OUR ADVERTISERS.

Please mention this paper when patronizing advertisers.

E. E. Russ, the popular grocer at Seventh and Castle streets, has a new ad. on the sixth page. He says it is "A Secret" about flour and invites you to call and have it revealed to you.

See the card of John F. McVey, the first-class stone-worker, 224 S. Front St. on the third page of today's paper. He is an artisan of world-wide experience of many years and is thoroughly equipped for all high-class stone work.

Read the Saturday and Monday specials of Frank M. Ross, grocer, 223 Market street, in today's paper, page six. He offers several attractive bargains. Give him your order and save money. His prices will do the work.

H. J. McCartney, the plumber, has an ad. on page six, in which he offers the marvellous fireless cooker. He guarantees no heat from this wonder of inventions of the age, and furnishes the latest cook books free. See his ad.

"Dead Shot," the wonderful bed-bug exterminator, is advertised by Mr. Ed. Sandlin on the sixth page. It not only puts Brother Bed-bug out of commission, but is a cleanser of furniture as well. Ask your grocer for "Dead Shot" and suffer no more from this pest.

Read Honnet's attractive ad. in the "Special Today and Monday feature" on the sixth page, and stop in when making your Saturday rounds and look his magnificent line of goods over, even if you do not buy. He invites you all to come.

Bell & Carney, the new firm of blacksmiths and wheelwrights, who are located in Racket Store alley, opposite the Front Street Market, have a card on the sixth page of to-day's paper. They are first-class mechanics and are well equipped to do all classes of work, and we bespeak for them their share of patronage.

The Great Summer Clearance Sale at G. Dannebaum's, 26 Market street, is now in full swing. He offers as specials today and Monday all summer dresses, skirts, blouses and children's wear, which will be sold at sacrifice prices. Read his ad. in "Special Today and Monday" feature, and save some money by taking advantage of the many bargains he offers.

We were in error in our issue of July 14th in mentioning Dr. Miles W. Maloney as a high-class oculist. Dr. Maloney is not an oculist and does not employ the use of drugs or surgery in the correction of the refraction of the eye. Every optician practicing optometry in the State of North Carolina must be licensed by the North Carolina State Board of Examiners in Optometry, and must display said license in a conspicuous place in his place of business.

J. W. E. Fisher's Cash Department Store offers specials in 44-inch white voile and mill-remnants today and Monday. He gives 5 per cent discount on purchases and 7 per cent National Labor Free Purchase Receipts. Save these receipts, Brother Unionist, and deposit them with the secretary of your union for the Temple Fund. This store gives its customers a total of 5 per cent discount, their own discount and the Union Purchase Receipt. Give them a call and be pleased, and at the same time save 7 cents on the dollar.

Death of a Grand Old Woman.

Miss Hettie Sage James, one of Wilmington's most estimable and beloved women, passed to her reward on Wednesday morning at 12:15 o'clock after an illness of four years, during which time she was an invalid, at her home on North Third street. She was a member of one of the oldest and most highly respected families of this city, was loved for her kind and charitable spirit which poured forth blessings to all with whom she was associated. She was a life-long school teacher, was president of the United Daughters of the Confederacy for several years, and had been State chaplain of that organization. She leaves a host of loving friends and relatives to mourn her passing.

The funeral was conducted from St. James church, of which she was a member, on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock and the interment was made in Oakwood cemetery.

COMMENDABLE ACTION.

Protect Situations of Members Enlisting in the Army and Navy.

Complying with the instructions of the International Board of Arbitration, the Executive Committee of Wilmington Typographical Union has entered into an agreement with the employing printers of Wilmington as follows:

"It is agreed between the employer (or employers) and the union, parties to this contract, that the situations of employees who enlist or are enrolled for service in time of war may be filed during their absence by the foreman of the department in which they are employed. Provided, That upon reporting for duty the situations formerly held by these employees shall be restored to them.

"This provision shall not be construed as requiring the employer to restore a situation which may have been abolished through a reduction in the force, as provided in section 121 of the general laws of the International Typographical Union for 1916, the understanding being that employees covered by this provision shall suffer no loss of priority rights or standing during their absence.

"If in restoring apprentices to their situations the total number employed shall exceed the number allowed by the local contract, the parties to this agreement will exert every reasonable effort to make provision for any apprentices who may be displaced.

"The above provisions are not intended to require a foreman to fill the situation of an employe who is absent for the reason above given or to compel the re-employment of any employe who because of any physical disability may be unable to perform the duties required in the situation formerly held by him."

The following is a list of employers entering into the agreement:

Star Publishing Company.
Dispatch Publishing Company.
Jackson & Bell Company.
Wilmington Printing Company.
LeGwin Printing Company.
Pittman-McColl Co.
Huband Printing Company.
Review Printing Company.
Southern Lumber Journal.
The Saturday Record.

Catfish Club Notes.

The poor old Fish let the Blue-cat get on her neck and stamp last Wednesday evening.

Mr. John R. Robinson, who had the misfortune of breaking his arm about six weeks ago, is now able to work, we are glad to learn.

Captain Camacho has decided that an electric fan will not blow that awful feeling out of the head next morning and has cut out the draft wheels in the private quarters of his ship.

Lieutenant Whaley, in an interview with a Negro watermelon vendor, declared that watermelon grown up the river was as good as watermelon grown down the river. But, somehow, it occurs to us that a little spray of G-g-g-r would make a difference to Whaley.

Mr. Frank Sears, a member of the Engineer Company A, was a welcome visitor in the city during the week. He is an honorary member of the Catfish Club and the club honored him with a banquet at the Club's Headquarters on Monday evening, at which Rocky Ford macaroupes lead the menu.

Wilmington firemen will attend the State Firemen's Convention which opens on Tuesday, and which will be a great event.

Don't wear suit, your hat, shoes, shirt, ties and other garments carry the label!

Fireman Ernest Kistler, of Barbers' Junction, was killed, and Engineer J. C. Larycox, of Charlotte, N. C., was badly injured when a Southern train was turned completely over on Monday morning.

BUSINESS AGENT ARRESTED

At the Jamestown Works While Attempting to Help Unionists.

Norfolk, Va., July 20.—E. F. Jones, business agent of the Building Trades Council of this city, was arrested at the Jamestown works while attempting to aid the unionists of Asheville in their trouble with the Carolina Wood Products Company, who has contracted for construction work at Jamestown, and is determined to fight organized labor.

Mr. Jones and other labor officials had secured from the government which would enable them to go over the job, but underlings of those who have the work in hand apparently forgot that it was government work, and that American citizens have certain rights, or have been led to believe they have, among which is the right of laborers to organize.

It is expected this arrest will tend to arouse the labor and labor leaders of Virginia against the Carolina Wood Products Company and aid the Asheville unionists by branding them as unfair to organized labor.

LOCAL NEWS BRIEFS.

A street market will be operated by the farmers on Dock street between Eighth and Ninth streets, from daylight until 10 a. m., in future, provided the residents do not object.

Enterprising citizens are making an effort to have a shipyard established at Point Peter, and have called the attention of General Goethals to the splendid location where ships for government use could be built.

Dr. W. J. Pettus, medical officer attached to the staff of Admiral Beatty, in command of the Sixth Naval Division, was in the city during the week on a tour of inspection with a view to establishing a naval training or aviation school.

Dr. A. C. Nielsen, who was called to Richland, N. C., on Monday of last week by a telegram from Mr. N. W. Jarman, who was in a critical condition and not expected to live, has returned after treating Mr. Jarman for five days and states that the patient is rapidly recovering and expects to be thoroughly cured in a short while.

"Scrubby" Rodrick, a well known resident of the southern section of the city, shot and killed his wife at their home on Seventh and Dawson streets, Friday morning. It is not known what prompted the homicide, but it is generally believed the act was caused by jealousy. He is under arrest and investigation is being made by the authorities.

LATEST NEWS BRIEFS.

The American steamer Grace has been sunk by a submarine.

The Russians captured nearly forty thousand Teutons from July 1st to 13th.

E. K. Niétor, German consul at Richmond, Va., for many years, has been interned.

Four large submarines were destroyed by American gunners on warships convoying troop ships to France on last Monday.

Several hundred employes of the railroad shops at Portsmouth, Va., have struck as a protest against the delay in the matter of the advance of 10 per cent in pay demanded some time ago.

Petrograd was the scene of bloody rioting on Tuesday and cossacks were used for the first time to patrol the streets. There was no clash between the troops and rioters.

At 9 o'clock Friday morning in a committee room of the Senate office building the first drawing of the U. S. army under the Selective Draft law was made. The work was finished in about an hour.

Secretary of War Baker has announced that plants for the production of nitrate from atmospheric nitrogen would be constructed immediately at a cost of about $4,000,000 and that water power would not be used.

UNION BREVITIES.

Ask for label goods.

Don't forget the date of the State Federation Convention—August 13.

Let the advertiser know you appreciate his business in your paper.

Read the ably-written article from the pen of Mr. Clarence Hampton, of Raleigh, on the subject "Indifference to Duty," in next week's paper.

Mr. T. A. Wilson, who has been employed with the Wilmington Printing Company as bookbinder, has resigned and gone to Piedmont to accept employment.

Mr. Dave Finney, who has been employed with The Dispatch in the linotype department, and who is an artist of the first water, has resigned to accept employment on a Norfolk daily paper.

The Allied Printing Trades Council met Tuesday evening. There was a good attendance and much business transacted. Demand and boost the union label on all printing and purchases, as well as on the moving picture reel.

Messrs. C. F. Pillely, M. G. Heath and C. F. Koonse were appointed delegates by President E. J. Wicker to represent Raleigh Typographical Union at the convention of the State Federation of Labor, at Salisbury, on August 13th.

The Edwards & Broughton Printing Company and the Commercial Printing Company, of Raleigh, will do the printing for the State of North Carolina. The Commercial is putting in new material and will employ a large force of workmen.

Mr. John J. Pittman, a well-known monotypist of this city, who has been employed in the monotype department of the Edwards & Broughton Co., of Raleigh, for some time, was suddenly called home last week on account of illness in his family.

Friends of organized labor and trade unionists should bear in mind the fact that the Wilmington Amusement Company has been declared unfair to organized labor, and help the I. A. T. S. E. (union) by staying away from these playhouses. Remember your obligation and act consistent therewith.

The Label Products Committee met in regular semi-monthly meeting Monday night and much important business was transacted. The committee has the Labor Day celebration, under the auspices of Wilmington Trades Council, in hand, and expects to put off one of the grandest parades and labor demonstrations on the first Monday in September ever held in this State.

The Wilmington Trades Council desires that every business man, merchant and manufacturer in all States have a flag in the Labor Day parade, so they can prepare themselves to be waited on by the Label Products Committee at an early date in their effort to interest them in making this year's Labor Day celebration parade the grandest in the history of Wilmington. Boost boost Wilmington, Mr. Businessman, and you will enjoy the fruits of your efforts as well as your own. Let us have the spirit of Redwood Cooperation and make a start on the Road to Success.

Do You Want to Live and Join the Union?

If you are an artisan or mechanic, a clerical or professional worker, a railway employe, street car motorman or conductor, laborer, in fact, any class of wage-earner and do not belong to the union of your craft, you are standing in your own light, as well as imposing on the standards established by the union. Awaken from your slumber, non-unionist, and get your name enrolled on the membership books of the union of your vocation, for the corporation is using you as a tool with which to profit the union man, who is struggling to elevate your standard as well as his own—out of existence. They have a certain amount of contempt for a man who in due time you will feel the sting of his contempt. So, follow him, in your self justice as a worker, and in the cause that is maintaining your living standard by joining the ranks of Organized Labor.
