HORSE COLLARS,

Mr. C. T. Wills, of Lynchburg, was dangerously wounded on Friday, by the accidental discharge or Mr. Shreve.

An affray occurred at Centreville on Saturday last, between Messrs. Lynn Molar (constable), Jack Barns and Makely, in which Molar was shot by Lynn, the shot destroying one of his eyes, and, it is thought, wounded him mortally. The Lynchburg Republican of Wednesday says, the through mail car from Washington to Richmond, was robbed yesterday of two pouches containing South Carolina matter. The pouches depot, and there rifled. No clue to the robbers has yet been obtained. The National Bank at Fredericksburg is in the building of the Farmers' Bank. It is expected to open in ten days. Mr. William Ware and Mr. J. M. Wallace are the cashier and book keeper. The Herald says of these gentlemen, they returned every dollar and every book of the .old Farmers' in perfect condition at the close of the war. The Leesburg Mirror of Thursday says We last week noticed the arrest, by military au thority, of Wm. B. Downey, Esq., Commonwealth's Attorney for the county of Loudoun. This week we are enabled to state that after enjoying the hospitalities of an improvised United States barracks, from Tuesday morning until Sat-

A young man named Hugh Verden, while carclessly handling a pistol, at the residence of his grandfather, George Dulty, Esq., in Wheeling, on Sunday evening, met with a sad accident. He was playing with a pistol which he thought was not loaded, when its contents were discharged. The ball entered his left foot, producing a painful but not serious wound. A physician was summoned and the ball extracted. o'clock, about 71 o'clock, him nearly unconcious, and who was attracted by the running off of three negro men from the corner (where Mr. Milburn was found), and two others walking after them, reproaching them for running. Mr. Milburn is confined to his bed. An interesting and elaborate argument was delivered Friday before Judge Underwood, by General Millson, on the question of the justice and legality of requiring parties whose property had been libeled, but afterwards discharged from

In his argument General Millson claimed that it was not the intention of the Government to exhibit a munificence in restoring property to the amount of millions of dollars, and an avarice in requiring those who had been pardoned to pay over to petty officers dollars and cents, as a remuneration for unnecessary prosecution of cases. The District Attorney entered into no argument in answer to the remarks of General Millson, but submitted the question to the Court, asking for a delay in the decision until the 27th instant, which was granted, The Alexandria Gazette of the 15th says :-A fire broke out at ten o'clock this morning in the paint room of the government wheelright and carpenter's shop-a large frame building on Fairfax street, between Queen and Princess streets. The Friendship and Sun fire companies, and the government steam fire company, were soon on the spot and at work, but owing to the scarcity of water and the bad condition of the city companies' hose, the flames were not arrested until a portion of the government shop and two adjoining buildings on the north-a three story brick and a large frame-both belonging to the estate of W. H. Devaughn, deceased, were almost entirely destroyed. The amount of loss sustained by the government was about two thousand dollars, and that of the Devaughn estate about three thousand dollars, on which there was no insur-

Jay" Judge Baker, at the opening of the Circuit Court in Norfolk on Wednesday, after calling their attention to the duties devolving upon them, as the grand inquest of the county, to inquire into all crimes and violations of law, and present persons suspected for trial, moralized to some extent upon the growing disposition on the part of the people to disregard all law, and adopt the RETAIL ideas of manifest destiny, which, if not restrained, would soon lead us back to the times when might was right. He concluded by referring to our political affairs, and the condition in which we are placed by the happy termination of a desolating war. The South had accepted the conditions imposed upon it by the North, willingly and in good faith, and if the North would but act magnanimously, and the South be true to its pledges, he could see no obstacle to the happy restoration of amicable relations between the sections. He counseled the jury and all others to work for this paramount object.

The Secretary of the Treasury has refunded to a party in the South a gold payment to the amount of fifteen thousand dollars, being the favor of a draft drawn on a London banking house, and payable to a party in the South, which WHITE WASH AND was captured by the United States forces and the amount collected. The Mobile Register says there are serious troubles in the cotton bureau-ocracy. A leading official is said to be under arrest by order of the military, and others are being locked up for the same purpose. The air has been thick with reports of immense speculations in cotton and deficits in the number of Government bales are to a very heavy extent.
