

CONFIDENCE

The results of true success in life and in business are expressed in the word Confidence, without it our personal life becomes a dreary waste, our family life a bedlam, and our civic and national life a dismantled ship at the mercy of the winds and tides.

The confidence of our fellow men, and particularly those with whom we do business, should mean more to us than any other thing in the world.

What a goal to strive for and what a prize when once attained!

There is but one way to reach it, and that is by not deviating one hair's breadth from the line of absolute honesty. We can reach it only through our own efforts.

To never offer goods that are not the best—to never misrepresent their quality—to never overcharge one penny—to never break a promise—to be courteous and considerate—to be just, as we expect to receive justice—to have our store truthfully represent our personality in its cleanliness and management; these are the keys that admit us into the circle of perfect confidence, for which many men strive but all do not reach.

Confidence is the very breath of our social and business life.

A Revival of Skating

A Popular Sport This Winter, Indoors and Out. The Pantalette Petticoat.

New York, November 14, 1915. It looks just now as if all the world would go on skates this winter just as all the world took up the dance craze last winter. Our Hippodrome is displaying some wonderfully attractive skating notions in its present show, and many of the glass-enclosed roof gardens have taken up the fad and are giving a skating cabaret instead of the dancing cabaret. The sport is wholesome and appeals to young and old.

PIQUANT SKATING COSTUMES

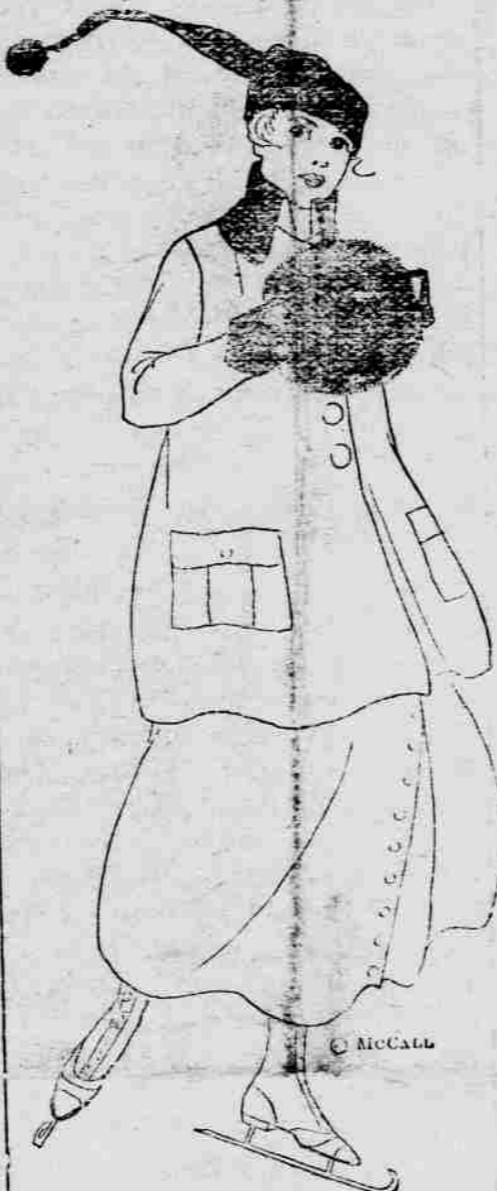

Among the costumes, particularly youthful and chic, are the box coats, worn with short flaring skirts and tasselled Tam-o'-shanters. The Norfolk model too, is much in favor, and the sweater is some popular vivid tone combined with skirt of corduroy or tweed, is a prime favorite. Each of these suits allows the ease of movement so necessary to this sport, and the grace of line so much sought after in all costumes.

ric, often attached directly to the coat itself, is a practical and comfortable notion; what could be more ideal for skating than the wide cuff, into which one may slip the hands and remove them instantly if necessary, and also the inconvenience of carrying one when the hands may be put to better use.

PANTALETTES FOR SKATING

Few of us but will appreciate the practical side of the pantalette petticoat for skating and out-of-door wear. These pantalettes are generally made of heavy satin in the same tone as the suit, or skirt, and for skating, dancing and the numerous other purposes for which they are equally well suited, are trimmed with fur; then again the pantalettes are of silk, satin, or tulle, the lower part being faced with the same material as the suit. A dark blue corduroy skirt combined with a beautifully colored silk sweater with tasselled sash ends, and satin pantalettes edged with dull gold braid was unusually chic. Just a glimpse is caught now and then of these fascinating accessories, as the accessories, as the wearer flashes by on her shining skates, or dips in the dance.

Box Coat Suit

THE NATTY TAM-O'-SHANTER

Velvet, fur, fur-cloth, lamb's wool and the material of the suit are all used effectively in these charming little caps. Some are made Mandarin fashion with just a round ball of fur directly on the top by way of trimming; others have a hanging tassell of silk, and still others are woven with the very long, tasselled end of the Tyrolean skater's cap. Some of these are in black, but the majority are in a bright shade, orange, emerald green, royal blue, scarlet, or purple. The lamb's wool caps in these bright colors are particularly effective.

Turner's Almanac Useful North Carolina Publication. 87 Years Young

Turner's North Carolina Almanac for 1916, eighty-seven years young, makes its appearance this year packed to the capacity of sixty-four closely printed pages with the variety of general information for which it is famous. Besides the quaint cuts, prophecies, zodiacal signs and portents which it has carried since the days when it was the one book that the cabin of the average pioneer could not get along without, and without which an almanac would be like a circus without a steam calliope, this year's issue carries, among other things, a full compilation of the North Carolina game laws, complete data as to the departments and personnel of the State government, and the State institutions at Raleigh and elsewhere; a chapter devoted to information about the work of the Agricultural Department; comprehensive agricultural and educational statistics; complete calendars of the Federal and State courts, and, to make the measure run over, eight pages of a carefully edited record of events within North Carolina, from January 1 to September 30, inclusive.

The almanac, which is published by The Raleigh Times, is, in short, up to the standard of 1828, as completely as that of 1828 fit the times of our grandfathers and great-grandfathers. As an inexpensive yet inclusive and reliable book of current reference it is hard to see how it could be bettered.
