To the white Republican gentry this result was simply disgusting. They have lost their interest in the canvass, and between the two colored nominees, O'Hara and Harris, it is not impossible that the Democratic candidate, Captain W. H. The general and widespread discontent in the Seventh district, which at one time seriously threatened the defeat of Colonel R. F. Armfield, who, it was charged, ob-

The Surrender of the National Party to the Democrats in the Fifth Congres. sional District-The Situation in . the Other Districts-Barbecues, Whiskey and Fights.

Special Correspondence of the Philadelphia Times.

RALEIGH, N. C., Oct. 19 .- The most notable recent political event in North Carolina is the surrender of the National party to the Democracy in the formal withdrawal from the canvass in the Fifth Con-gressional district of Col. John B. Winston, who has ably, courageously and persistently championed the National-Greenback-Labor cause upon the stump for the last five months. There were about a score of other self-constituted National candidates for Congress in the State, but none of them were of much account, and one by one they fagged out and quietly slipped aside into their original silence and obscurity Col. Winston, however, stood firmly by the banner and made a dashing and heroic canvass of the district; speaking almost daily in advocacy of the National platform and breaking lances bravely with all comers. In his published card announcing his final retirement from the field he states that he has accomplished the main object of his candidacy, which was to force the currency autestion to the front as the paramount issue of the campaign. He now calls upon all the soft-money men in the district to vote for the soft-money Democratic nominee, Gen. Scales, and they will doubtless follow his advice. The Republican candidate, Tourgee, has now no show whatever, and Scales will be triumphantly re-elected
