THE FISHERIES QUESTION. Salisbury to Welsh-Reviews

Evarts. Washington, Nov. 14 .- The State Department publishes the reply of Lord Salisbury to Minister Welsh, regarding the dispatch from Secretary Evarts of September 28th, containing this Government's complaints relating to the injuries done to the American fishermen in Fortune Bay, last January. Lord Salisbury writes: "This dispatch is in reply to my letter of August 23d, in which I forwarded a copy of the report furnished by Capt. Sallivan, of Her Majesty's ship, "Sirius," on the occurrence in question. Mr. Evarts now remarks that the United States Government has not been put in possession of the depositions which forms a basis of that report, and is unable, therefore, to say whether, upon their consideration, the review which the Government of the United States takes of these transactions, upon the sworn statement of their own citizens, would be at all modified. Her Majesty's Government has not had the opportunity of considering the statement in question, but the depositions which accompanied Capt. Sullivan's report, and which I now have the honor to forward, appeared to them in the absence of other testimeny to be conclusive, as regards the facts of the case; a part, however, from the facts in respect to which there appears to be material divergence between the evidence moment.

ment and that collected by the Colonial authorities. Mr. Evarts takes exception to my letter of the 23d, on the ground of my statement that the United States fishermen concerned have been guilty of breaches of law. From this he infers an opinion on my part, that it is competent for a British authority to pass laws in su-persession of the treaty, binding American fishermen within the three mile limit. In pointing out that the American fishermen had broken laws within the territorial limits of Her Majesty's dominions, I had no intention of inferentially laying down any principles of international law, and no advantage would, I think, be gained by doing so to a greater extent than the facts in question absolutely require. I hardly believe, however, that Mr. Evarts would, in discussion, adhere to the broad doctrine which some portion of his language would appear to convey, that no British authority has any right to pass any kind of law binding Americans who are fishing in British waters, for if that contention be just, the same disability applies a fortiori to any other power, and the waters must be delivered over to anarchy. On the other hand, Her Majesty's Government will readily admit what is indeed self evident, that British sovereignty as regards these matters is limited in its scope by the engagements of the treaty of Washington, which cannot be modified or affected by any municipal legislation. I cannot anticipate, that with regard to these principles, any difference will be found to exist between the views of the two governments. If, however, it be admitted that the Newfoundland legislators have a right of binding Americans who fish within their waters by any laws which do not contravene the existing treaties, it must further be conceded that the duty of determining the existence of any such contravention must be undertaken by the governments and cannot be remitted to the discretion of each individual fisherman, for such a discretion, if exercised on one side, can hardly be repressed on the other. If any Ameri can fisherman may intently break a law which he believes to be contrary to the treaty, a Newfounland fisherman may violently maintain it, if he believes it to be in accordance with the treaty. As the points in issue are frequently subtle and require considerable legal knowledge, nothing but confusion and diosrder could result from a mode of deciding the interpretion of the treaty. Her Majesty's government prefer the view that the law enacted spatch that he considers any recent act of the colonial legislature to be inconsistant with the rights acquired by the United States under the treaty of Washington, but if that is the case Her Majesty's government will, in a friendly spirit, consider any representation he may think is right to make upon the subject, with the hope of coming to a satisfactory understanding.

Pope and Kaiser.

London, Nov. 14 .- A dispatch to the Times from Berlin says the attitude of the exiled German Bishops, as indicated by their memorial to the Pope, expressing the wish that an equitable arrangement may be reached with Germany, is regarded in Berlin as an earnest desire for a possible reconciliation.

A dispatch from Rome to the Standard says the Vatican has decided on a complete separation from the Centre (Ultramontane) party in the German Reichstag.

The Ultramontane organ, the Germania, says it finds little in the negotiations between the Vatican and Germany on which to rest hopes of peace with the church.

More Ghoul Work.

UINCINNATI, Nov. 14.—At Zanesville, 0, at 4 o'clock this morning, the policeman on the bridge near that city had his suspicions aroused by the movements of a party in a wagon, and when the latter reached the bridge the policeman ordered them to halt. The driver whipped his horses into a gallop and escaped. The policeman procured assistance followed them fourteen miles before he was able to catch up with them. Upon attempting to arrest them the whole rarty jumped from the wagon and escaped to the woeds. The

The Mormon Question in the Supreme Court.

Washington, Nov. 14.—The first of a eries of cases involving the right of Mormons to contract polygamic marriages, came up for argument to-day in the United States Supreme Court in the shape of an appeal from the Supreme Court of the State. The case is of general interest. because it presents to this court for the first time the question of the constitutional right of Congress to prohibit polygamy when it assumes the guise of a religious duty, and is held as an article of faith. The counsel for the prisoner contend that Congress is restrained from such prohibition by the first amendment, to the Constitution of the United States, which provides for religious freedom. The counsel for the United States argue that this rigid interpretation of the Constitution would prevent Congress from punishing any crime in territories which might justify itself by an appeal to religious conviction and so lead to remediless disorder. The decision is awaited with interest.

A. T. Stewart's Body-Conflicting Reports-Edison's Ill Health.

NEW YORK, Nov., 14.—It is reported that the body of A. T. Stewart was taken to Canada and is now concealed there. The thieves who demand a ransom of $100,-000 for the remains have placed the matter in the hands of a Montreal lawyer, and are negotiating through him. As there is no treaty governing cases of this kind, it will be impossible to arrest the ghouls.

Another report says the body is hidden at or near Harmony, Burlington county, N. J., forty miles southeast of Camden, and that the thieves can be arrested at any Insecurity in Hong Kong.

San Francisco, Nov. 14.—The City of Tokio, from Hong Kong, has arrived. The foreign residents of Hong Kong held a public meeting in October to consider the state of life and property in the colony. The Chinese residents made an unsuccess ful attempt to pack the meeting.

A resolution was adopted reciting the insecurity to life and property, which, in the opinion of the meeting, was mainly because of an undue leniency to criminal classes. The resolution favors a return to flogging and other severe punishment.

The court martial in the recent military meeting at Tokio sentenced fifty-three soldiers to death and many others to imprisonment. The condemned men were shot inbatches of fifteen on the morning following

The Marquis of Lorne.

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 14 .- The Marquis and Marchioness of Lorne, Duke of Connaught, Prince Leopold and suites arrived at 6 o'clock this morning. At 10 o'clock, under military escort, the royal party proceeded to the town hall where they were received by the mayor. Addresses from the town council and chamber of commerce were read to the Marquis, who replied to both. At the close of the ceremonies the party proceeded to the landing by stage and embarked on a tender for the steamship Savmatian, and after a warm leave-taking the
