WILMINGTON.

CAPE FEAR RIPPLES.

A cold northerly wind set in last night and made matters exceedingly comfortable.

Yeates appears to be elected in the First District, after all, according to the latest reports.

Messrs. Bridges & Co. are moving into the new MacRae building, opposite the Six office.

The hop given by the Harmonia Circle Club, Wednesday night, was followed last evening with a hop by the Lotus Club.

The attendance, each night, of young ladies and gentlemen was quite large, and of course all participants had a delightful time.

The public complaint of that huge pile of sand on Princess street, but if they will contain themselves for awhile all will be well.

Our city fathers are doing all that can be done to better the condition of our streets and will attend to the sand as soon as their labors in other parts of the city will permit.

A crowd of little darkies were arrested by a policeman, yesterday, for creating a hubbub, in front of a store on Market street, over a game of marbles.

They were escorted to the City Hall, but it was thought they had been sufficiently "scared up," and so the officer was told to let 'em loose.

Prof. Meyers, the city detective, had a little trouble yesterday in convincing a drummer that he should take out a city license.

The drummer, as soon as he saw his error, went to the Mayor voluntarily and paid his license tax, and expressed his regret that any one would think him guilty of wilfully disregarding the city ordinances.

If anybody is tired looking at the circus pictures around the city, they can strike something new by going to the Wilmington and Weldon depot, where the circus coach, all covered with hungry looking lions, four backed camels, etc., is undergoing repairs.

You will have to get around the wagon on the yard, though, before you can see the coach.

Dr. Wright.
The health of that estimable citizen, Dr. Adam E. Wright, who suffers from paralysis, is again precarious.

Yesterday, a white man from Pender county, was arrested in this city, on a warrant issued at the instance of another citizen of Pender, charging him with having stolen an ox.

The matter came up before Justice Wagner for investigation. The evidence served to prove that the accused had taken the ox on pawn, and there was no theft in the matter.

The prosecutor was required to pay costs of the case, and the parties were discharged.

At the Postoffice.
Mrs. Taylor can call and get a copy of Erick's Fashionable Quarterly.

No initials are given, and the first Mrs. Taylor of all by that name in the city, who gets to the postoffice ahead of the others, this morning, can get the magazine. Don't all rush at once.

That chemist is still waiting an owner. The clerks have wrapped it up in blue paper, and now the fair owner can avoid embarrassment by walking up and calling for "that bundle wrapped with blue paper."

The person who dropped a letter in the box addressed to T. S. Willie, Batrier, N. C., is informed that no such an office exists in this State. Guess at it again, and direct the letter over.

Gen. Eaton has gone further South prosecuting the arrangements for better country mail routes.

Wilmington Light Infantry.
According to announcement in yesterday morning's Sun, this company, together with the veterans and honorary members, held a meeting at their armory, last night.

There was a very full attendance, and the interest manifested was gratifying to every member of the Company. After the usual organization preliminaries, addresses were heard from several present, touching upon the future prosperity of the organization.

Colonels Cantwell, DeRosset, Moore, Maj. Fergus and others of the "veteran corps" made speeches that fairly stirred their hearers. A committee was appointed, and the duty assigned it of looking after the interests of the company and ascertaining what means can be taken to preserve its organization, and inspire it with new life and activity. The committee consists, as follows:

FROM THE VETERAN CORPS.
Col. W. L. DeRosset and Capt. C. D. Myers.

FROM THE HONORARY MEMBERSHIP.
Capt. F. W. Kerchner and J. C. James.

FROM THE ACTIVE MEMBERSHIP.
Gen. M. F. Taylor, Capt. Coney and Messrs. W. J. Gordon and James C. Munds.

The Wilmington Light Infantry has been in organization since 1853. There is not a more gallant company in the State, and we know that our people, cherishing the memory of its heroic deeds in the bloody struggle of '61-'65 will never permit the name of this grand old company to die out as long as time lasts.

THE LADIES' BENEVOLENT SOCIETY.

Annual Meeting.

Yesterday morning, at 11 A. M., twenty ladies, including officers, met at the Hook and Ladder Hall, to attend the annual meeting of this Society. It was regretted exceedingly that a larger number of ladies and gentlemen were not present, not only that they might give their mite to feed God's poor, but that they might give visible encouragement to the noble, energetic and kind-hearted President whose labors in behalf of the destitute have made her name a household word in every home of our city.

But those who were present, were agreeably entertained by a timely and appropriate speech from Rev. E. A. Yates, the popular pastor of Front Street Methodist Church. He pleaded most eloquently for the cause of the poor and destitute, and sought to encourage the members of the Society in their "labor of Love."

By request, Mr. Yates then read Mrs. Kennedy's annual report, as follows:
WILMINGTON, N. C. Nov. 14th, 1878.

LADIES—The close of another year in the operations of our Society, (its 33d anniversary), calls us together once more, to retrospect our doings hitherto, and to gird ourselves afresh for the task assigned us by our Heavenly Father, whose hand we acknowledge in the measure of success which has thus far crowned our efforts to relieve suffering humanity.

And yet we must own that we have come very far short of fulfilling the requirements of duty and of necessity in this behalf. But undismayed by past failures, we are ready to resume the task, feeling that our own wisdom and skill can avail us little apart from the promised aid of Him who having given, as a legacy to His people, the poor who are ready with us, has also let our record the assurance that whatsoever they ask in prayer, believing, they shall receive.

And although we come, (as often before) with an empty treasury, we confidently trust that we shall still be enabled to feed some who are nigh to perishing, and to add somewhat to the covering of some whom the wintry blasts find shivering before their rude assaults.

No money is in our hands, nor have we any food or fuel, or other comforts, but we will not tales of suffering touch some hearts able to command it? And will not some for His sake who gives us all things to enjoy, be willing, of their abundance, or even of their poverty, to share with those who are destitute? We have become familiar with much of the suffering around us—poverty bears hard on very many—scanty employment plants hunger in homes where above want, sickness adds its burden and its woe, and the hidden sorrow of the homes made sad and terribly by the unfeeling waste of liquor, and the drunkard's tread, all call loudly on us for succor ere it be too late.

Let us be more earnest in doing what we can and in striving to enlist the aid of those around us. Let us improve upon our former friends the duty and the true enjoyment of being helpful to the helpless, showing them that in denying themselves some trifling thing systematically they can all, without much inconvenience, contribute the little amount of $1 annually for this cause. Can we ask our Father in heaven for His blessing while unwilling to bestow on His more needy ones a little of what He gives us? May God give us all grace to do our whole duty!

The Treasurer's statement will show what amounts have been received in subscriptions and otherwise. I feel constrained here to mention the generous gifts received last year from many of our merchants. Our friends had failed and the public was appealed to. Donations of various articles of food were given, amounting to perhaps near $100. These were placed in the hands of a grocer, to whom we owe thanks for his kindness in distributing. This supply sufficed for the summer, but was exhausted by October, with a very small exception, and now we are furnishing on credit those who must be fed. I would be glad to give the number and names of such as have been relieved by the Society during the past year, but this can only be done through the visitors, who failed to preserve them. And now, in retrospect, we must admit our failure in one great object we have had in view: the one of elevating by timely aid the aims of those who come to us, encouraging the feeling of self-reliance, and the desire to live by their own labor, till driven by necessity to rely on others, does not seem to be realized. Still we must do our duty and leave the results with God. May He bless His spirit for a guide to us and to them.

C. G. KENNEDY, Pres't.

After the reading of the report Mrs. Alfred Martin, in behalf of the Society, most gracefully thanked Mr. Yates for the interest he had taken in the Society and for the pleasure derived from the speech he had just made. In about two sentences Mrs. Martin said more and expressed it more beautifully than nine-tenths of the gentlemen would have done. Her little speech, if she will pardon us, was a model of terseness, courtesy, and pure, chaste English.

Mrs. Kennedy called the meeting to order and the members proceeded to elect officers for the ensuing year. The following ladies were unanimously elected:

Mrs. C. G. Kennedy, president.
Mrs. J. T. Munds, vice president.
Mrs. N. G. Daniels, secretary.
Miss Julia Stevenson, treasurer.

Mrs. Kennedy then requested the secretary to read the following:

"There is one matter I wish to bring before the Society, not exactly called for by the annual report. It has long been known to our members that we have in view the enlargement of our operations—perhaps I might say a modification or change in the plans pursued. It is also known that a small fund quite distinct from our current funds, has been at interest for the purchase of a location for some institution of permanent benefit to our poor. The shares of stock in the W. & W. R. B. were given us about the year 1852, as a nucleus for this. Circumstances hindered the furtherance of this and the annual dividend for 10 or 12 years was lost in a bank at the close of the war. We have now $1,000 from this source, and a location offered, yesterday, seems desirable for a beginning. The terms are $1,000 at once, and a reasonable time allowed for the remainder. A gentleman present offered to bestow $50, if we make the purchase. A very nice dwelling is on the lot, and the location is within easy reach of the street car track. No furniture of any kind belongs to us, and we must borrow or beg, until able to purchase. If I do not wish to act alone in this. If the Society will appoint a committee of discreet ladies to act with its officers, we can obtain aid from a lawyer and have the matter properly attended to. C. G. KENNEDY."

This matter was earnestly discussed, and

The Cotton Compresses.

But one of the three cotton compresses in the city, were running yesterday. The Champion press let off steam for the first time since it was put in operation, in order to clean out the machinery, etc., preparatory for a quick and efficient execution of the big run of work expected of it during the balance of the season.

The managers of this compress are also building an additional roof and adding new conveniences, and besides this, are making their capacious building very attractive by the liberal use of the paint brush.

The steam and hydraulic press, of the Wilmington Compress Company, which gave out a day or two ago, is being repaired as rapidly as possible. It is an entirely new press, and a break down could have been expected of it. The company do not anticipate any very great delay with it, and in the meantime, are running their steam press to its full capacity. But notwithstanding all the delays, the compresses are doing their full duty and have more cotton pressed than the vessels at their docks can stow away for a time.

Fourteen Pound Potatoes.
We were disturbed yesterday morning by a rumour which sounded as if a lot of men were trying to get a big piano up our office steps. It wasn't exactly a piano in shape, but pretty near one in size, and four negro men were working at it with crowbars, trying to get it up the steps. It was a sweet potato sent to us by freight from our old friend, Matt R. Lee, of Goldsboro. We have telegraphed to Matt to know its pedigree. It was planted by him two years ago and had been in the ground up to last Wednesday. It weighs fourteen pounds to the notch. Now, brethren of the State press, "take in your sails" and stop trotting out your little seven pound "taters." We've got the dead wood on this potato business at last, and unless some one can get up something to beat our fourteen pounder we hope to see a cessation of this indiscriminate blowing on the part of the press.

Abraham Wallace, and not Abraham Betts, was the hero of the Ninth street scrimmage night before last, as reported in The Sun yesterday. He hasn't turned up yet.

The Sun's City Agency.

The business of soliciting and collecting subscriptions for The Sun in the city has been placed in the hands of Mr. Calvin V. Hines, who heretofore has been its City Agent. Mr. Hines has authority to contract for advertisements at our regular rates.

Complaints for non-delivery of The Sun by carriers should be reported at once to Mr. Hines, at this office, or in person, on the street.

Metereological.

From the daily bulletin issued by the Signal Station at this city, we get the following, which shows the state of the thermometer at each of the cities and towns mentioned below, at 4.31 P. M., yesterday, Washington meantime:

New Orleans, 66; Havana, 73; Jacksonville, Fla., 67; Mobile, Ala., 63; Poca Russa, Fla., 80; Montgomery, Ala., 72; St. Marks, Fla., 70; Galveston, Texas, 68; Key West, Fla., 78; Corsicana, Texas, 56; Atlanta, Ga., 61; Indianola, Texas, 63; Augusta, Ga., 61; Charleston, S. C., 61; Charlotte, N. C., 55; Wilmington, N. C., 57; Savannah, Ga., 66.
