

Bad Spells

"I suffered, during girlhood, from womanly weakness," writes Mrs. Mollie Navy, of Walnut, N. C. "At last, I was almost bed-ridden, and had to give up. We had three doctors. All the time, I was getting worse. I had had spells, that lasted from 7 to 28 days. In one week, after I gave Cardui a trial, I could eat, sleep, and joke, as well as anybody. In 3 weeks, I was well. I had been an invalid for 5 weary years! Cardui relieved me, when everything else failed."

RED DEVIL LYE

To labor over a boiling soap kettle is out of fashion because absolutely unnecessary. Red Devil Pulverized Eye makes the same hard soap in five minutes, without boiling. To go back to hard lye or lye and the boiling process after using Red Devil Lye one time would be like getting out of a automobile into an ox-cart. Red Devil Eye is pulverized like very coarse granulated sugar. It dissolves quickly in hot or cold water. It is clean and pure. There is no waste as you remove the friction top, the oil is what you want, this coats the eye area. For washing, scrubbing, cleaning and for making Red Devil Pulverized Eye is ideal. It is almost that any other because it gets so much faster.

Persons going to all the trouble of examining the upper and lower lids, the conjunctiva and the cornea, and opening the eyes under water. Musician's Prodigy.

A seven-year-old boy of Rennes, France, is the latest musical prodigy to burst upon the world. He is an admirable even a brilliant pianist, but has genius for composition, and plays symphonies, piano pieces of all kinds from his own pen. It is said to be pretty good stuff, too. A number of the great composers have been to invent melodies before the age of seven.

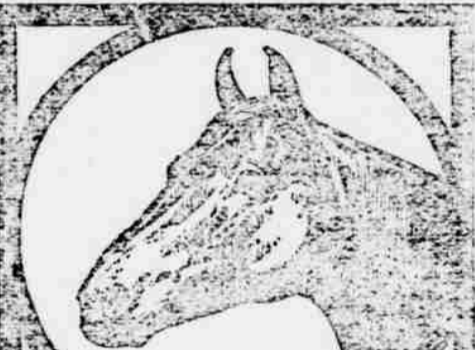

Found in Old Battle Ground. While cutting turf in Coillara bog, County Roscommon (Ireland) on the estate of Mr. J. J. Doyle, J. P., a number of copper battle-axe heads, armor and military utensils were unearthed the other day at a depth of about thirty feet. On this spot was formerly fought a fierce battle between the clans of the O'Rourke's of Breffni and a sept of the O'Connors of Roscommon.

Mother's Day in Neighborhood.

A woman in Maryland contributes the following to the Woman's Home Companion Department of Practical Household News: "Four mothers in a little town have one day in a week that they call 'Mothers' day'. One of them keeps her own and the children of the other three all day, while the other mothers go shopping or visiting, or rest."

Live Australian Frogs.

A calf, somewhat of a freak of nature, was born on T. G. Ware's farm at Little Akaron, Australia, recently. It has five legs, the extra one working in a socket in the breastbone. The calf is thriving, and is strong and healthy. Another freak, a lamb, is reported to have been born at Pitt Station. It has three ears and eight legs. It did not live.

Accidents will happen, but the best regulated families keep Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil for such emergencies. Two sizes 25 and 50¢ at all stores.

Misquotation.

It is very surprising to find in the Charlotte Observer this misquotation of an old phrase, "Everything was lovely and the goose was hanging high." This is the way the un-informed commonly have come to write it, but in the Tar Heel country they know better. The right rendering is "the goose hanks high," as the wild goose does when the weather is fine, or, in other words, when "everything is lovely."—Nashville Banner.

East Cough Medicine for Children.

"I am very glad to say a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," writes Mrs. Lida Dewey, Milwaukee, Wis. "I have used it for years both for my children and myself and it never fails to relieve and cure a cough or cold. No family with children should be without it as it gives almost immediate relief in cases of croup." Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is pleasant and safe to take, which is of great importance when a medicine must be given to young children. For sale by all dealers.

Women in Saltide Epidemic.

No fever than five epidemics, out of women, were committed in Paris one recent day. A mother and her daughter took a ride of potassium because they had had no food for three days. The daughter was a little artist. A young Australian girl of 18 threw herself into the sea as a train was entering the harbor station of the Metro. A woman of 49 took arsenic, and the girl, who was 27, shot herself through the heart.

Inspired Famous Hymn.

"Jesus, Lover of My Soul," is a hymn around which many traditions and sacred associations cling. The story connected with its origin may be legendary, but it is no less beautiful. It is attributed, Charles Wesley, was sitting at his desk by an open window when a bird swooped by a nest of his. The bird was excited, for the hawk feared to follow it. The incident inspired Wesley to write his famous hymn.

Eye Water Before or After.

"I thought that in the fifteen years of my practice of medicine," said a physician, "I had answered almost every possible 'fool' question; but a new one was sprung on me recently. A young man came in with an inflamed eye, for which I prescribed medicine—to be dropped into the eye three times a day. He left the office, but returned in a few minutes, asked me, 'What is the matter with my eye?' I said, 'I don't know, but you must be careful not to get any more of that medicine in your eye.' He said, 'I don't know what you mean, but I feel better now. My eye is all right.'—Everybody's Magazine.

His Stomach Troubles Over.

Mr. Dyspeptic, would you not like to feel that your stomach troubles were over, that you could eat any kind of food you desired without injury? That may seem so unlikely to you that you do not even hope for an ending of your trouble, but permit us to assure you that it is not altogether impossible. If others can be cured permanently, and thousands have been, why not you? John B. Barker, of Battle Creek, Mich., is one of them. He says: "I was troubled with heartburn, indigestion, and liver complaint until I used Chamberlain's Tablets, then my trouble was over." Sold by all dealers.

Floating Baths Condemned.

Floating baths near great cities are now condemned by sanitary authorities. The vast quantities of sewage that are discharged into the waters that usually border such cities are thought to be productive of disease to bathers, and certainly render their ubiquitous of doubtful value as a cleansing agency.

Most Costly Wood.

Cabole, a beautiful tree that grows on the west coast of Africa, and is also found on the island of St. Thomas, is said to furnish the most costly wood in the world. It somewhat resembles teak, and takes on a very high polish. Its price is quoted as about $3,500 a cubic meter.

When Men Marry.

That's what a man wants in a wife, mostly, he wants to make sure of one foot as it tell him he's wise. But there's some men can do without that—they think so much of themselves 'ready—on' that's how it is there's old bachelors.—George Elliot.

Insuring Private Cup.

To insure the owner of a private shaving cup kept in a barber shop that he is its only user there has been invented a paper cap to cover it, which cannot be removed without breaking a seal.

Breaking Even.

Pat (to doctor)—"If I live, doctor, sure I'll have you to thank for it." Pat's wife (somewhat prejudiced against the doctor)—"And if you die, Pat, you can thank him, too."—Judge.

Too Near.

"What animal," said the teacher of the class in natural history, "makes the nearest approach to man?" "The flea," timidly ventured the little boy with the curly hair.

Explained.

Ella—"As a child I had hard work in learning to tell time." Stella—"Then that is the reason you never seem to be certain how old you are."

A Debt Recognized.

"The world owes me a living," shouted the exultant theorist. "Well," replied the serene citizen, "you're alive, aren't you?"

Something Beyond That.

Education is not merely the taking of ideas out of one's head and pouring them into the heads of children.
