"The important issue in this case has been determined favorably to the plaintiff. He has been vindicated. Money damages were entirely subordinate and were not sought by Mr. Ford. He stands not only vindicated but his attitude as an American citizen has been justified after a trial which raised every issue against him which ingenuity and research could present. FEELING AGAINST NOSKE

COBLENZ Aug. 15.—Throughout Germany there has been a renewal of clashes between troops of Gustav Noske, Secretary for Military Affairs, and civilians but just what has caused the disturbances is not clear in dispatches published in German newspapers. American army officers, however, believe it quite possible that the manifestations are due to the food shortage, the relocation of Noske troops and the subsequent appearance of strange troops in many cities.

In Celle, Hanover, there has been trouble for more a week at times the manifestations amounting almost to riots over the appearance of a Jaeger battalion which arrived recently from the eastern front. The citizens contended that this battalion had eaten too much of the city's food supply. In Heilbronn, Wuerttemberg, individual soldier have attacked and beaten by civilians at night and their insignia stolen.

Disturbances between Insterburg, West Prussia citizens and troops of the First Jaeger zu Pferde regiment has reached such a state that the civil authorities have made demands upon the government that the troops be moved to another district.

From information in the hands of the officers at headquarters of the American forces in Germany it is believed that, while the majority of the German people are now loyally supporting the government troops, there is an energetic minority which has been increasing in bitterness recently against the Noske troops wherever they have appeared in various parts of Germany.
