The Sunday Morning Mail.

WILMINGTON, N. C., JAN'Y 20, 1884.

E. S. WARROCK & CO., PROPRIETORS.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

The following is a list of our advertisements, which will be found under their appropriate heads:

J. H. Jones—Livery.
J. C. Munds—Drugs.
R. E. Perry—Hotels.
W. C. Craft—Furniture.
Orin Thomas—Portraits.
M. M. Katz—Dry Goods.
G. W. Linder—Groceries.
E. J. Powers—Fertilizers.
M. S. Willard—Insurance.
Kidder & Son—Groceries.
P. L. Bridgers—Groceries.
Miss E. Karver—Millinery.
L. J. Otterbourg—Clothing.
Jas. B. Huggins—Groceries.
The Hanlons—Opera House.
Taylor & Bazaar—Millinery.
Annie Pixley—Opera House.
J. L. Boatwright—Groceries.
D. M. McIntyre—Dry Goods.
[illegible]—Newspapers and Books.
[illegible]—Paper, Books and Stationery.
P. H. Ratcliffe—Carriages and Harness.
F. M. King & Co.—Stoves and Tinware.
Carolina Central Railway Co.—Railroads.
John C. Shotwald—Drugs and Medicines.
George Herbert—Saloons and Restaurants.
Wilmington & Weldon R. R. Co.—Railroads.
John Dyer & Son—Tailors and Haberdashers.
McDougall & Bowden—Carriages and Harness.
E. S. Warrock & Co.—Job Printing and Publishing.
Wilmington, Columbus & Augusta R. R. Co.—Railroads.

On Sale.

THE SUNDAY MORNING MAIL will be found only at the office corner Princess and Front streets, each Sunday morning, price 5 cents.

No papers are allowed to be sold by carriers.

Died of Her Injuries.

The colored woman, Bella Larkins, who was so severely burned while at prayers, Saturday night, the 12th inst., died yesterday afternoon from the effects of the accident.

A New Office.

Messrs. Bunn and Smith, both young gentlemen, graduates of the University of New York City, have located here, and secured the office opposite the office of the MAIL, which has lately been fitted up for them. Dr. M. O. Bunn is a former Wilmingtonian and Dr. [illegible] born, we [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] have the good fortune to write us such a per[illegible] troupe in this city on the evening of the 14th inst. It was a rich treat and most fully enjoyed by the immense crowd in attendance. Everything worked harmoniously, the [illegible] scenes were entirely at home in their parts and the stage action was all that could be desired. We have never witnessed a more finished performance, nor have we ever seen a better balanced company, taken as a whole. It is needless to speak of Joe Jefferson, he is a genius, and so recognized the world over, and if any had lingering doubts about it, his representation of "Bob Acres" would have effectually dispelled them. The presentment could not have been more truthful had he sat for the portrait.

It would be invidious to discriminate where all were so perfect, but we really think that Mrs. Malaprop and Sir Anthony divided the honors of the evening with Jefferson himself. We have never seen anything to equal it. Her conception of the character was perfect, and never for a moment [illegible] in the portrayal, it was so true to nature that one could not but feel that it was the reality and not merely a "counterfeit presentment," it was Mrs. Malaprop herself and not Mrs. Drew dressed up for the occasion. In that character she is certainly incomparable. Old Sir Anthony, irascible, gross-grained and passionate, was delineated to the life. It was a superb piece of acting and we do not think could have been improved upon [illegible] we never saw it equalled, it could not well be surpassed.

Taken as a whole, the company is by long odds the finest combination of talent that has visited our city in very many years and their entertainments [illegible] of the highest order, and will live [illegible] in lasting remembrance. [illegible] will come again, and come [illegible]

Annie Pixley.

January 21st, the talented young actress Miss Annie [illegible] at the Opera House. She [illegible] Mr. Frank Lesse and her [illegible] the St. Louis Globe-Democrat says:

"Annie Pixley, who is one of the cleverest soubrettes on the American stage, made her reappearance in 'Miss [illegible]' at the Grand Opera House on Sunday evening to an audience that overflowed the house. Last night she had another large audience, and herself and play were sources of great delight to all who were present. 'Miss [illegible]' is a very interesting drama. It has splendid scenic surroundings, a number of well drawn characters, and its story has the charm of novelty and of being very well told. Miss Pixley sings, dances and acts through it with exceeding grace and art. Her songs are well chosen and [illegible] rendered, and the applause and encores that follow them must make the handsome actress feel quite happy. The company rendered good support, and altogether a more interesting and agreeable entertainment could not be desired."

A Large Telescope.

The largest object glass in use is the twenty-six-inch lens at Washington, with a focal length of thirty-three feet. Its light-gathering power is 16,000 times that of the unaided eye. They ought to mount it on top of the Washington monument and keep track of the Presidential party.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Encouraging Words to the Publishers of the Sunday Morning Mail.

The following letter from a solid citizen was not [illegible] for publication, but it contained such cheering words that we could not refrain from publishing it:

Dear Editors:—We feel it our duty and take pleasure in congratulating you upon the first appearance of THE SUNDAY MORNING MAIL. It is a paper much needed in our community, being a good readable newspaper, filled with entertaining articles, and alive to the wants of our people. We need some live men to wake up our business men, and to let the surrounding country know that Wilmington is not as dead as we allow ourselves to think. There is more going on in business here than our own people credit, and I trust thorough your energy and enterprise you will stir up enthusiasm among our people, and that Wilmington will soon feel her importance as the largest and most enterprising city in the State.

Allow me to compliment you on the enterprising feature connected with THE SUNDAY MORNING MAIL, that of the Bulletin Board in front of your office; I have heard numbers express themselves as being delighted with the idea of having the news presented to the public fresh every hour, and in such a [illegible]

Yours truly, [illegible]

Hotel Arrivals.

The following are the prominent arrivals at the Purcell House during the past week:

A. J. Galloway, Goldsboro, N. C.
John A. Gilmore, Greensboro, N. C.
Swift Galloway (Solicitor), Goldsboro, N. C.
Walter Perry and wife, Washington, D. C.
J. E. Pillsburg, Washington, D. C.
E. C. Wilson and wife, Brooklyn, Mass.
Jas. Connell, Flemington, N. C.
A. H. McLeod, Lumberton, N. C.
Henry Parsons, New York.
Joseph Parsons, New York.
N. S. Hotchkiss and wife, Boston.
W. H. H. Raleigh, Baltimore.
W. J. Pogue, Durham, N. C.
J. Newton Swann, Philadelphia.
H. B. Short, Sr., Lake Waccamaw.
Mrs. M. O. Abbey and son, Milwaukee.
E. J. Comstock, pleasure yacht Heen.
E. M. Padelford, pleasure yacht Heen.
S. S. Willett and wife, Newberne, N. C.
H. B. Short, Jr., Lake Waccamaw.
G. Z. French, Rocky Point.
H. E. Falk, Liverpool.
J. W. Eton and wife, Albany, N. Y.
F. M. Lockwood, Philadelphia.
D. Libbey, San Francisco.
C. M. Rose and wife, Baltimore.
J. B. Burns, Baltimore.
G. Potter and wife, New York.
J. D. Williams, Jr., Manchester, N. C.
J. L. Memory, Whiteville, N. C.
F. E. McGrath, Philadelphia.
Geo. E. Lunn, Montgomery.
F. Bradley, Plymouth, Conn.
E. G. Woodward, "The World."
[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] arrivals during [illegible]

The Hanlons [illegible]

[illegible] have the good fortune to write us such a per[illegible] troupe in this city on the evening of the 14th inst. It was a rich treat and most fully enjoyed by the immense crowd in attendance. Everything worked harmoniously, the [illegible] scenes were entirely at home in their parts and the stage action was all that could be desired. We have never witnessed a more finished performance, nor have we ever seen a better balanced company, taken as a whole. It is needless to speak of Joe Jefferson, he is a genius, and so recognized the world over, and if any had lingering doubts about it, his representation of "Bob Acres" would have effectually dispelled them. The presentment could not have been more truthful had he sat for the portrait.

It would be invidious to discriminate where all were so perfect, but we really think that Mrs. Malaprop and Sir Anthony divided the honors of the evening with Jefferson himself. We have never seen anything to equal it. Her conception of the character was perfect, and never for a moment [illegible] in the portrayal, it was so true to nature that one could not but feel that it was the reality and not merely a "counterfeit presentment," it was Mrs. Malaprop herself and not Mrs. Drew dressed up for the occasion. In that character she is certainly incomparable. Old Sir Anthony, irascible, gross-grained and passionate, was delineated to the life. It was a superb piece of acting and we do not think could have been improved upon [illegible] we never saw it equalled, it could not well be surpassed.

Taken as a whole, the company is by long odds the finest combination of talent that has visited our city in very many years and their entertainments [illegible] of the highest order, and will live [illegible] in lasting remembrance. [illegible] will come again, and come [illegible]

Annie Pixley.

January 21st, the talented young actress Miss Annie [illegible] at the Opera House. She [illegible] Mr. Frank Lesse and her [illegible] the St. Louis Globe-Democrat says:

"Annie Pixley, who is one of the cleverest soubrettes on the American stage, made her reappearance in 'Miss [illegible]' at the Grand Opera House on Sunday evening to an audience that overflowed the house. Last night she had another large audience, and herself and play were sources of great delight to all who were present. 'Miss [illegible]' is a very interesting drama. It has splendid scenic surroundings, a number of well drawn characters, and its story has the charm of novelty and of being very well told. Miss Pixley sings, dances and acts through it with exceeding grace and art. Her songs are well chosen and [illegible] rendered, and the applause and encores that follow them must make the handsome actress feel quite happy. The company rendered good support, and altogether a more interesting and agreeable entertainment could not be desired."

A Large Telescope.

The largest object glass in use is the twenty-six-inch lens at Washington, with a focal length of thirty-three feet. Its light-gathering power is 16,000 times that of the unaided eye. They ought to mount it on top of the Washington monument and keep track of the Presidential party.

Our Goblins.

Some gentlemen did not take ladies to see Rice's Pleasure Party because a report was going the rounds that the performance was indecent, but these young men were there themselves, [illegible] what was not intended. A conglomeration of burlesque acting and some very good singing was the contents of the programme. The first part was awfully tiresome, being a dress rehearsal of amateurs, but the second part was very entertaining and the audience seemed to be well pleased.

Subscribe.

If you have not already subscribed to THE SUNDAY MORNING MAIL, do so at once.

The Human Figure.

The proportions of the human figure are strictly mathematical. The whole form is six times the length of the feet. Whether the form be slender or plump the rule holds good; any deviation from it is a departure from the highest beauty of proportion. The Greeks made all their statues according to this rule. The face, from the highest point of the forehead where the hair begins to the chin, is one-tenth of the whole stature. The hand from the wrist and the middle finger, is the same. From the top of the chest to the highest point of the forehead is a seventh. If the face, from the roots of the hair to the chin, be divided in three equal parts, the first division determines the place where the eyebrows meet, and the second the place of the mestril. The height from the feet to the top of the head is the distance from the extremity of the fingers when the arms are extended.

Never give a promise that you do not intend to fulfil.

THE WEEK'S NEWS.

FOREIGN

THE strike of the Paris cab drivers has virtually collapsed.

SIGNOR DEPRETIS, the Italian Prime Minister, is seriously ill.

THE Chinese are in earnest about the blockade of Canton. They are blockading the [illegible] and the troops are drilling.

A NUMBER of gentlemen connected with the company which is constructing the Mersey Tunnel walked through the opening yesterday form Liverpool to Birkenhead.

THE nephew of Lieutenant Colonel Sudeikin, who was wounded by the Nihilists when they assassinated his uncle, died in St. Pethersburg without recovering consciousness.

A CONFERENCE is being held in Rome for the purpose of discussing the project of a uniform hour system with a common meridian. A diplomatic conference will shortly assemble at Washington to effect an international agreement on the subject.

THE North German Gazette announces that new treaties between Germany and Corea were concluded on November 26, 1883. They contain more favorable conditions than the treaty of 1882, and secure to Germany the [illegible] according com[illegible] and Japan.

A SUMMONS has been [illegible] the Irish Catholic prelates [illegible] the Pope [illegible] to be signed by the [illegible] The [illegible] Government [illegible] that the [illegible] The [illegible] decided [illegible] be selected [illegible] and [illegible]

DOMESTIC.

SUWANEE Sulphur Springs Hotel, at Suwanee, Fla., was burned on the 17th.

PRESIDENT ARTHUR, in a message to Congress, recommends an appropriation for the benefit of the Greely relief expedition.

SECRETARY CHANDLER wrote a letter to Comodore Upshur, commanding the New York Navy Yard, requesting him to take some steps to receive the remains of Lieutenant Commander G. W. DeLong and others, of the ill-fated Jeannette, which are expected to arrive in New York about the 15th prox.

STATE.

THE stock law election in High Point Township last Saturday was defeated by a fair majority.

MR. JOSEPH PEDEN, a citizen of Wilksboro, went violently insane three weeks ago, was taken to the asylum at Morganton on Wednesday of last week, and [illegible] day morning.

IN Lenoir county last week [illegible] family, consisting of father, mother [illegible] children, were burned to death. It is supposed that the house caught an [illegible] sparks from the fire place before [illegible] could awake from slumber an [illegible] escape.

SLEIGH-RIDING by moonlight, as well as in day time, was a favorite amusement with our young people last week. A [illegible] tion of roads for it is rarely seen [illegible] [illegible] Never can we ever know the [illegible]

[illegible]

ANSWERS.

[illegible] angest Peak of Africa [illegible]
[illegible] Arkansaw Traveller.
[illegible] King of Strange Arkansaw.
[illegible] well-known Arkansaw [illegible]

[illegible] reminds me of the strangest freak of which I think any record has been kept. On one of the railways centering at Little Rock, there is, a short distance from the city, a stretch of woods pasture about a mile and a half long. The land is as level as the floor, and is surrounded by a high fence, with [illegible] cattle gaps where the road runs through. One day while we were rushing through the woods, a deer jumped up and ran along close to the train until we reached the fence, when he turned and was soon lost to view. Next day when the train came along again the deer met us at the fence and ran along in front in glee until we reached the other side of the woods, when he turned aside. My engineer became very much attached to him, and always blew the whistle just before entering the woods. The old engine, too, seemed to have an affection for the animal, and would seem to chuckle when the deer was at its side.

"One day we were delayed by an accident to a freight train, and did not reach the woods until after nightfall. The engineer blew his whistle. A light flashed in the woods, and, sir, and I hope never to tell the truth again if that deer wasn't there carrying a lantern on his horns. I won't pretend to explain how he got the lantern. I am giving you the facts and you can draw your own deductions. When we passed he tossed the lantern aside. One of the boys told me—and mind you, I don't vouch for its truth—that the lantern fell from a freight train and the deer took it up and kept it on a stump until our train came along.

"How the [illegible] the deer lighted [illegible] in [illegible] Company.

[illegible] giving the deer as they [illegible] leaving all speculation to you. Some time after this we were rushing along, nearing the deer's woods, when we saw the animal standing on the track waving a red flag. We stopped and discovered that an immense tree had blown across the track. Well, sir, when we chopped the log out, that deer put his horns against it and helped us roll it away.

"Who do you suppose he got the red flag?" asked an incredulous listener.

"I won't attempt to explain anything. I am giving you the facts, and of course you can do your own figuring for conclusions; but one of the boys said that he took up an old white rag that he found on the ground and rubbed it in a bed of red clay."

"What became of this wonderful animal?"

"That's what I'm going to tell you. One day, about six months ago, we arrived at the woods as usual. The deer met us and leaped alongside of us. The engine, feeling pretty gaily that morning anyhow, seemed to prance along the track. Just as we got about half way through the woods, an immigrant looked out the window and yelling, 'look at that ar deer,' snatched up a double-barrel gun and fired a load of buckshot into the [illegible]. We stopped and went over to where the deer lay on the green sward in the last agonies of death. He held out his tongue and shook hands with all the train men, but when he saw the [illegible] whom we dragged to the spot, he frowned darkly, folded up his tongue and put it back into his mouth. The immigrant was a nervous fellow and was much excited. He bent over the deer as though to

DRAMATIC DOINGS.

ANNIE PIXLEY at the Opera House Monday, Jan. 21.

"PECK'S Bad Boy" is being played on the road by two companies.

THE Madison Square Management will again revive "The Professor."

THE cold snap "froze out" a number of combinations out West last week.

JOHN T. RAYMOND is making a success of his new play entitled "Congress."

W. T. FERGUSON'S "A Friendly Tip," has just closed its fifth Chicago engagement.

MRS. MILTON NOBLES presented her husband with a nine pound boy on the 12th inst.

THE "Bunch of Keys" is meeting with much success in cities where it has been presented.

MR. GILBERT has written a new play for Mary Anderson called. "Tragedy" and [illegible]

Miss [illegible] is receiving a considerable [illegible] at the Fifth Avenue Theatre, New York.

[illegible] Sothern [illegible] the stated [illegible] for [illegible] engagement.

"W. Kelly" plays Richard III. in New York Jan. 28, and his season this [illegible] been successful.

THE celebrated Hanlon Bros., French and English Comedians, at the Opera House Tuesday night, Jan. 22.

THE Prince of Wales occupied a box at the Opera Comique, London, Monday night, during Lotta's performance in "Old Curiosity Shop."

MADAME MARIE COLOMBIER, the author of "Sarah Barnum," has been offered a large sum of money to star in America next season.

FRANK LOSEE, of the Pixley Company, and Marian Elmore, who was here with the "Rajah," were married in New York a few days ago.

MARC KLAW, the successful Business Manamager of Fanny Davenport, we regret to hear, has been confined to his bed by reason of sickness.

UPWARDS of 20,000 copies of "Sirah Barnum" have already been sold—the sale of the edition has been prohibited on many of our railroads.

MISS CARRIE WYATT will soon join the [illegible] "Hazel Kirke" company and essay the part of Hazel. She is a remarkably clever lea[illegible]

CINCINNATI has a new play entitled, "Ein Wienerwurst; or, the Limburger's Strength." The tableau, representing the sausage shedding tears when the horse-radish is put on the bread, is said to be very effective.

MODJESKA and her superb company travel in a private car. Mrs. John Drews' [illegible] Georgie and Mr. Maurice Barrymore with the party. They have just had a successful week at New Orleans.

[illegible] PIXLEY came into prominence [illegible] Pegasus in a play [illegible] Snowflake." Mr. Best, the California [illegible] will soon produce it on a scale of [illegible] elegance. Costumes and properties made in Europe.

[illegible] Henry Irving and Miss Ellen Terry [illegible] at the Press Club reception, in Chicago. Miss Terry, in alighting from her carriage, slipped and fell, striking her head heavily upon the pavement; later on she complained of severe pains in the head.

M'LLE RHEA, Miss Ellen Terry and Mr. Henry Irving, were the recipients of a banquet and reception at the residence of Mr. Wilkie, President of the Press Club, Chicago. Probably no foreign artiste since Jenny Lind has had so many social honors conferred on her as has M'lle Rhea.

SHOOK & COLLIER'S "Light O'London" company played to the largest houses of any this season in Nashville, Tenn. Every seat was sold in advance for the entire engagement. The company is very strong and we notice the name of Samuel Hemple, a sterling actor, S. C. Padget and Mrs. Wm. Sands, in the cast.

MUSICAL NOTES.

LILLIAN RUSSELL has not been a success on the other side.

MISS MARIE HUNTER is the latest favorable addition to the New York Opera Company.

"ORPHEUS," an opera as adapted by Max Freeman is drawing large audiences at the Bijou Theatre, New York.

THE Editor of the Chinese-American in New York, Wong Chin Foo, proposes to organize a Chinese concert troupe in that city.

THE Hess Opera Company is in Mexico, Mr. Hess [illegible] first American company to introduce English Opera in that country.

THATCHER, Primrose & West's Minstrels are playing to large business in Brooklyn, N. Y., and giving an excellent [illegible]

MINNIE HAUK and her company [illegible] snowed up several hours near Dunkirk last [illegible] the snow drift almost covering up the [illegible]

M'LLE AIMEE, the celebrated French Opera Bouffe artiste essayed the character of Mme. Favart recently in the opera of that title with much success.

COL. MAPLESON, the impresario, had his annual benefit Friday evening last in New York, at the Academy. Mme. Patti and Mme Gerster sang in "Gli Ugonotti."

MISS MAME SUTTON, daughter of a prominent druggist of Auburn, N. Y., Appeared there recently as "Mabel," in the "Pirates of Penzance," in a home amateur company. She has a remarkably fine voice and her performance would have done credit to any professional.

Household Hints.

Don't strike matches on an oil painting. Old overalls make very nice summer scarfs. Never beat the door mat on the piano legs. Never cut oilcloth with a new pair of scissors. To remove mildew from bronze, use a rat-tail file. An old starch-can, painted green, makes a nice jardiniere. Always remember that old boot legs make good hinges. To destroy the smell of paint, pour kerosene on the fire. It is hard on a carving knife to sharpen it on the window sill. Never remove a cork from a bottle with the prong of a carving fork. To remove varnish from the piano legs, let the children play in the parlor.

LIFE'S TRUE SIGNIFICANCE.

Deeper than all sense of seeing
Lies the secret source of being,
And the soul with truth agreeing
Learns to live in thoughts and deeds;
For the life is more than raiment,
And the earth is pledged for payment
Unto man for all his needs.

Nature is our common mother,
Every living man our brother;
Therefore, let us serve each other:
Not to meet the law's behests,
But because through cheerful giving
We shall learn the art of living:
And to live and serve is best.

Life is more than what man fancies:
Not a game of idle chances;
But still steadily advances
Up the rugged height of time,
Till each complex web of trouble,
Every sad hope's broken bubble,
Hath a meaning most sublime.

More religion, less profession;
More of firmness, less concession;
More of freedom, less oppression,
In the Church and in the State;
More of life and less of fashion;
More of love and less of passion:
That will make us good and great.

When true hearts, divinely gifted,
From the chaff of error sifted,
On their crosses are uplifted,
Shall the world most clearly see
That earth's greatest time of trial
Calls for holy self-denial,
Calls on men to do and be.

Put forever and forever
Let it be the soul's endeavor
Love from hatred to dissever,
And in whate'er we do,
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]

SCIENTIFIC.

[illegible] of the Department of Agriculture, [illegible] appears that kerosene oil is a valuable agent to the destruction of all insects and [illegible]

IN an address before the Munich Geographical Society Dr. Oscar Lenz has maintained that the dryness of the Western Sahara is quite recent, and that it was caused by the felling of forests on the Ahaggar Mountain range.

OAK timber taken from the bottom of the Rhine near Mayence, evidently the remains of a bridge built by Drusus 2,000 years ago, is found when seasoned to take a fine polish, and a Berlin man has bought the job lot to work up into pianos.

HAUTEFEUILLE and Margottet have obtained a number of phosphates in crystals by using as solvents certain salts in igneous fusion. They dissolve the morphous phosphates obtained by precipitation in about four parts of melted metaphosphoric acid.

DR. G. MANOUVRIER, a French craniologist states that the cranium is heavier in negro races than in any others that have been subjected to comparison. The skulls of the Papuans are heavier than those of the Parisians, while those of the American aborigines are lighter.

LEAVES of turnips and the like are frequently used as green fodder, but their removal has had a bad effect upon the plants. Actual trial with the sugar beet has shown that the denudation process has reduced the quantity of sugar 3.7 per cent. The leaves are also less nourishing than young grass.

THE telephone has been successfully used in France to communicate between a vessel being towed and one towing. The wire was carried along one of the hawsers, and the circuit was completed through the copper on the bottom of the ships and the water. Conversation was carried on [illegible]

SURPRISE has often been expressed at the fact that no new species of animal seems to have appeared since the glacial age. Mr. Donald Mackenzie, writing in the Geological Magazine, advances in explanation of this the new theory, which appears to be growing, that only a few thousand years had elapsed since the glacial beds were laid down.

THE French astronomers are talking about the [illegible] of interplanetary communication. Concerning the matter, T. W. Tobin says "It is certain that we are on the eve of grand discoveries, grander than the world has yet seen or dreamed of, and the intercommunion of planetary intelligence cannot be among the least of such revelations from the Creator to His beings."

TO COAT iron with zinc a very fine coating is made of the powder of the latter metal, which is mixed with oil and siccative, and applied to the iron by means of an ordinary brush. In many cases one coat will do. Both the effects of air and water are kept away by two coats. The zinc coating gives the iron a steely appearance, which does not interfere with subsequent painting.

THE skill and accuracy of ancient astronomers is strikingly illustrated by the survey of Almamoun, in Mesopotamia, in the ninth century, who gave the earth's mean circumference at 131,322,200 feet; according to Clark's elements of 1878 it is 131,331,455 feet. Even at a period as early as Aristotle, 310 B. C., this mean circumference was known with astonishing precision, as 131,328,000 feet.

THERE is an insect exhibition now in progress in Paris. It includes (1) useful insects; (2) their products in the raw state and in the first transformation; (3) apparatus and instruments used in the preparation of these products; (4) injurious insects and the various processes for either counteracting their ravages or for destroying them, and (5) everything that may be of interest to the student of insectology.

ANOTHER French expedition has started to explore the depths of the Atlantic. It will begin with the coast of Morocco and the vicinity of the Canary Islands, and will hence to the Cape Verde Islands. The red-coral fisheries of San Jago and the desert Islands of Branco and Raza, which are frequented by saurians that are found nowhere else, and will pay particular attention to the Sargasso Sea and its fauna.

NATIONAL CARELESSNESS.

The Enormous Business of the Dead-Letter Office.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Four million three hundred and seventy-nine thousand one hundred and ninety-eight letters strayed into the dead-letter office during the last year; 3,346,357 of these were not called for at the postoffices to which they were sent; 78,865 were sent in from hotels because the departed guests had left no addresses for forwarding their mails; 175,718 were insufficiently paid; 1,345 contained forbidden articles, lottery tickets and the like; 280,137 were erroneously or illegibly addressed, and 11,979 letters bore no address whatever. Of these letters 15,301 contained money amounting to $32,647.23. Besides that, 1,8495 letters contained drafts, checks, money orders, etc., to the amount of $1,381,994.47. Moreover, 66,137 letters contained postage stamps and 40,125 contained receipts, paid notes and canceled obligations of all sorts.

With this remarkable showing of more than $1,000,000 gone wrong, too much cannot be said in caution to those who confide letters and packages to the mail. The money thus collected at the dead-letter office is turned into the treasury. The goods and merchandise from the packages are sold at auction, and the Christmas and fancy cards are done up in packages and sent to the children's hospitals and orphan asylums of the city.

A whole history of possible anguish and heart burnings is wrapped up in the collection of 35,160 photographs that come to the dead-letter office in a year, and injured and resentful swains, angered relatives and friends may know where some of their treasures have gone to. The photographs are preserved, and this portrait gallery of the postoffice department numbers up into the millions, beginning with a miniature that was lost in the mails fifty years ago.

MEETINGS OF SECRET SOCIETIES.

☞ Advertisements under this head inserted for $5.00 per annum.

I. O. B. B. North State Lodge meet to-day.

Knights of Honor meet Monday evening.

American Legion of Honor, Clarendon Colncil, meet next Friday night.

American Benevolent Fraternity, Hanover Council, meet next Tuesday evening.

IN MEMORIAM.

WHEREAS, It has pleased Almighty God in His wise providence to take to Himself the soul of our deceased Brother WM. J. GORDON, who is commorated in St. John's Church by loyalty, by counsel, by generousity and by godly fear; who was honored in this community for kindliness of manner, integrity of purpose and action and unscrupulous manliness in every personal relation, and is consecrated to the loving memory of his family, by tenderness, devotion, and unselfishness characteristic of the truly affectionate h[illegible] of brother.

Therefore, Resolved, [illegible] the Vestry of St. John's Church, do [illegible] our appreciation of his virtues in life [illegible] with sense of loss in his death and [illegible] oken finally our sorrowing [illegible] d hour of their bereavement.

[illegible] Secy.

Groceries.

J. S. H. HUGGINS [illegible]

GROCERS,

Offer to the public a General Stock of

FAMILY SUPPLIES.

Patronage solicited and satisfaction guaranteed. Goods delivered promptly anywhere in the city, free of charge.

MARKET STREET.

ESTABLISHED 1878.

WE ARE CLOSING OUT OUR

XMAS STOCK

OF FANCY GOODS

AT ROCK BOTTOM PRICES.

PRESERVES.

MINCE MEAT.

JELLIES, &c., &c.

[illegible]

OX-TAIL SOUP.

CONVENIENT AND ECONOMICAL.

P. L. BRIDGERS & CO.

No. 110 North Front Street, Wilmington, N. C.

FRESH ARRIVALS!

ATMORE'S CELEBRATED MINCE-MEATS,

in Barrels, Half-Barrels and Pails;

AND PLUM PUDDING IN ALL SIZES.

These are the very best goods of their kind, and no family should be without them.

DUNDEE MARMALADE,

a most delightful Sweetmeat for the tea table.

To arrive on Tuesday next, a fresh supply of Ginger Taffy,
Beat's Boston Crackers,
Pinafore Drops,
Coffee Cakes, something new and nice,

ORANGE BAR AND EGG CRACKERS; ALSO, THE GENUINE ALBERT BISCUIT In one and two-pound Tins. For sale low.

JNO. L. BOATWRIGHT,
32 and 14 North Front St.

G. W. LINDER,

DEALER IN

CHOICE FAMILY GROCER[illegible]

[illegible] WINES,

N. W. CORNER DOCK AND [illegible]

WILMINGTON, [illegible]

Old Stand of J. H. McGarity & Co.

CAROLINA CENTRAL RAIL ROAD CO.

OFFICE OF GENERAL SUPERINTENDENT,
Wilmington, N. C., June 13th, 1883.

CHANGE OF SCHEDULE.

ON AND AFTER JUNE 13TH, 1883, THE following Schedule will be operated on this Railroad:

Passenger, Mail and Express Train--Daily Except Sundays.

	Leave Wilmington at	7.00 P. M.
No. 1.	Leave Raleigh at	7.35 P. M.
	Arrive at Charlotte at	7.00 A. M.
	Leave Charlotte at	8.45 P. M.
No. 2.	Arrive at Raleigh at	8.30 A. M.
	Arrive at Wilmington at	8.25 A. M.

Passenger Trains stop at regular stations only, and points designated in the Company's Time Table.

Shelby Division, Passenger, Mail, Express and Freight--Daily Except Sundays.

Leave Charlotte	5.30 P. M.
Arrive at Shelby	9.00 P. M.
Leave Shelby	7.00 A. M.
Arrive at Charlotte	10.30 A. M.

Trains Nos. 1 and 2 make close connection at Hamlet with R. & A. Trains to and from Raleigh. Through Sleeping Cars between Wilmington and Charlotte and Raleigh and Charlotte.

Take Train No. 1 for Statesville, stations Western N. C. R. R., Asheville and points West.

Also, for Spartanburg, Greenville, Athens, Atlanta and all points Southwest.

F. W. CLARK, Gen'l Passenger Agent.

L. C. JONES, Superintendent.