JUDGE ANDERSON APPROVES THE RESCINDING STRIKE ORDER

COAL STRIKE CALLED OFF AT 4.10 THIS MORNING

Lewis Announced That United Miners Would Respect The Mandatory Of The United States Court

ALL STOCKS HAD BUOYANT TONE

Indianapolis, Nov. 11.—Judge Anderson in federal court this morning approved the order of the executive board of the United Mine Workers of America calling off the strike of the soft coal miners.

Indianapolis, Nov. 11.—The order calling off the coal strike will be issued today following the decision of the general committee of the United Mine Workers of America at 4:10 this morning to obey the mandate of the United States court issued Saturday.

The committee adjourned a few minutes later to reconvene at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

"Gentlemen, we will comply with the mandatory of the court. We do it under protest. We are Americans. We cannot fight our government—that is all," was the statement of John Lewis, acting president of the mine workers, in announcing the decision of the other members of the conference which had been in continuous session since 10 o'clock yesterday morning.

Later, on being approached by the news correspondents, Mr. Lewis declined to talk.

Indianapolis, Nov. 11.—The recall of the strike order will open the way immediately for the resumption of negotiations between the miners and operators, as the operators have announced they are ready to consider a new wage agreement at any time the strike order is withdrawn.

Washington, Nov. 11.—"I shall immediately call miners and operators together to negotiate a wage agreement," said Secretary of Labor Wilson today after a meeting of the President's cabinet.

New York, Nov. 11.—The rescinding of the coal strike order imparted a buoyant tone to stock markets today.

Prices of two to six points were raised by the leaders, notably in stocks, equipments, oils and motor oils, shippings and numerous miscellaneous issues shared in the advance.

As we are told, "the wages are a death," it is a long time since some of the hardened negotiators of this world.

PRINCE BOWED DEEPLY TO MAYOR'S FLUNKY

London, Nov. 11.—The gorgeous uniforms of the dignified English servants who are always in attendance at all official receptions have been the rocks upon which the pride of more than one foreigner has been wrecked. The initiated is never sure as he approaches one of these impassive faced functionaries whether the latter is a field-marshal, or a footman. Witness the discomfiture of His Highness, Prince Feisal, son of the King of the Hedjaz, at the great reception in the Guildhall to England's returning hero, Field Marshal Viscount Allenby. The Arabian Prince, clad in his official robes of Oriental design, was one of the many famous men at the Guildhall. Always punctilious in the extreme, His Highness made his way into the ancient hall, bowing to right and left as he met great soldiers and statesmen of the country. He neared one who, wearing wonderful raiment adorned with yards of heavy gold lace, appeared to be greater than them all. The Prince bowed deeply—to the Lord Mayor's flunky.

WILLIAM WILKINS MET WITH FATAL ACCIDENT

Colored Boy Fell From Auto Truck And Lungs Crushed

DIED IN FIVE MINUTES

Last night shortly before 6 o'clock William Wilkins, colored, 12-year-old son of John Wilkins, fell from an auto truck and was crushed to death.

The deceased and a number of other boys were jumping on and off a truck, run by Mr. Allie Strickland, who, with Mr. Elbert Aeree, frequently warned the boys to get off the truck, but they persisted in fooling on and off the truck.

As the truck turned into Seventh street from Main street, the deceased apparently fell off the truck and must have been crushed under the tire, apparently the rear wheel passing over the boy's chest.

Those on the truck knew nothing of the accident, but a minute or two after Mr. D. B. Bryant passed along and discovered the boy in the road and the Bowers & Company wagon rushed him to Dr. O. F. Smith's office, where he died in five minutes.

An investigation was made last night by the Mayor who, in conjunction with Dr. Smith, found that the boy died from accident brought on by his own carelessness and that no negligence was attributable to the driver of the truck.

"ECONOMIC TREASON" CHARGED GRAIN SELLERS

Berlin, Nov. 11.—"Economic treason," is the term applied by German writers to those who in the past month since the gathering of the wheat harvest have sold great supplies of grain to Holland, obtaining a better price than the grain sells for in Germany and yet allowing the Dutch buyers to make a huge profit.

The smuggling of grain across the border is a fairly easy matter, and so the German farmers in the west have been sending tons across into Holland.

There is a legal provision forbidding the exportation of wheat, and other cereals, and a punishment is insufficient to stop the practice.

GERMANY'S BLACKEST DAY IN FIVE HUNDRED YEARS

So Stigmatizes Berlin Papers In Discussing The Anniversary Of The Revolution

BIRTHDAY REVOLT BRINGS RAGE

FRENCH POILUS RALLY FOR RECONSTRUCTION AT THE ELECTIONS

Demand Fifty Per Cent Of Candidates Of Each Party

RENE FONCK IN FIGHT

Paris, Nov. 11.—"For new conditions, new men" is the rallying cry of the former soldier element for the forthcoming parliamentary elections. Some of the many veteran organizations demand that the men who fought the war should, alone, be charged with the work of reconstruction. Others demand that 50 per cent of the candidates of each party for the Chamber of Deputies be recruited from the soldier organizations.

This soldier movement has become disquieting to the great majority of outgoing deputies who neglected to don the uniform during the war. It is estimated now that between 7,000,000 and 8,000,000 votes will be cast, and there are approximately 5,000,000 soldier electors. Among the former soldiers who will seek election is the "ace" of French military aviation, Rene Fonck, who, it is reported, will run on the same ticket with George Mandel, right hand man to Premier Clemenceau.

BELGIAN EXPOSITION BARS HUN EXHIBITORS

Brussels, Nov. 11.—This city will have an exposition April 4 to 21, next year. It is announced that German exhibitors will not be admitted. The exhibitors will be limited to Allied countries and neutrals.

Berlin, Nov. 11.—"Germany's blackest day in 500 years," the Nationalistic Deutsche Tageszeitung in glaring headlines calls the first anniversary of the revolution. The Tageszeitung calls it "the anniversary of Germany's disgrace."

"Vivifying though at the same time depressing, is the resemblance of the November day a year ago," says the organ of the radicals, Die Freiheit, and continues:

"What of today? Today rage and resentment seize one when the inspiring hours of the first revolutionary day are compared with the dark reality in which the working people live at the end of the first revolutionary year."

There is no concealing the fact that the year-old babe, democracy has brought happiness to none but discontent to all. The nationalistic parties deny all relation ship with the "infant," while the radicals and the moderate socialists, who each claimed fatherhood when it was born, now deny that it has any resemblance to their thoughts and expectations.
