protective system? Mr. McDuffie, in Congress, appealing to his Maker to witness the assertion, declared that South Carolina would be satisfied with nothing less than the overthrow of that system, and an immediate reduction of the tariff to the revenue standard, which he estimated at 12 1/2 per cent.

Now, in the first place, the reduction is not immediate, but is postponed for ten years. Secondly, it stops at 20 per cent. ad valorem, instead of 12 1/2. Thirdly, it will leave the duty at the fixed rate of 20 per cent. after the expiration of the ten years, higher than it was by the act of 1832, on articles of the greatest importance to the southern planters.

In the Baltimore Republican we find the following comment on this extraordinary compromise. "The compromise between Mr. Clay and Mr. Calhoun is the most singular thing of the kind which we ever heard of."

Mr. Calhoun, instead of gaining a victory, assuredly gave up all for which he "ever contended." Not so, Mr. Clay, like a skilful general, unexpectedly involved in difficulties, who sacrifices a detachment to save his army, this champion of the American System, by his own acknowledgment, in reply to the reproaches of some of his associates who thought he had proved recreant to their cause, gave up a part to save the whole.

The people are not to be deluded in this way—they understand the matter well; they are satisfied, as are impartial spectators on the other side of the Atlantic in Britain and in France—that the moderation and firmness of Andrew Jackson have saved this country from the miseries of civil war.

COMMUNICATIONS.

We ventured to predict some time ago, when from the development of public opinion the discomfiture of the nullifiers was becoming every day more apparent, that they would retreat under the cover of some great patriotic sacrifice; and if the good genius of this republic should prevail, and peace be restored to our distracted country, that they would unblushingly claim both the honor and the triumph.

At present we have neither space nor words to express the triumph which this great event inspires. Nullification is victorious. The nullifiers have achieved their great purposes. In spite of the efforts of submissionists, Tories, federalists and tariffists, and assailed in vain by the fiercest and most corrupt administration that ever wielded the power of the general government, they have preserved the Constitution, the Union, and the rights of these Republics.

FOR THE PEOPLE'S PRESS. To Miss ***** Woman be fair, we must adore thee; Smile, and a world is weak before thee!

May I repeat that thrilling kiss, Which on thy cheek I have impressed. When our fond souls were wrapt in bliss, And thou had'st made me madly blest!

Oh, then, sweet maid! thy heart was mine— At least I thought 'twas true to me; I daily worship'd at its shrine, And dream'd of nought but love and thee.

And when our eyes divinely met, Ah! then I knew what 'twas to love; I dar'd to kiss—thou smil'dst "not yet," I envied not the saints above.

But now, oh heaven! thou art as cold As ever thou wert warm to me; And would'st, without a sigh, behold Thy too fond lover die for thee.

Then fare thee well, relentless maid, Death I can welcome without fear; But when thy once lov'd R. is laid In another earth—oh! shed a tear.

WILMINGTON, N. C. Wednesday, April 3, 1833.

GOOD NEWS.—We were not aware, when calling attention some time since to the subject of a Hospital, that our Representative in Congress was exerting himself in its behalf.

It is very desirable that a Hospital be provided near the town, for the accommodation of invalid seamen, who are now subjected to much distress for the want of such an asylum.

Dear Sir, In answer to your enquiry, I have to state, that in consequence of your suggestion, the Committee on Commerce had agreed to an amendment making an appropriation of Seven Thousand Dollars for a Hospital at or near Wilmington, which would have been proposed to the bill authorising the construction of a Hospital on Beacon Island, had that bill been considered.

The Commissioners of the Town of Wilmington will, on Saturday Evening the 6th inst. at half past 7 o'clock, elect Auctioneers. Applicants will please hand in their names to the Town Clerk, J. A. LILLINGTON.

We copy a picaresque story from the Philadelphia Gazette, attributed to the Hon. Daniel Webster.—We hope this, together with the piece we published week before last, will be preserved with others of a similar character that are now being laid before the public.

Daniel Webster, a Poet.—We have long known that many of the Congressional magnates at Washington, had successfully wooed the Nine. JOHN QUINCY ADAMS, EVERETT, WILDE, of Georgia, and others in the councils of the nation, are celebrated for the huge draughts they have taken from Helicon.

Dear Lady, I a little fear 'Tis dangerous to be writing here, 'Tis hard, who bade our Eagle fly, Trust his young wings and mount the sky; Who bade, across the Atlantic tide, New thunders sweep, new navies ride, His track, in lines of trembling age, His autograph upon this page.

Great Britain.—The British Parliament assembled on the 5th February, and the Speech of the King was delivered on that day. The speeches of the Kings of England have generally been as remarkable for their brevity, as for a torpid neglect of public affairs.
