The track of the horse railroad on Front street, between Chestaut and Mulberry is gullied out so much as to be inconvenient if not dangerous to vehicles which may be compelled to cross from one side of the street

A false alarm of fire was raised on Tuesday evening about 7 o'clock which created considerable excitement for a few re-ments. The cogins a were promptly in the street ready for duty, but fortunately their services were not ne-ded.

From present appearances, the locket of the Criminal Court, which will convene in this city on the first Monday in December, will be very light. There are, at present, only three prisoners in the county jail warmering eries.

Pending the discussion in Congress relative to the status of the army we confess to very little interest in the general question, but there is one individual connected with the army for whom we feel a most tender solicitude. Sherman might have been invited to "step down and out" without a remonstrance; Sheridan could have been allowed to join any congenial "banditti" and we should not have shed a tear; the valorous Miles might have been sent back to the hardware business in Boston and we would endeavor to be consoled; and even the raider (Freedman's Bank) Howard might be permitted to return to his native "Down East," and whittle soft pine shingles on the Ebenezer Baptist Church (colored) banks of the Androscroggin, where Seventh between thrange and Anusts, no Chief Joseph should molest or make him afraid, and time would assuage our deep grief; but by a'l that is glorious in our history let ho retrenching hand be placed upon the redoubtable Lieut. Now. will you please state for their information if there is now existing, or has existed, any such ordinance except that taxing market carts ten cents, within the past twenty-five years, and oblige,

"WATER STREET."

In reply to the above, we are re nested by Capt. Savage to say that here is no ordinance of the city to prevent farmers or producers from ringing to this market and selling their own produce from first hands. As to the placing of cotton, naval stores or any other articles of their own production into the hands of commission merchants or brokers, is matter altogether for their own discretion or convenience. At least, there is no ordinance of the city affecting the same.

We copy the above from our eseemed contemporary, the Morning tar, as we deem the information will be of value to many of our readers in the country, who, we are aware, have labored under a false impression in this important matter.
