TOWN PRINTER. WILMINGTON, N. C., APRIL 30.

We received the North Carglina Plant and Dr. Cloud's Rural Magazine for May.

Mr. James Macomber, the very attentive and obliging agent of Adams Express Company will accept our thanks for papers received in advance of the mail.

The Richmond Whig says that the boys at Harper's Ferry did arrest Gen: Harney and carry him to Richmond, believing it to be their duty to do so He was received and treated by the Governor of Virginia with the highest consideration, and was, of course, released. He left vesterday morning for Washington.

At & Southern Rights meeting in Nashville Tenn., on the 22d inst., a dispatch from Gov Letcher, of Virginia, calling upon Gov: Harris for three regiments, was read, as was also the response of the latter, stating that the troops would be ready to move in ten days.

The Richmond Enquirer says that The statement in some of the papers that Lieut. Henry A. Wise, (nephew of Hon. H. A. Wise,) was with the United States troops at the burning of the Portsmouth Navy Yard, is entirely erroneous.

Gen. Scott telegraphed to the New York Committe of Safety on Wednesday last, as follows: "Come on with your troops this Capital is in Danger." This we find in the editorial Columns of the Journal of Commerce Jr. of Thursday together with an account of this proceding to which the Dispatch gave rise.

In the words of the Richmond Whig, the best and bravest of the United States army officers now surviving, of those who acquired so much glory and distinction during the Mexican war, are leaving the United States service, and entering that of the Confederate States. So of the navy. We shall soon have the best officered army and navy in the world-with the best and bravest soldiers in the world. Most of the brightest names in the army and navy have sent in their resignations. The Supreme Court is following the example. The reported resignations of Judges Taney, Campbell, and Wayne reduce that tribunal to a cypher. Seward may now el evate his creatures, but the association of gentlemen will be wanting to invest them , with res-

THE CAPTURE AP OLD POINT .- It appears that the schooner G. M. Smith, reported yesterday as having been seized Wednesday, by order of Flag-officer Pendergrast, had left N. Y. for Wilmington, N. C., on the 2nd April with an assorted cargo, including a lot of gun carriages. for citizens of North Carolina, and put into the Elizabeth River on the 24, short of provisions,

She hoisted a signal of distress and the steamtug Young America, belonging to Messrs Baker, started to her relief from Norfolk. A large launch carrying a swival, was also sent to her from the U. S. ship Cumberland, the flag-ship of Com. Pendergrast, then lying off Hampton bar. A shot was fired across the Young America from the launch, and afterwards one from the Cumberland, which struck the tug on her bow. Both vessels were then captured. The plea of Com. Pendergrast for this unlawful seizure of the private property of citizens of two States (one of which has taken, as yet, no official steps towards secession,) is that the G. M. Smith had on board some munitions of war, (viz: the gun carriages,) and that the Young America was going to her relief.

This flagrant act constitutes a three-fold out rage. First: It is an act of war against both North Carolina and Virginia. Secondly: It is not justified by any knowledge on the part of the Captain of the Young America, of what constituted the cargo of a strange vessel in distress. Thirdly: The property of citizens of a State still at peace with the Lincoln Government has been ruth!essly confiscated. Let the lawless abolitionists do their worst

FRANCE AND ENGLAND IN FAVOR OF THE CON-FEDERACY - Capt. Nodler, of the French marine, has arrived at New Orleans from Montgomery, Ala. The Picayune says:

Capt. Nodler is a gentleman of wealth and education, and on hearing of the secession of the Confederate States, immediately left France for America, anticipating a conflict. He proceeded immediately to Charleston, and was present at the bombardment of Fort Sumser. The captain is full of the war spirit, and intends applying for a letter of marque, having, we learn, tendered his services to the Confederate Government. It is understood letters of marque will shortly be issued, and several applications of our citizens have already been made.

Capt. N. left Paris hardly thirty days ago, and states that the feeling of the people and government was unanimous in favor of the recognition of the Confederate States; also, that they would make common cause with us, and that England would not hessitate to recognize us also, as soon as our commissioners should arrive.

England and France. There will be an extraordinary interest in the news to be received from across the water in the next few weeks. According to the last accounts the governments of England and France had given no positive indication of the policy which they intended to pursue towards the Confederate States, whose Commissioners will soon be presenting their credentials to those two Powers .-The tone of the English press, so far, if fairly re- the cry is, still they come! The London Review, a journal of high standing, has declared that if the Confederate States before proceeding to extreme measures will offer to the Government at Washington a proposition for a peaceful separation upon the basis of an equal and equitable division of the common property and national debt, they will by so doing command European approbation; and that if the federal government shall reject such a proposition it will acur European disfavor. Her withdrawal, involving as it does a certainty of all the other Border Southern States following her example will, therefore, it is reasonable to suppose, exert an influence over the English and French Cabinets. Then there is the Blockade Proclamation of Lincoln, which brings Federal Government and Foreign Powers. This bellicose measure, interfering, as it must, with the trade of these Powers, in all its branches, will have a strong tendency to impel them to an immediate recognition of the new Republic and

He was specimen-hunting (for W---is a firstrate naturalist) somewhere in the backwoods of America, when, happening to light upon a dense covert, there sprang out upon him-not a panther or catamountain-but, with terrible whoop and yell, a wild Indian, one of tribe then bostile to our settlers. WARSAW, N. C., April 27, 1861. For the last week the hitherto quiet village of Warsaw has resounded with shouts of acclamation in honor of the troops who have been passing through on their way to battle. Thousands have gone to pour out their life blood in defence of Southern Rights and home institutions, and fully to resist oppression and tyrany. The sentiment of each great heart is, down with the usurper !-hurl the base Lincoln from his tottering throne! Let him and his vile copartners feel the heavy weight of Southern indignation.

North Carolina has thrown off the tyrant's chains, and, in conjunction with her sister States, she has taken a bold stand on the side of liberty. Hope animates every breast; we feel that the victory must and shall be ours! We know that our noble soldiers will never disgrace themselves and their country. The ladies of the village and the surrounding vicinity prepared a fine dinner for our young soldiers. Everything was in the greatest profusion. Here we see David, or rather the human heart itself, with all its God-given notes of grief, joy, tears and adoration-poetry sanctified to its highest expression; a vase of perfume broken on the step of the temple and shedding forth its odors from the regiment, a small cont. ibution toward that ob heart of David to the heart of humanity!
