SENATOR LONG SPEAKS TONIGHT

Senator W. L. Long, of Roanoke Rapids, will make an address on the War Work Campaign tonight at eight o'clock in the School Auditorium, and will be introduced to his audience by Mr. A. Paul Kitchin.

The subject of the Senator's talk is one that should appeal to every person in America—the matter of surrounding our boys in the camps, in France and Europe with protective measures that will bring them back to their homes clean and capable.

Americans in the field have been held up as examples of the clean-minded, vice free soldiers, the like of which have hitherto never been known, and it is to preserve this clean minded man so that he may come home fit to take up his life's work that the seven organizations are doing such splendid work wherever the soldiers are congregated.

All the citizens of the United States are asked to contribute to a fund that will keep these organizations going during the remainder of the time our boys will be away from home, and this is the story that Senator Long will bring to us tonight.

Let his reception be a welcome and rousing one.

(By Associated Press.)
Washington, Nov. 15.—It is said at the White House that any reply made to the world appeal addressed in the name of German women to Mrs. Woodrow Wilson for aid in securing modification of armistice terms probably would go thru diplomatic channels.

Washington, Nov. 15.—The United States and the allies will see that the rolling stock of the armistice terms do not work a hardship on Germany, provided that nation does its utmost to maintain order. This unofficially is the government's attitude toward Germany.

The German women's wireless appeal to Miss Jane Addams, of the Hull House, Chicago, and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson was received by the war department overnight.

It is indicated that the associated governments have no intention of modifying the armistice terms, but at the same time it is suggested that the rolling stock seized could be placed to aid the Germans if they smother Bolshevism which is now stalking the land.

LLOYD GEORGE IN ACCORD WITH WILSON

Washington, Nov. 15.—President Wilson and British Premier Lloyd George stand squarely together on the main problem of peace and justice without revenge and greed, at the same time their two nations are working out separately, but in many respects with the same ideas, the problem of reconstruction, as revealed by Lloyd George's later utterances and as known from President Wilson's speeches.

The League of Nations idea will be put forth vigorously in the peace conference.

Lloyd George stands with the president on his fourteen peace proposals and particular stress is being laid by both the British premier and American president that the great peace must avoid, base, sordid, squalid ideas of vengeance and both Lloyd George and the president are now busy with reconstruction matters.

Lloyd George has started a big scheme for the creation of a minimum wage; for the reduction of hours and for increased production from the land.
