THE WORLD'S MARKET

London, Feb. 6.—Plans for the great Marché du Monde, or meeting place for the buyers of the world, which is to be established in Paris two years, contemplate the erection of a vast building nine times the size of Trafalgar Square and containing not only 5,000 shops but many special features, including the most luxurious club and the largest banqueting hall in the world. Details of the scheme were given here by Sir Charles Dundas, secretary of the Association of Great Britain.

"The object," he said, "is to give producers and buyers of the concrete result of the Giesberts plan world the facility to perform all to establish an entire chain of their transactions in one place.

"It will be the only building in the world where the rentals will decrease according to the length of the leases, and where the tenants will be considered as valued clients, and not as objects of speculation.

"The building will be of six stories, with a frontage of 350 feet. It will be nine times the size of Trafalgar Square, and will cost approximately £1,000,000.

"This enormous building," continued Sir Charles Dundas, "will contain 5,000 shops, the most luxurious club in the world for buyers and producers, swimming and Turkish baths, gymnasium, restaurant, grill room, roof garden, several lecture-rooms, industrial cinema, and the world's largest banqueting-room.

"Briefly, what is contemplated is the erection and operation of a veritable city, in which it may reasonably be estimated there will be a floating population of manufacturers, producers, merchants, buyers, and the necessary employees, exceeding 30,000 people."

Sir Charles added that the advice of the buyers of the royal Montenegro government would be enormous.

"One of the principal objects of that country is understood to Paris," he said, "is because the Albanian pretender for a French capital is the pivot of the scheme which may restore him to the throne."

Paris, Feb. 6.—The "Société de l'Homme à la Coiffure" has just held its first annual convention in the Van de Graaf's Hotel, Paris. The society consists of French men, suffering from facial wounds, who have been provided with a set of new features by the American Red Cross.

The most successful address was made by a woman's hairdresser who lost his nose through a shell explosion. As he told his comrades in a speech: "Without my nose my job was gone, for how could a noseless coiffeur hope to please women customers? Already melancholy had marked me for his own, when the mask expert took my nose in hand, and so successfully, that I am now doing a rushing business in my old trade."

These American "portrait masks," which are the only ones in France, are made of light weight copper plate, enamelled in flesh tints. They conceal facial scars and hide the absence of missing features. They are an adaption of the mask invented by Captain Deewent Wood of the British army. The work owes its origin to Mrs. Maynard Ladd, of Boston, who devised the American mask, and to Mrs. Marie Brent, of Columbus, O., who took charge of the "portrait mask studio." Miss Brent recently married Despreaux, director of one of the most important libraries in Paris.
