BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

GREAT POWER FROM GOD:—Behold, I give unto you power to tread on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy; and nothing shall by any means hurt you.—Luke 10: 19.

ROOM FOR ALL

The attitude of the majority of the tobacco warehouses throughout the bright tobacco belt cannot be too strongly commended for their attitude of co-operation in the organized marketing of tobacco. We learn that many of the warehouses which have been holding out are now offering their plants to the co-operative organization and are giving assurance of their assistance in the movement.

What a contrast with the attitude taken by the cleaners of peanuts! The plants of the cleaners are just as necessary to the success of the Peanut Exchange as the warehouses and re-drying plants are to the tobacco association; the one is cooperating in the movement and the other is fighting. There is ample room for both the cleaners and the Exchange in the peanut industry and if the cleaners will not gracefully fall in line and themselves help make a success of the undertaking as the warehousemen are doing, it will simply mean that the growers, of whom there are about six thousand, members of the Exchange, will through the Exchange proceed to build cleaners of their own which would and will result in the ruination of the now existing industry of peanut cleaning. The cleaners may feel that they cannot do this, but in this they are sadly mistaken. They will do it and they will make a success of it.

There may have been a time when the farmers could not be organized and made to stick, but that time has passed. They are fully aroused and have become wide awake as to their interests and their financial freedom. They are going to fight for it and they are going to win. However, how much better would it not be if the cleaners would gracefully get in line with them and offer their plants and organization to the Exchange and together work harmoniously for the interests of all and not precipitate and continue a losing fight which will cost both interests hundreds upon hundreds of thousands of dollars. Co-operative marketing of peanuts, cotton and tobacco has come and come to stay no matter what fight, nor how hard a fight, other selfish interest may make against the movement. The farmers once organized are irresistible and they are organized and organized to stick.

Some of the tobacco warehouses thought at first they could fight the cooperative marketing of tobacco, an outstanding instance being that of the Rocky Mount warehouses which persisted in saying that they would operate on the old auction system. What was the result? At the little town of Nashville, just nine miles from Rocky Mount, a meeting of farmers of Nash county was called in which the business men participated. At the time of the meeting all stores and business houses were closed. The meeting got down to business in deadly earnest and then and there determined and organized to build warehouses to handle the tobacco of the farmers through the cooperative association, so the auction warehouses at Rocky Mount, if they have not already done so, will find that they will have to join the movement or go out of business through failure to handle sufficient tobacco.

What was done in Nash county will be done elsewhere to fight the cleaners of peanuts as well as the sellers of tobacco. The farmers are organized and time will prove that they are irresistible.
