She could not see why a monkey loved from enjoying a fortune. Indeed, she thought no more of killing a monkey than a dog. Besides, it was tuting monkeys till the crack of doom.

> Fortunately for her intention, Rustom's love for her was not known to Dulmara, nor had Dulmara ever seen

One day Agya appeared to Dulmara and said that she had a singular dream. But before she told the dream she looked about her at the pets which were wandering around. A hen was sitting on some eggs, upon seeing which Agya told her dream. She said that a woman had appeared to her in her sleep and said that her husband's soul was in a monkey in a house which she described. The woman herself had died and passed into the body of a cow (sacred mitted by Vishnu to be born in the house where her husband lived in a monkey's body. She would come out go to the house described, and the first chicken hatched in that house would contain the spirit of the wife of the man whose spirit inhabited the monkey. She was to have the care of the

There is no end to the superstition in the people of India, and Dulmara believed the story. While the two were talking a wee chick picked through the shell of an egg, and this settled the he discussed in a general way the matter. Dulmara did not dare to turn Agya away for fear of the wrath of the tiny bird which might contain the soul of her from whom she drew her stipend. The girl was at once taken into the household and given the care of the chicken.
