Subsidiary Coins—Discussion of the Electoral Bill—Diplomatic Salary Bill, Etc., Etc.

WASHINGTON, December 10.—SENATE.—Mr. Wallace of Pennsylvania introduced a bill to authorize the exchange of subsidiary coin for trade dollars, which was referred to the committee on finance. It provides that subsidiary coins of the United States shall be exchangeable for trade dollars at the rate of one hundred cents for each of said dollars, and they shall forthwith be received into subsidiary coin and the gold, if any be made, may be used by the Secretary of the Treasury to pay the expense of sending subsidiary coin to such persons or banks as may desire the same in exchange for other funds. The coinage of trade dollars shall cease from and after the passage of this act.

Among the bills introduced and referred during the morning hour were the following: By Mr. Lamar of Mississippi: By request, to provide for the education of the blind. Referred to committee on education and labor.

By the same, and also by request: To establish a department of public health. Referred to select committee appointed to inquire as to epidemic diseases.

By Mr. Booth of California: By request, to confer on the United States Court of Claims jurisdiction over certain Alabama claims. Referred to committee on the judiciary.

Mr. Allison of Iowa, from the select committee appointed at last session to inquire into certain charges against Hon. Stanley Matthews, submitted a resolution requesting the House of Representatives to transmit to the Senate a copy of the testimony of James E. Anderson relating to Hon. Stanley Matthews understood to have been taken before one of the committees of the House of Representatives. Agreed to.

At the expiration of the morning hour the Senate resumed consideration of the bill to amend the sundry provisions of chapter 1 title 3 of the Revised Statutes of the United States relating to Presidential elections, and provide for and regulate the counting of votes for President and Vice President and the decision of questions arising thereon.

A bill was passed authorizing the appointment of Dr. Dennis L. Powell as assistant surgeon in the navy, such authority being necessary because of the fact that Powell could not be appointed, though formerly in the United States service, but because he had served in the Confederacy. The vote was 39 to 21. During the debate on this bill Beck gave notice that he would tomorrow introduce a bill to repeal the section of the Revised Statutes providing that no person who has served in the Confederate service shall be appointed in the United States army.

Mr. Morgan of Alabama spoke in favor of the bill to regulate the counting of the Presidential vote.

HOUSE.—The following members were announced by the Speaker as composing the committee to inquire into the causes of the yellow fever epidemic: Young, Gibson, Goode, Hartridge, Morse, Garfield, Harner and Chittenden. The Speaker announced the number of appointments to fill the vacancies in the committee. The House then went into committee of the whole, and Springer of Illinois, in the chair, on the consular and diplomatic appropriation bill.

Salary of Ministers to England, France, Germany and Russia, which was reported in bill at $15,000, was on motion of Mr. Hale of Maine, and by a vote of 98 to 91, put back at its present figure, $17,500.

The amendment to increase the salary of the Ministers to Spain, Austria, Italy, Brazil, Mexico, Japan and China from $12,000, was so amended as to insert a provision for Ministers to Belgium and Netherlands.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—There is no doubt whatever of the early retirement of Attorney-General Devens from the Cabinet, to accept a Circuit Judgeship in Maine.

The Senate committee on finance today laid aside for the present the nomination of E. T. Foote for Superintendent of the mint at New Orleans.

The House passed the diplomatic appropriation bill, after striking out the committee's amendments offered to increase the salaries of Ministers to Great Britain, France, Germany and Russia. This makes four of the general appropriation bills already passed.

The President today nominated to the Senate James L. Stone, an appraiser of merchandise at New Orleans.

The Comptroller of Currency has called upon the national banks for a statement of their condition on the 6th inst.

NEWCASTLE, Dec. 10.—The trial of Mrs. Amelia Dodson, William Newcomb and Philip Vincent, the parties concerned in the shooting of the negro James Jones near Vendyke's station on the night of Nov. 19th, commenced this morning. James Jones, the first witness, detailed the circumstances of his being carried from Charleston over into Delaware by the parties indicted and also about the shooting. This story reiterates that already published.

Mrs. Alice Prettyman and Mrs. Dora Dodson, daughters of Mrs. Dodson, were on the stand this afternoon for the defense, and testified to a whipping of Jones after he had admitted that the stories he had told about them were false. They testified he then promised to leave the State and that he was released and departed early on the evening of the alleged crime, and was seen no more, and that defendants passed the entire evening and night in the Dodson House.

The trial will probably be concluded tomorrow.

WADE HAMPTON.

Undergoing Amputation of a Leg—Elected U. S. Senator almost unanimously.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Dec. 10.—Gov. Hampton's wounded leg was amputated to-day six inches below the knee. His physicians contemplated this course some days, but were waiting until his condition warranted the operation. The immediate friends of Gov. Hampton say his condition is now not dangerous. He stood the operation finely under the influence of chloroform. His system is in a condition to promise hopeful results.

The Legislature to-day elected Gov. Hampton United States Senator. A vote was taken separately in each House as required by law. Senators who were present, twenty-nine in all, voted unanimously for Gov. Hampton, including the republican members of the House, with two exceptions, Muller and Simmons, colored. The scene in the House was quiet and impressive. A letter was received from Gov. Hampton, which said he was not a candidate, but that office was neither to be sought nor declined.

THE STORM ON THE ATLANTIC COAST.

LONG BRANCH, Dec. 10.—At noon to-day the rain storm which has continued without ceasing since Sunday night suddenly changed into a gale. The wind, which was blowing from the east, increased gradually in velocity until 3 o'clock, when it blew a perfect tornado. It was accompanied by a heavy rain and a dense mist. The life-saving stations between Squan and Sandy Hook report no marine disasters.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—No marine disasters on the coast up to midnight.

Flour Mill Burned.

ST. PAUL, MINN., Dec. 10.—The Anchor Mill at Minneapolis, which is operated by Charles A. Pillsbury & Co., was burnt last night. The origin of the fire is stated to be the same as in a former case—in an explosion of the flour dust. The mill had twenty runs of stones, and employed twenty men. The loss will probably reach $75,000; insurance, $45,500.

Eaton, who has been for sixty years engaged in the hardware business in this city, leaves $80,000 to the Young Men's Christian Union, upon the condition that a sufficient additional amount shall be raised to leave the institution free of debt. This condition can be readily complied with.

Collision of Editors.

RICHMOND, VA., Dec. 10.—A cowardly affair occurred at Fredericksburg to-day. White, editor of the Semi-Weekly Recorder, assaulted Merchant, editor of the Virginia Star. White struck Merchant several blows with a cowhide. The parties came together with fist blows being interchanged, when they were separated by their friends. The assault was occasioned by a charge made by the Recorder, concerning the editorial conduct of the Star.

The reports received are that from 75 to 100 per cent. of the crop was gathered; average 85 per cent., harvested. Picking will be consummated by the 5th to the 30th of December. The engineer, George Field, was seriously injured by striking a telegraph pole in jumping. The west-bound train will be delayed till after midnight.

JUDICIAL AND LIKE ADVERTISING.

CHARLOTTE OBSERVER.

The practice which confines the advertisement of sheriff's sale, and tax sales to posting at Court House doors and other places, not generally frequented and often obscure, which has long prevailed in North Carolina, is an evil of accumulating magnitude. It involves serious losses to the State, to taxpayers, to defendants in executions for debts, and to judgment creditors, who are left unsatisfied after property is sacrificed for want of sufficient publicity of sale to invite possible bidders.

In sales where orphans and minors are interested it is liable to work gross injustice. Sheriffs and other court officers—not interested in having a change—derive some advantage, perhaps, in preserving the present method. The Observer is at an obvious disadvantage in advocating the publication of such advertisements in newspapers of the largest circulation in the respective localities of sheriffs' and tax sales, because it is so easy to say that this paper and others that may unite in agitating the subject do so under the bias of a special self-interest. But, on the other hand, let the public and let members of the Legislature recollect that opposers of the change are sticklers for the present antiquated practice, which originated in the days when there were no railroads and few or no newspapers, may also be under the bias of a special self-interest—and a bias which does not coincide with considerations of justice and public policy.

The Observer has referred to this subject more than once before. It will refer to it more than once again.

A Rebuke of Blaine.

NEW YORK HERALD.

There are probably not a hundred in the whole Union, of the industrious and producing classes, who would not heartily rejoice if Congress should now adjourn without day before Mr. Blaine begins his speech. The unexpected quiet of the session thus far has drawn expressions of pleasure from the press and people every where, and everybody hopes—though few expect—a continuance of quiet and a session devoted to the legitimate business of Congress.

WASHINGTON GOSSIP.

Sanguine Greenbackers—Army Reorganization.

Baltimore Sun Special.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—The Greenbackers who have been here the last ten days have made a great deal of noise, but have not scared any one. Their leaders, however, profess to be perfectly satisfied with the result of their observations and consultations. They assert that enough Greenback Congressmen-elect have pledged themselves to act independently to make the balance of power in the next House. They talk quite large, and not content with claiming that they will dictate the speaker's talk, of being able to control the entire organization of the House. The Greenbackers who have taken hold of this thing here are probably a little too enthusiastic. The Greenbackers, if they all should act together, have undoubtedly the power to prevent the Democratic majority in the next House doing so close a figure that there will be none to spare, but it is not believed that they can constitute themselves the balance of power. Up to this date very few indeed of the official certificates of the members-elect of the next House have been received at the Clerk's office of the House of Representatives. Judging by the usual delay in the forwarding of certificates by the Executives of the different States, it will be three months from now before half of them are in. But several very experienced political calculators have carefully gone over the election returns in the different States as unofficially given, and after making, as they consider, the most liberal allowances in cases of anticipated contests, and giving to the Republicans all the members yet to be elected from California, they figure up a Democratic majority of one over Republicans and Greenbackers combined. It is undoubtedly getting down very close, but if they are all on hand at the opening, one majority is just as good to secure control as one hundred, and after the organization is effected the good Republican union which the Democrats have had will enable them, if they are so disposed, to increase their majority. But there is really little or no probability that the Greenbackers will unite as a separate and independent organization. To the contrary, opinion is extensively expressed that fully one half of them will go into the Democratic caucus.

ARMY REORGANIZATION.

It is said on what is thought to be good authority that among the recommendations of the joint committee on the army reorganization are the reduction of the army to 20,000 men, exclusive of the signal corps, the consolidation of the artillery and the ordnance corps, of the Commissary General's and Quartermaster General's division; abolition of the staff corps as a distinctive branch; discountenance of the appointment and promotion of officers until the number is reduced; termination with death of present incumbents; Quartermaster General Meigs and Adjutant General Powelson to be retired, not enough of it.

Philadelphia Times Special.

The Republicans, becoming tired of the blue shirt business, and it would be a blessing if the disgusting term was never used again. Of course there are some Republicans who would send troops into the South and continue the old cry, but the better portion of the party is disposed to maintain the peace and enforce the laws.

SECRETARYSHIP OF THE SENATE.

Norfolk Virginian Special.

Ex-Senator William M. Gwin of California is the latest named candidate for secretary of the Senate. Senator Dennis of Maryland is preparing for the race, and Waddell of North Carolina is popular and favorably mentioned in this connection. Of course neither Gwin or any other fossil of that kind stands a ghost of a chance.

THE ELECTORAL PROJECTS.

Baltimore Sun Special.

Senator Edmunds expresses the opinion that he will secure the passage by the Senate of his bill to regulate the counting of the electoral vote, although he is very doubtful of its going through the House. It is said that the snake in the bill is that it practically prevents the House from exercising, in certain contingencies, its constitutional right of electing the President.

STALWARTS DOWN ON HAYES.

NEW YORK HERALD SPECIAL.

There is once more a growing and noticeable feeling among the extreme Republicans against the President. They denounce him with great bitterness in private—say that his remarks on the South were weak-kneed Republican, not to be depended on, and that it is necessary to move forward without him. The plain fact is that they are very much averse to the President's plan of resting with the enforcement of the Federal election laws.

NOTES.

Senator Lamar is said to be preparing a great speech on the Southern question, in which he will answer the charges against his section, and show how the South may be justified in all that has been done to overthrow Republican rule.

Philadelphia Times: The President is reported as saying that the most persistent appeals for the appointment of anybody to the vacant New England Judgeship come from Senators Blaine and Hoar in behalf of Judge Fox, of Maine. The Maine Congressmen continue to think that Attorney General Devens is holding the place for himself.

Norfolk Ledger special: Those who make facts here say that one of the first acts of the Democratic Senate will be to oust Kellogg from his seat as Senator from Louisiana. They also say that Mr. Thurman will be elected President pro tem, so that in the event Hayes and Wheeler may die, we may have a first-class Democratic President.

Monroe Enquirer: A small house owned by W. A. Peninger, but on the lands of his father, Mr. John Peninger, was destroyed by fire, on the 29th ult., together with about 35 bushels of corn. Cause, accidental.

Monroe Enquirer: We learn that Mr. John Coan, the father of Mr. I. G. Coan, who has lived on the land of Mr. G. A. Winchester, in this county for several years is now nearly 98 years old. During the past fall he has picked out as high as 70 pounds of cotton in a day.

The Commissioners of Wayne, as has been published in THE SUN, elected Mr. C. F. R. Konegay, present incumbent, to the County Treasurership, Mr. Jesse Barden, Treasurer elect having failed to give his bond in the required time. But Mr. K. refused to take the position unless by the consent of Mr. B. was still ready to give bond.

The Goldsboro Messenger in its morning for a prominent and highly esteemed citizen, Mr. Herman Weil, Senior member of the firm of H. Weil & Bros., who died last Sunday. Mr. Weil was a native of Stuttgart, Germany, a director in the Bank of New Hanover, a member of the Masonic Fraternity, and formerly a Town Commissioner. His remains will be interred in Baltimore.

We learn by the Fayetteville Gazette that work progresses on the Western railroad. The crosses tie on the graded bed to the "Gulf" are being put in, and every thing is all in readiness for the iron. The bridge across Deep River is nearly completed, under the supervision of chief engineer Morrison, with his corps of efficient assistants, and by the first of next year, at the latest, the cars will be running through to the "Gulf." The extension of the Western railroad is almost assured, under the charter, which carries it to Greensboro, and day the Gazette looks to Randolph to do its part in making such a subscription as will give that county the railway facilities and transportation so greatly needed. Let the road be finished to Matthews' Cross Roads, says our contemporary, and we have little doubt that the means will then be forthcoming to extend it to Tranklinville, on its route to Greensboro. The paramount importance of building the Florence Railroad becomes evident, and in the next General Assembly a bill will probably be introduced, by which the present charter of the Western Railroad may be so amended and amplified as to put it in the power of the road, so soon as the means can be secured to carry out the present unfinished railway system, re-organizing to our benefit, that of all the section through which it passes, and the welfare of the State. In a few days there will be a meeting called of the Directors of the Western Railroad, and the friends of its extension generally, in Fayetteville, and the Gazette believes that the co-operation of the Fayetteville & Florence Railroad Company can be counted upon.
