar Builder." Dr. Beaman entered at once into the discussion of his subject, and for one hour he held the attention of the large audience. He spoke of Abraham as the altar builder saying that he scored no theories; also of God's promise to be with him through all life. He said that any theory of life that leaves God out is an inevitable hell. He spoke at length on the home life and referred with stress to the way our home life, business life and everything else is carried on to-day. That the reason there are so many disasters, failures, etc., is because God has been left out almost entirely. He closed his discourse by referring to life as a service.

At the close of the sermon Rev. N. C. Yearby, pastor of the Methodist church, led in prayer.

Superintendent Aiken publicly expressed his appreciation to Misses Elizabeth and Katherine Futrell for getting up the program for the music on this occasion.

THURSDAY MORNING.

Long before the hour for the Thursday morning exercises to begin people began to wend their way to the school building and when the hour of eleven o'clock arrived the auditorium was well filled with people eager to hear the commencement address to be delivered by Governor William Walton Kitchin.

Mr. Stuart Smith was on the program to introduce Governor Kitchin and he did it well. He spoke of the new era of the town and section and of the past history which is a glorthat they may help man higher and cause those around us to live for higher ideals.

THURSDAY EVENING.

On Thursday evening came the real commencement and graduating exercises. The board of trustees offered two medals—one to the girls and one to the boys—for the best recitation and the best declamation. Those entering the contest were Misses Louise Darden, Lydia Josey, Willie Moore and Katherine Tillery; Messrs. Marvin Hardy and Edward Lewis. The speeches were lively and spirited. The judges were Messrs. A. B. Hill, Stuart Smith and Ashby Dunn. They did not have an easy time finding out who had won, but finally reached the decision that Miss Lydia Josey and Edward Lewis were entitled to the medals. Mr. Ashby Dunn, in a few appropriate remarks, presented the medals to the winners.

Just at this point a very pleasing feature of the commencement took place when Mr. Marvin Hardy, as president of the senior class, presented the school with a loving cup. Mr. A. L. Purrington as secretary of the board of trustees accepted the cup. This cup is to be contested for by the two societies of the school at each succeeding commencement.

Next on the program was the presentation of diplomas to the graduating class as follows: Misses Katherine Bell, Ruby Darden, Certrude Davenport, Sadie Kitchin, Lucile Leggett, Eva Moore; Messrs. Troy Anderson, William Anderson, Marvin Hardy, Edward Lewis. Those receiving certificates were Miss Nannie Lamb and Henry Hilliard. Mr. Chas. L. McDowell presented the diplomas in a very dignified and impressive manner.

Prof. Aiken then read the honor roll of those in the various grades receiving the highest average in all their studies during the session as follows:

Tenth grade—Eva Moore.
Ninth grade—Katherine Tillery.
Eighth grade—Verna Strickland.
Seventh grade—Estelle Hancock.
Sixth grade—Claude Harrison.
Fifth grade—Luther Purrington.
Fourth grade—Mable Wommack.
Third grade—Mary Josey, Geraldine Moore.
Second grade—Louise Allsbrook.
First grade—Luther Mills, Vernon Hancock.

Miss Bessie Hancock, teacher of the fifth grade, offered at the beginning of the session a prize for the scholar that averaged the highest in spelling. This prize, a beautiful little gold pin with the word "Spelling" engraved on it, was won by Mary Alice Hardy.

Miss Ruby Darden was presented with a stick pin for faithful services rendered the school in playing the march each day.

Forbes' Orchestra, of Washington, N. C., rendered music for the occasion.

The commencement for 1912 is now in the past, but we desire to say that the occasion was thoroughly enjoyed by every one that attended, and we have heard nothing but praise for the manner in which every detail was carried out. The school has had a most successful year and there is a still brighter future ahead.
