WILMINGTON.

CAPE FEAR RIPPLES.

Who has seen Jim Heaton lately? Katie Putnam has our Opera House engaged for the 23d and 24th insts. The memorial meeting of the bar was postponed until this forenoon at 10 o'clock.

Three vessels were in line, yesterday evening, waiting their turns on the marine railway. Mr. John Werner, who left, last April, for Paris, returned yesterday, on the New York steamer.

A life-size portrait of De Witt Talmaize is displayed at Kasprowitz's cigar stand. De Witt is very ugly. The City Clerk has been button-holing the delinquent city tax-payers. Nothing like using them gently.

The cotton compress men say times were never so dull in their line at this season of the year as they are now. Four o'clock this afternoon is the time set for the meeting of the County Democratic Executive Committee.

The muddy water in the river at this point, is the only indication we have of the freshet up about Fayetteville. Though passenger travel has fallen off considerably of late, freight has increased to such an extent as to keep the railroad men perfectly busy and happy.

We regret that a raw, inexperienced carrier failed to deliver some papers on the northern route Thursday and Friday. Papers will be delivered promptly hereafter. John Green was lodged in the guard house yesterday at 11 a. m., for committing some violations of the peace and dignity of the city. He is on the City Court docket this morning.

Col. Saunders, editor of the Raleigh Observer, who has been spending several days among his old friends here, leaves us this morning. We are glad to see him in comparatively good health. The unmailable letters in the city post-office, last night, are Maggie J. McCall, care G. A. Emery, New Hampshire, U. S.; J. P. Murray, Schooner Eddie Hecke; Port au Prince, Hayti, and Jas. Swann, Swann's Station, N. C.

Yesterday, Joseph Mowatt, a Scotchman, who escaped from the hospital, while laboring under a temporary aberration of the mind, attracted a crowd in front of the Court House, where he was "cutting up capers." Dr. W. W. Lane, on hearing of the matter, took the unfortunate man back to the hospital, where he is now receiving every attention possible.

CITY DEBT QUESTION.

Proceedings of Last Night's Meeting.

At a meeting of the General Citizens' Committee, the Board of Aldermen and the Board of Audit and Finance, met at the City Hall last night, to receive the report of the sub-committee appointed at the former meeting of the General Committee.

His Honor, Mayor Fishplate was called to the chair, and Capt. Henry Savage was appointed secretary. Mr. Crowley, from the sub-committee, on being requested, read the following recommendation, to-wit:

Your committee beg leave to report that there being no record of the bonded debt of the city, they have had to rely on that prepared and furnished by Henry Savage, Esq., Clerk and Treasurer of the city.

They find that at the commencement of the present administration of this Board of Aldermen, the then Mayor, Hon. John Dawson, with the consent and approval of the Board of Audit and Finance, appropriated the entire amount of taxes as listed in the year 1877, of or upon all real and personal property to the specific payment of bonds and coupons relying upon the other sources of income for the current expenses.

This course has also been followed by his immediate successor, Hon. S. H. Fishplate, and concurred in by the Board of Audit and Finance. From the books of your Clerk and Treasurer, we find disbursed up to 1st instant, viz: Paid for bonds of city, $16,750 00 Coupons, interest and gold premium, 78,746 32

Making a total of $95,496 32 Your committee submit with this report a statement prepared and presented by Mr. Savage to the meeting of citizens held on 3rd instant, which statement clearly placed the entire bonded debt and interest there at $570,550 00, as follows:

Bonds past due, on standing, $95,496 32 W. C. & R. R. Co. (not presented), $1,000 00 City Hall 7 per cent, due January 1st, 1876, 23,050 00 W. C. & R. R. Co. 6 per cent, due February 1st, 1878, 36,000 00 Bonds falling due in 1879, 18 80—Neff bonds, gold, 6 per cent, due 1st Jan., 1879, 16,200 00 W. C. & R. R. Co. 6 per cent, due 1st Feb., 1879, 45,000 00 W. C. & R. R. Co. 6 per cent, due 1st Feb., 1880, 50,000 00

Funds to be provided for, Coupons and interest past due, estimated at, 42,000 00 Total, $208,250 00 Other bonds outstanding, due January 1st, 1882, 8 per cent, currency, 60,400 Funding bonds, due July 1st, 1882, 8 per cent, currency, 4,000 Less unaccounted 10,000 130,800 Funding bonds, due July 1st, 1888, 8 per cent, currency, 23,600 Funding bonds, due July 1st, 1889, 8 per cent, currency, 5,500

And that some action may now be taken in relation to that amount now past due and to mature in the years 1879-80, say $200,000. Your committee would suggest the adoption of the following resolution: Resolved, That the citizens of this city, in public meeting assembled, after due notification through the daily press, do recommend to the Mayor and Board of Aldermen to make application to the General Assembly of the State, at its approaching session, for the passage of an act entitled, "An act to enable the city of Wilmington to pay its present indebtedness, and to provide for its debt maturing in 1879-80."

Resolved, That any person or persons in authority, who shall apply the proceeds of any bond, or bonds, issued as above mentioned, in any other manner, or for any other purpose than that intended by the provisions of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and be liable for all the pains and penalties therefor. Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed by the chairman, to whom shall be given in charge the drafting of the act, and all matters pertaining thereto, until its final passage by both branches of the Legislature of this State.

The above was adopted on motion. On motion, it was resolved to call a meeting of the city tax-payers and bondholders at the city court room on Thursday night next. The meeting then adjourned.

A Citizen Abroad.

While we are all writing and talking up internal improvements, let us do full credit to those who were the pioneers in the movement, and who are now forward in every good word and work to benefit North Carolina. Mr. Henry Nutt has been to Washington, N. C. and the North State Press, of that little port, has some very pleasant things to say of our fellow-citizen. Remarks that paper: "We found Mr. Nutt to be a gentleman of refinement and culture, and of broad and comprehensive views, thoroughly identified with the best interests of North Carolina, and possessing a fund of valuable information. Mr. Nutt is one of the prime movers and advocates of the many improvements of a public nature in and around Wilmington. We are under many obligations to him for his timely suggestions in regard to the future of the immediate section. We only wish that all our citizens had the welfare of this section and the State at large, as nearly at heart, as has Mr. Nutt; it would not be long before Washington would hold up her head and take rank along with the cities of the State."

Lotta To-night.

The captivating Lotta will play in "Musette" this evening at the Opera House. Of the meeting of herself and troupe the North Carolina of Thursday, thus speaks: "To say that the performance at the Opera House last night was an excellent one would scarcely be an adequate expression to its character. There was an immense audience present, and everybody seemed delighted. Miss Lotta was, as usual, bewitching. She captivated her hearers, was vivacious and imparted much of her own animation to the play, which is a very pleasing comedy, and gives her plenty of room for a full display of her versatile talents. She was excellently supported throughout the entertainment, all of the roles being ably assumed. Mr. Ed. Marble as Wm. A. Bokers, was inimitable, and his persuasion of the sly, awkward boy, created much mirth among the audience. Mr. P. H. Anderson as Adalante, the ex-Gypsy Chief, gave an excellent representation of the character allotted to him, and was called before the curtain at the end of the second act. Mr. Clement Bainbridge as Sir Hugh Tracy and Miss Agnes Proctor as Mam, are also worthy of praise. The audience was an enthusiastic one, and gave expression to its appreciation of the performance by frequent and loud applause and by calling the charming Miss Lotta before the curtain and awarding her numerous encores. To-night the company will present the pleasing comedy "La Cigale," and we have no doubt there will be another full house."

The Leaking Schooner.

The Little Giant fire engine was engaged, during yesterday, in pumping the water out of the hold of the leaking schooner Water Line, while a force of hands were busily at work unloading her cargo. The leak is in the centre board box, and is a heavy one, as it took the engine nearly the whole of the day to reduce the water to about one foot in the hold. A large portion of the cargo was unloaded, yesterday, but there is still a great deal to be got. A survey of the cargo will be made by the port wardens, as soon as it is all unloaded. The cargo consists of corn, hay, peas, two pianos, brick, hardware, etc., and nearly all of it is in a badly damaged state. The Water Line will have to be drawn on the marine railway to have her damages repaired.

Suit Against the W. N. C. R.

The most interesting case that engaged the attention of the Court yesterday, was the railroad suit of Mr. L. E. Rice against the W. N. C. R. R. Rice brought suit against this road to recover pay for his services in working a tunnel about two years ago. The suit was compromised yesterday the defendants agreeing to a judgment of $2,950.18 and the costs. The plaintiff accepted the compromise and the case is at an end.

The Mayor's Hour.

"Lemonade Jim," about whose arrest and imprisonment we have informed our readers, was brought up from the cells and put on the stand, and after a due consideration of his case, His Honor bade him to depart. Jim, upon being released, applied for a position on the police force, but he has received no reply to his request.

A Paper for Shoe Heel.

The town of Shoe Heel, in Robeson county, will shortly be made glad by the publication of a newspaper in her midst. Mr. C. T. Willis is to be editor, and the paper is to be called Shoe Heel Progress. It will be a twenty column sheet and will be published monthly. The first number will appear on Monday, 23rd inst. This is a small beginning, but still oaks from little acorns spring.

A Diabolical Deed.

As the freight train, outward bound, of the South Carolina railroad neared Ross Station, on Wednesday night, the engineer saw an object lying across the track, and stopped the train to see what it was. It proved to be a well dressed white man with his throat cut, and who had been put across the track. The body was removed from the track, and citizens of the station notified of the fact.

Wadesboro Herald: One of the prisoners in our county tried to make his escape Sunday evening. He knocked Mr. Thos. Threadgill down. Mr. T. at once fired at him, which no doubt scared him from making any further resistance.

It Pays.

To advertise in THE SUN because 1. The SUN has a very large and constantly increasing circulation. 2. The SUN has a good and steadily growing country circulation. The agents of the paper have been busily at work. 3. The SUN is a well printed paper and advertisements in its columns are attractively presented.

There are other good and sufficient reasons why everybody who desires to reach the public of Eastern North Carolina should advertise in THE SUN; but these are enough for the present. Call at the office, up stairs in the old French building, left hand, head of stair-landing, and see our figures, which we guarantee are low in comparison with those of other papers. With a large circulation THE SUN makes reasonable rates, and it does not purpose increasing these at any time.

A North Carolina Polley.

Centrally located as North Carolina is, with the system of railroads now in operation, it is within her power, by closing up certain uncompleted gaps, to have, at no very distant period, one of the finest and most effective systems of roads on this continent.

Take Greensboro as a point for illustration. With the gap filled in between here and the coal fields, the way is open to Fayetteville and Wilmington, and those cities are brought into connection with the north and south at this place. By making connection with Florence, which could be cheaply and easily done, we would have a line to Charleston which would bring us to that city in a few hours' travel, and give connecting lines running south.

O'HARA'S CONTEST.

Judge Seymour Withholds Decision.

In addition to what was printed in THE SUN yesterday morning concerning O'Hara's tilt before Judge Seymour, we have the following, slightly shortened, from the Tarboro Southern: On Monday (9th inst.) the papers in the case of O'Hara vs. the Edgecombe Canvassing Board were returnable before His Honor, Judge Seymour, at Rocky Mount. The proceeding was what the lawyers call mandamus and its purpose was to compel the defendants to meet the complaint, alleging that they had been rejected by them while sitting as a county canvassing board. The defendants were W. H. Powell, H. L. Leggett, J. L. Coker, Jesse Brake, Kinchen King, John Hous, W. L. Barlow, W. M. Phippen, J. S. Phippen, Roll, Walston, London Vitell, Charles Grant, George W. Wallace, L. W. Reavis, Exum Lewis, and N. B. Bellamy.

W. H. Kitchin and J. E. O'Hara were promptly present. Judge Howard, Capt. Fred. Phillips and W. H. Day appeared for plaintiff and Hon. W. T. Dortch, R. H. Battle, Jr., W. H. Johnston and Spier Whitaker represented the defendants. Trevelyan Hall was crowded, mostly with the "colored" roster, who had come from far and near to see the man of his color fight his way into the National Halls of legislation. Such was their interest that the Court was compelled to appoint an officer, constable W. T. Bryan, to keep the throng from crowding the Court and lawyers into a corner.

Capt. Phillips first went to the bar and opened the case for the plaintiff, reading the complaint, alleging that on account of action of the board plaintiff was deprived of 1,268 votes and Kitchin of 351. Mr. Johnston, at the request of the court, then read the answer of defendants, asserting that their action was based on legal advice obtained from two respectable attorneys in Tarboro, who were present during the reading of the answer, and that the information on which the votes were rejected: The judges of election were not sworn in at precinct 3, township No. 1; at township No. 2, judges were sworn by a person not a Justice of the Peace, but was only a member of the Inferior Court and the returns didn't show where the election was held; at township No. 3, judges were sworn by the return court, who was not a Justice; at precinct 1, township No. 7, judges were sworn by a Nash county Justice and returns don't show election was held in 1878; at precinct 2, township No. 7, returns were defective; at township No. 21, only one judge was sworn and the number of votes was stated in figures, not words; township No. 12, returns were not signed by two judges and by one of these with his mark.

Capt. Phillips then proceeded to address the court in a learned legal argument, citing decisions from the Western States, Florida and the Granville case, decided by our own Supreme Court, to show that mandamus would lie to compel a re-count. Judge Howard followed Mr. Phillips, on the same side.

Mr. Battle, for defendants, made a clear, concise, cut argument, tending to show that mandamus would not lie, that the Canvassing Board was functus officio. No fraud was alleged, he said, in the complaint, and answer admitted an election—the question was simply whether the election was duly and legally held. After a man goes up from the precinct with the returns, and forms one of the canvassers, his official life is of a day, and when he has performed his duty, he is dead in office forever. (12 Barlow's N. Y. Reports—People vs. Supervisors of Greene, reaffirmed in 35 N. Y. Reports.)

If it be that O'Hara is not a citizen of the United States, then it is contended by the plaintiff that he is not a citizen of the same side.

Mr. Johnson followed on same side, disclaimed fraud. His honor stated that he did not think the canvassers had a right to reject the votes, for reasons stated in the answer, that the only question about which he had a doubt was his power to make further order.

Judge Howard closed for the plaintiff, in a lucid and forceful way, certainly as strong as anybody could have made it. He answered Mr. Blaine, showing the New York case was city council and ours were commissioners, and he began to pile Ossa on Pelion of authorities, and claimed that whatever the New York statute resembled, whether the New York statute resembled ours or not, the New Carolina Supreme Court had decided in favor of the mandamus.

His Honor stated that if the facts could be gathered the elector could not be deposed of his franchise, all the authorities construed this matter liberally. His Honor said he had the power to issue the mandamus; that no blame attached to the Canvassing Board, though informality could not stifle the expression of popular will—the question was whether he had power to make further order, and this question he would take under advisement.

STATE CANVASSING BOARD.

Mr. Battle called up the case of O'Hara against the State Canvassing Board, stating that it was agreed the duties were ministerial, the question was whether the judiciary has a right to interfere with the discretionary power of State Canvassers to adjourn, i. e. whether they should obey the legislative or judiciary branch of the Government—cite Lawrence vs. Knight, 67 Brewster's Reports and Perry vs. Whitaker, 71 N. C. Reports.

His Honor said in this case he considered the Edgecombe Board, parties defendant. Mr. Battle contended the statute only permitted the Board to adjourn "not to exceed 20 days."

Judge Howard read from McCarry on elections to show that the statute was directory and not mandatory and they could adjourn again and again, that the object of the restraining order was to help the Board not to hamper it. The Judge then disclaimed any imputation of fraud on the part of Edgecombe, and His Honor also took this question under advisement.
