THE RESOLUTIONS.
Hon. Henry J. Raymond, on behalf of the Committee on Resolutions, read the following resolutions:
Resolved, That we congratulate the people of this State upon the overthrow of the rebellion and the return of peace to all sections of our common country, and that we find in the preservation of the Union, and the re-establishment of the national authority and the extinction of slavery ample recompense for the sufferings and sacrifices by which these results have been achieved.

Resolved, That to the soldiers and sailors of all ranks and in all departments, by whose valor, under divine Providence, this great result has been accomplished, and who have by their heroism shed new and undying lustre on the American name, we return the heart felt thanks of a grateful people; that we renew the demand made by the Union National Convention at Baltimore that adequate provision be made by the national authorities for the support and comfort of such of their survivors as have received honorable and disabling wounds in the service of their country.

Resolved, That while we deplore the death by assassination of Abraham Lincoln as closing a career of transcendent usefulness and honor, and as a great national calamity, we recognize in Andrew Johnson, his successor, a statesman of ability, experience and high toned patriotism and the most unswerving integrity, and one who has rendered invaluable services to the Union cause during the rebellion, and whose single hearted devotion to the permanent prosperity and glory of our common country commands the respect and confidence of the American people; and that we renew to him in his administration those assurances of cordial and effective support which were tendered by us in his nomination and election.

Resolved, That we approve as eminently wise and just the sentiments of kindness and confidence which President Johnson has evinced toward those of the communities and individuals lately in rebellion who accept the perpetuation of the Union and the perpetual prohibition of slavery as the legitimate and irrevocable results of the war; that we approve the initial steps which he has taken towards relaxing the bonds of military authority in the Southern States and in restoring to their people full and complete control over their local affairs just as soon as may be found compatible with the preservation of order, the maintenance of peace, the exclusion of slavery and the fulfillment of the constitutional obligations of the national authority to guarantee to every State a republican form of government, and that we confidently look forward, under his wise and patriotic administration, to the establishment of more cordial relations, of greater mutual respect and of a stronger interest in each other's welfare between the Northern and Southern sections of the Union than have hitherto prevailed, and that in all the measures he may adopt tending to the attainment of these just and beneficent ends we pledge him our cordial and hearty support.

Resolved, That while we regard the national sovereignty over all the subjects committed to it by the constitution of the United States as having been confirmed and established by the recent war, we regard the several States in the Union as having jurisdiction over all local and domestic affairs expressly reserved to them by the same constitutional authority, and that whenever it shall be deemed compatible with the public safety to restore to the States lately in rebellion the renewed exercise of those rights, we trust that it will be done in the faith and on the basis that they will be exercised in a spirit of equal and impartial justice, and with a view to the elevation and perpetuation of the full rights of citizenship of all their people, inasmuch as these are principles which constitute the basis of our republican institutions.

Resolved, That the restoration of peace will enable the government to restore the civil tribunals of the country to their just and natural supremacy, and that we have full and entire confidence that this will be done as soon as the safety of the nation will permit, and no sooner.

Resolved, That the debt incurred by the nation in defence of its own existence is a sacred and inviolable obligation resting upon all the property and all the resources of all sections of the country for its fulfillment; that while we demand at the hands of congress such measures as shall impose the burden of taxation equally and impartially upon all classes, we have full reliance upon the people for the maintenance of the national honor and the ultimate extinction of the national debt; and that we approve and endorse the determination of the government under no circumstances to assume, directly or indirectly, any portion of the debts incurred by the rebel authorities in the prosecution of the war against the United States.

Resolved, That we expect at the hands of the government as prompt and as large a reduction of the national expenditures as the national safety will permit; and abolition of all sinecures, and a wise and economical administration of public affairs.
Resolved, That we have entire confidence in the direction under President Johnson of our intercourse with foreign nations, in his prompt enforcement against them of all just demands, in securing redress for national insults and wrongs, and in maintaining the fixed policy of our government, by which the interference of foreign Powers with the institutions of this continent is regarded as hostile to our peace and menacing to our independence.

Resolved, That we tender our congratulations to Wm H Seward upon his providential escape from the knife of the assassin, and we rejoice that his distinguished services may still be continued to the nation and the cause of liberty.
Resolved, That the administration of Governor Fenton deserves and commands the respect and confidence of the people of this State, and that we hereby pledge to it our cordial and hearty support.

Resolved, That we call upon the loyal constituents of the several districts in this State, in selecting candidates for the Legislature and other offices, to nominate none but men of known integrity of character as the only means of avoiding corruption and securing an honest administration of public affairs.

Resolved, That, as the Union party has steadily sustained the government in its contest with the rebellion, not only against its open enemies in the field, but against those who gave it the aid of organized sympathy and encouragement in this and other loyal States, so will it now maintain its authority and second its efforts to restore all the blessings of Union, freedom and peace to all sections of our common country; and we confidently appeal to its past history, its present, and the character of its candidates as its title to public confidence and support.

After reading the resolutions, and in response to loud calls, Hon Henry J Raymond briefly addressed the Convention, congratulating the delegates upon the unanimity and harmony that have characterized all their proceedings, and upon the excellence of the ticket they have put in nomination.
The resolutions were then adopted unanimously.

On motion of Mr Raymond the following was adopted with warm applause:—
Resolved, That we repel as false and calumnious the imputation cast by the Democratic Convention upon the official integrity and personal honesty of Chauncey M Depew, Secretary of State, and that we endorse his official conduct in the enumeration of the census, and in all respects, as worthy of the approval and commendation of the people.

Mr. Waldo Hutchins offered the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:—
Resolved, That we tender to the able men who have sustained the cause of American nationality in England our grateful thanks, and mingle our mourning with that of his countless friends in this country for the loss of Richard Cobden, one of the truest of their number.

Giving three cheers for the candidates the convention adjourned sine die.

LATER FROM EUROPE.

The Fenian Excitement.

DEATH OF THE WIDOW OF THOMAS MOORE.

Mr. Field's Faith in the Atlantic Cable.

New York, Sept. 20—11 P. M.
The steamship Australasian, with Queenstown advices to the 10th instant, has arrived.
The Cork Reporter announces that the government has ordered a number of gunboats and two men-of-war to be stationed off Bantry Bay and other stations on the west coast of Ireland.

Cyrus W. Field is a passenger on the Australasian. He was present at one of the meetings of the British association, and made a brief speech, expressive of increased faith in the Atlantic cable. A double line is to be laid next year.
The New York correspondent of the Daily News paints in strong colors the ugly look the negro question is assuming in America.
Mrs. Moore, the widow of the poet, is dead.

Governor Perry to President Johnson.

COLUMBIA, S. C. September 19.
President Johnson:
The Convention have repealed the ordinance of Secession. The committee have reported in favor of abolishing slavery, equalizing representation, electing the Governor and Presidential Electors by the people, and voting viva voce in the Legislature. These measures will all pass. Everything here is harmonious. Thompson, a delegate irregularly elected by the Northern citizens at Beaufort, was permitted to take his seat.
B. F. PERRY.

General Slocum Resigns his Commission in the Army.

SYRACUSE, Sept. 20—11:50 A. M.
A letter was received here to-day from Gen. Slocum, stating that he had resigned his commission in the army, would immediately start for home, stopping a few days with General Sherman, and reach here in about fifteen days.

A communication from General Fry to the governor states that Wisconsin has furnished 96,000 troops to the federal government whose terms of service vary from three months to three years. This is about every other one of the arms-bearing population of the State.
