REP. KAHN DEMANDS RETURN OF THE ARMY

RETURNING FROM EUROPE YESTERDAY HE ANNOUNCES HE WILL MAKE DELIBERATE CHARGES WHEN HE SPEAKS IN HOUSE.

SUMMARY IS DIFFERENT FROM TREATY

WASHINGTON, May 23.—The early withdrawal of the entire American army from Europe will be demanded by Representative Kahn, chairman of the house military committee, when he speaks before the house on his two months investigations of the conditions of the American Expeditionary army.

Mr. Kahn returned to Washington today and immediately began organizing his committee.

The American troops, Kahn said, he found liked neither the British or French troops and he reiterated that there was no doubt that both the latter were beaten when the American army stepped in.

CHALONER WILL COMPROMISE

NEW YORK, May 23.—After being out for fifty minutes the jury in the case of John Armstrong Chaloner against the New York Evening Post returned a verdict in the United States District Court in favor of the plaintiff and assessed his damages at $30,000.

The case had been on trial before Judge A. N. Hand and a jury for four days' actual court time.

NEW YORK, May 23.—John Armstrong Chaloner, accepted a reduction of $17,500 of the $30,000 judgement awarded him by a Federal jury yesterday in his $100,000 suit for libel against The New York Evening Post. Mr. Chaloner agreed to the reduction when Federal Judge A. N. Hand gave him the alternative of accepting or having the verdict set aside and a new trial ordered on the newspaper's motion. The Evening Post's counsel has not yet approved the compromise verdict.

MORGENTHAU WRITES WILSON

PARIS, May 23.—Henry Morgenthau, former American Ambassador to Turkey, has submitted a memorandum to President Wilson concerning the proposal for the United States to become mandatory for Constantinople.

It is understood that he favors the inclusion of Constantinople and Anatolia under one mandate as being advantageous for administration purposes by combining a large section of northern Asia Minor under a central administration.

The Exchange will not undertake, at any time in the near future at least, the establishment of cleaners, nor will it enter any other form of peanut manufacturing. Its big opportunity for service in the beginning will be furnishing its members with reports on market conditions, that will include both local and jobbing prices and also the movements of foreign nuts. Special efforts will be made to get the growers to pool their peanuts in order to be able to command the very best market prices. They will also be encouraged to erect warehouses and to store their nuts in these in order that they may be able to market the crop more slowly by securing advances so as to avoid the usual rush to market on the part of small growers in order to meet bank notes.

PEANUT GROWERS FORM EXCHANGE

SUFFOLK, Va., May 23.—The peanut growers of Virginia and North Carolina met here on Saturday last and effected the organization of a cooperative exchange by adopting by-laws and subscribing stock. The meeting throughout was characterized by a marked spirit of conservative business and constructive effort.

July 19 was set as the date for a meeting of the stockholders at Norfolk. At the Board of Directors is to be made up of one member from each of the peanut growing counties in the two states, county meetings will be held July 15, at which each county unit will nominate its representative on the Board of Directors.

The Virginia-Carolina Cooperative Peanut Exchange, Inc., will have a minimum capital stock of $15,000, with the maximum placed at $25,000. The par value of the shares of stock will be $5, limited to 20 shares to each member. The Exchange will be incorporated under the cooperative laws of Virginia. Provision is made for limiting the amount of dividends, for one man voting, for no voting by proxy and for a division of profits in accordance with the amount of business done through the Exchange by the members. Provision is also made for colored farmers to hold stock in the Exchange through white trustees.

The Exchange will not undertake, at any time in the near future at least, the establishment of cleaners, nor will it enter any other form of peanut manufacturing. Its big opportunity for service in the beginning will be furnishing its members with reports on market conditions, that will include both local and jobbing prices and also the movements of foreign nuts. Special efforts will be made to get the growers to pool their peanuts in order to be able to command the very best market prices. They will also be encouraged to erect warehouses and to store their nuts in these in order that they may be able to market the crop more slowly by securing advances so as to avoid the usual rush to market on the part of small growers in order to meet bank notes.

WOMAN SPY'S MESSAGE TO FOE

NEW YORK, May 23.—Mme. Marie K. de Victoria, testifying at the trial of Willard J. Robinson, accused of treason, testified that Robinson, disguised as a mess boy on a steamship carried messages for her to the German Consul-General at Rotterdam. The trial is being held before Federal Judge Hand.

Mme. de Victoria said the messages were written in invisible ink on the flysheets of a Bible. She brought the ink to this country from Germany soaked in white neckties, she said. She declared she had received $35,000 from Germany for secret work for Germany in this country.
