BRITISH NAVY TAKES KRONSTADT, SAYS AN UNOFFICIAL REPORT

Admiralty Does Not Credit Report As Only Light British Cruisers Were In That Vicinity

MUTINY IN THE BOLSHEVIK RANKS

London, Oct. 17.—Kronstadt fortress, standing sentinel at the gate of Petrograd, was taken by British naval forces, according to unofficial reports.

The capture appears to seal the fate of Petrograd as the north-western Russian army is almost at the gates of Petrograd and the Soviet troops are reported to be leaving the city, mutiny having broken out among them.

London, Oct. 17.—Confirmation of the reports that the British naval forces captured the fortress of Kronstadt on the Gulf of Finland west of Petrograd, has not been received at the admiralty here.

The report is not credited, it being said that the British have only light cruisers in this vicinity which would be incapable of challenging the fortress.

Admiralty officials state no reason for the British attack.

When on longer able to make over that gown, sister, why not wear it at least a week as it is!

$5,000 FOR JOHN BURNS FROM CARNEGIE'S ESTATE

London, Oct. 17.—John Burns' many friends have been almost as much surprised as gratified that Andrew Carnegie should have left him $5,000 a year, for Burns once refused to shake hands with Mr. Carnegie. Moreover Burns was very proud of having done so and fond of telling about it. It happened in the precincts of the House of Commons in the days before "Honest John" had accepted the responsibilities of a ministerial office and was still an untamed Socialist.

Mr. Carnegie was being shown through the House of Commons by some distinguished English friends. In the lobby John Burns was encountered and Carnegie's attention was directed to him. As Burns used to tell the story of their meeting Carnegie stepped up to him smiling and with outstretched hand and said, "Andrew Carnegie offers his hand to John Burns." To which Burns replied, "John Burns refuses to take the hand of Andrew Carnegie" and turned his back on the multi-millionaire.

If every newspaper in the country would stop printing a word about these interminable strikes and lockouts and squabbles generally, there would soon be an end to the whole troublesome mess. Publicity is the life of strife.

He arrived here from Wahoo soon after 8 o'clock, where he made a forced landing yesterday after his motor accident.

Omaha, Oct. 17.—Maynard and his machinist worked all night installing a new motor in his plane, which was destroyed at Wahoo, Neb., yesterday, that his flight might be resumed today.

A message from Washington authorized him to continue in a Curtis Oriole, but the local army representatives would not assume the responsibility of accepting an airplane without receiving official notice to make the purchase.

SHANTUNG AMENDMENT KILLED IN THE SENATE

Washington, Oct. 17.—The much prized and long debated amendment on the Shantung peninsula, of the majority leader, Senator Lodge went down in ignominious defeat by a vote of 55 to 35, with 14 Republican senators aiding it on its way to oblivion.

The bill was over-debated yesterday for six and a half hours, in fact it was talked to death, and with it five other amendments affecting the occupation of Chinese territory by Japan which, by unanimous consent, were joined together.

Senator Lodge, not content with so decisive a defeat, announced that he would move to strike out entirely the sections awarding the Shantung rights to Japan.

MODIFY STRIKE CLAUSE IN CUMMINS R. R. BILL

Important Revisions Ordered Made In Bill

CRIME FEATURE CUT

Washington, Oct. 17.—Important revisions have been ordered made in the Cummins Railroad Bill, for the return of the roads to private ownership, by the Interstate Commerce Committee of the Senate.

The committee voted in favor of "an effort to prevent strikes on railroads," but the present clause, which makes railroad strikes a crime, will be tempered somewhat. A subcommittee on the revision was appointed, consisting of Senators Cummins, Townsend, Poindexter, Frelinghuysen, Pomerene and Robinson.

Revision will also be made in the clauses providing for compensation for the railroads. To determine what compensation shall be deducted from the $1,500,000,000 that the railroads will owe the government must be decided by Congress, and Senators Cummins and Kellogg were appointed a sub-committee to draft a tentative plan.

Dr. Greyson announced that he had called in Dr. Hugh Young, of Johns Hopkins hospital, a specialist on prostatic troubles and he was expected at the White House some time today. Dr. Young will make a thorough examination of the swelling of the prostate gland to determine whether an operation is necessary, says Grayson.

The letters elicited assistance for the son of parents in humble circumstances, a boy who gave great promise at school. The "boy" is now 76 years of age.

"Judge not that ye be not judged," said the tramp to the court. It worked.

Strange, isn't it, that foreigners always tell us that our language is very hard to learn. We haven't found it a bit difficult.
