[From the Galveston Bulletin, Nov. 12.] We understand that out of sixteen men of the Thirty-fourth Indiana regiment, who joined the bandit Cortinas, and came back to this side, over half failed to get back. The captain of the squad was among the killed.

The imperial troops have been delayed at the boca by a severe north wind, which has rendered the bar impassable. As soon as landing can be resumed, reinforcements will be obtained adequate to gag the outlawed force which has banded together for the plunder of the city and surrounding country. At the election held in Brownsville yesterday,

Andres Trevino was elected the outlaw governor of Tamaulipa. The Quidnunc says four hundred and twenty persons had subscribed to and taken the oath, in Houston county, up to the 25th ult. The vote of the county was estimated at nine hundred. The Western Texas reports that teoops home-

The same paper says, up to the 27th ult. six hundred persons have taken the oath of amnesty, and registered themselves as voters of Guadaloupe county. From the same paper we learn that the freedmen of Guadaloupe county, as a general thing, are orderly and submissive, but do not comply with the written or verbal contracts, but leave whenever it suits their convenience. NEW OBLEANS, Nov. 25. The Matamoros Ranchero of the 10th inst. says that the firing on the steamer Antonio from the north bank, on Tuesday last, was one of the most dastardly outrages ever perpetrated on the frontier. The Antonio having on board a detachment of French marines and two field pieces, was finding her way up the river under a heavy fire from the combined forces of the liberals. She grounded seven miles below the city, and while engaged with the enemy on the Mexican side, a furious fire, at long range was opened upon her from the neutral side of the river, which was effective, wounding two marines. The liberals on the south bank were dressed in federal uniforms. The French commander refused to return the fire from the Texas bank.

The same paper says it appears to be the settled purpose of some men to bring on a war with the United States and Mexico. It also says the outlaws have been on the American side in force, enlisting recruits, &c. The Antonio was fired upon from the Texas shore, near where Cortinas had been camped. TWENTY-FIVE THOUSAND LIBERALS NEAR MATA-MOROS. NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 27.

The Times' Vera Cruz advices to the 14th says everything is unsettled in Mexico, and general distrust prevails. Business is paralyzed, and Maximilian's power is daily lessening. Puebla has been selected as the general headquarters for the furnishing of the imperial army. The empress had started for Yucatan, unaccompanied by Maximilian, who follows in January. The reception of the empress along the route was tame, except at Vera Cruz, where the demonstration was somewhat grand. She departs for Yucatan on the 16th inst. Fourteen hundred reinforcements had arrived at Vera Cruz, and more were looked for. Galveston dates to the 28d instant report the arrival of the steamer Clinton, from the Rio Grande, with a large number of white and black troops homeward bound, to be discharged. MUTINY ON A BRITISH BARK. The Mutineers Placed in Irous. Id adT.

[From the Norfolk Virginian.] The bark Campsie, of Glasgow, left Baltimore on the 18th instant, and anchored off the Welf Trap, during a heavy easterly wind, on last Monthe captain, Edward Xoof, ordered the crew to "turn to" and heave up the anchor, which they refused to do, and have ever since manifested a mutinous disposition. The captain found it necessary to call in the assistance of Captain Slicer, in command of the United States revenue cutter Kankakee. On the 24th inst., the day the request was made, the Kankakee got under way, but the weather being rough, anchored till Saturday, the 25th. On this day an officer with a boat's crew was sent along side the Campsie, which vessel was got under way, the mutinous men having been placed in irons. When off New Point they became threatening tawards Captain Xoof, refusing to go to sea, having broken their irons.

Captain Slicer, of the cutter, then took the Campsie in tow and stood for Hampton Roads, where he anchored, placing the mutinous crew in double irons and under hatches. The captain of the barque, as we learn, went to Baltimore to lay the matter before the English consul, who, however, informed him that the jurisdiction of the case was here. In accordance with the statements we have made, Mayor Tabb has ordered the mutineers to be brought on shore and confined in the city jail. The names of the mutineers are-Peter Jamison, Greenock; Jno. Daley, London; Henry McKinty, Belfast; Henry Phillips, August L. Craun, Chas. Andrew, of Baltimore; Wm. Mason, John Wilson and Morgan Mule, of New York.

The noted English pugilist, Tom Sayers, is lead. He was a brick-layer by trade, and entered the prize ring in 1849, and since that date has appeared in a number of fights, generally coming out the victor. On the 17th of April, 1860, occurred his famous fight with Heenan, which resulted in awarding a champion belt to each of the combatants, as it could not be decided which

Since that event Sayers has been profiting by the notoriety it invested him with, by appearing a circuses in sparring matches. He also was interested in a public house—the haven of all superannuated "sports" in England. Sayers was certainly very popular in England, and among his professed admirers were not only the rougher classes who in this country are interested in prize fighting, but such men as Lord Palmerston, who hought him "a brave fellow."
