THE SLEEPER

BY EDGAR ALLEN POR. At midnight, in the month of June. I stand beneath the mystic moon, Air opiate vapor, dewy, dim, Exises from out her golden rim, And, softly dripping, drop by drop, Upon the quiet mountain top, Steals drowelly and musically Into the universal valley, The rosemary nods upon the grave : The lily lois upon the wave!
Wrapping the mist about its breast
To ruin moulders into rest;
Looking like Lethe, see the lake A conscious siumber seems to take, And would not for the world awake, All beauty sleeps !—and, lo! where ites, With casement open to the skies, Irene and her destinies!

O lady bright, can it be right, The lattice open to the night ? The bodiless airs, a wizard rout, Flit through their chamber, in and out, And wave the curtain canopy So fifully, so fearfully, Above the closed and fringed lid Neath which thy slumbering soul lies bid, That over the floor and down the wall, Like ghosts, the shadows rise and fall, O, lady dear, hast thou no fear ! Why and what art thou dreaming here? Sure thou art coming o'er far off seas, A wonder to our garden trees! Strange is thy pallor-strange thy dress ... Stranger thy glorious length of tress, And this all solemn silentness !

The lady sleeps. O, may her sleep, Which is enduring, so be deep! Soft may the worms about her creep This bed, being changed for one more holy, This room for one more melancholy, I pray to God that she may lie Forever with unclosed eye! My love she sleeps. O, may her sleep, As it is lasting so be deep! Heaven have her in its sacred keep ! For in the forest, dim and old, From her may some tall tomb unfold-Some tomb that oft hath flung its black And wing-like panels, fluttering back, Triumphant o'er the created pails Of her grand family funerals-Some sepulchre, remote, alone. Against whose portal she bath thrown, In childhood, many an idle stone... Some vault from out whose sounding door Some vant from out whose sounding She ne'er shall force an echo more, Nor thrill to think, poor child of sin, It was the dead who groaned within.

To My old Friends and the Public Generally.

Nov. 11.

THE SUBSCRIBER takes pleasure in informing his old friends and customers, and the public in general, that he has resumed business at his OLD STAND.

where he will carry on as formerly the HARD-WARE and DRY GOODS business in all the various branches.

His present Stock is large and carefully selected by himself, while the facilities for rapid and regular communication with the north by steamer enables him promptly to supply any article which may be deficient, and to keep his stock constantly up to the demands of the public.

He trusts that after a business intercourse with the people of Wilmington and the surrounding country, of nearly forty years duration, he is sufficiently well known to justify him in dispensing with any more lengthy announcement, while he feels confident that his long experience of the trade and of the wants and wishes of the people, will enable him to render satisfaction to all who may favor him with their custom.

JOHN DAWSON. Wilmington, N. C., Oct. 27, 1865.

The New York Tribune says, "the reason why M. H. JAMES. Drake's Plantation Bitters are so universally used and have such an immense sale, is that they are always made up to the original standard, of highly invigorating material and of pure quality, although the prices have so largely advanced," etc.

The Tribune just hits the nail on the head. The Plantation Bitters are not only made of pure material, but the people are told what it is. The Recipe is published around each bottle, and the bottles are not reduced in size. At least twenty mitations and counterfeits have sprung up. They impose upon the people once and that's the last of

The following is from the Manager of the Union School for the Children of Volunteers: HAVEMEYER MANSION, FIFTY-SEVENTH STREET, New York, August 2, 1863. "DR. DRAKE: Your wonderful Plantation Bitters have been given to some of our little children suffering from weakness and weak lungs, with most happy effect. One little girl, in particular, with pains in her head, loss of appetite, and daily wasting consumption, on whom all medical skill had been exhausted, has been entirely restored.

We commenced with but a teaspoonfal of Bitters way. Her appetite and strength rapidly increased, and she is now well.

It contains over 700 acres of Land, situated at the head of the Great Hollow of the Cape Fear river in Bladen county, near Councel's Bluff, (a public landing) on the public road, 62 miles above Wilmington, 14 miles above Elizabeth, 24 miles below Fayetteville, 16 mile from Prospect Hall P. O., 2 miles from Mayesville, 14 miles from Lumbertan, and about 10 miles in a direct line from the Wil., Char. & R. R. Road, in one of the most agreeable neighborhoods in the State. The improvements consist of a large and pleasant modern built and well finished Dwelling containing 8 large rooms and passage, a double piazza, front and rear, office, pantry, dairy and spring house, kitchen, store house, wash house, ironing room, poultry, house, wine house, meat and smoke house, overseers house, blacksmith shop, tool house, carpenters' shop, carriage house, buggy houses, cart sheds, barn, crib, stables for 16 horses, large fodder house, loom and spinning house, and 18 laborers' lodges, all of recent construction, frame and brick chimneys, everything complete, with most excellent spring and well of water.

The Dwelling is surrounded by a beautiful 10 acre grove of oaks, hicory and elm trees, a well improved garden, 20 acres devoted to apple and peach orchards and grape vines in fine bearing condition, and 20 acres are devoted to Mulberry trees, containing 8 varieties, which are in full bearing from May until August, and is invaluable for hog and poultry raising; fire wood and timber are abundant and convenient.

The lands are as good as any in the country the river bottoms rich, the uplands fair, and both susceptible of high improvement. Of the crops grown, corn, cow peas, potatoes, cotton, wheat, oats and rye are the principal—all of which do
