THE DAILY DISPATCH.

WILMINGTON, N. C., JANUARY 18, 1867.

The New York Herald has submitted proposition for the settlement of the issue in regard to the treatment of the Southern States, which will probably be the basis of a settlement, if any is ever arrived at by

It ridicules the President's policy, and the idea on which it is founded, taking the position that by the fact, that the Confederate States were recognized by the great powers of Western Europe as belligerents, and were also recognized as such, by the Federal government which entered into treaties with the Confederate officials, for the exchange of prisoners, the theory that the war for independence was only a rebellion, a riot, like an election disturbance or other popular out break, during which the authority of the general government was unimpaired, falls to the ground, and with it the assumption that the rights and duties of the States are unchanged and uninterrupted. It contends that the States of the South after the war was ended in their defeat, held only a similar position to that of any subjugated and conquered territory, whether wrested from a forsign hostile power or not; and holds that those States stand subject to the terms of restoration, which the United States of the War may think fit to impose, being invested with no rights save those with which they are clothed by the legitimate authorities of the Federal Union. Such the Herald conceives to be the power of Congress, the aw making authority of the government.

over this question. But it calls atfention to that usage in the laws of nations, which forces on the con-

any foreign power which may be destroyed and absorbed, and reminds the country that the Southern States, as members of the Union, each in its State capacity, before the ranging from ten to forty or fifty millions, more or less, for each State, and that those debts by each of the States concerned, are now held as binding on them, and that the Federal government, by destroying those States, must assume their debts and pay them when due; for the rights, powers and obligations of the conqueror go together and cannot be separated.

In view of this the Herald argues that the question resolves itself into an inquiry as to sume to act on what it claims as its rights did pay a price for that assassination. in the premises, and shoulder this burden amounting to two or three hundred millions of money: or partially adopting President Jourson's theory, insist only upon the right of Congress to prescribe the terms of reconstruction and restoration.

The Herald inclines to this last alternative; and suggests that Congress, holding the States now represented to be the government, without any regard for the pretended that of those already represented in Congress and enjoying the full privileges of government only three-fourths shall be necessary to the adoption of the Howard Amendment. This, it thinks, will settle the matter, and then the Southern States can be admitted into the Union with the Howard Amend for preparing and using this medicine, in a sealed | ment incorporated into the fundamental law of the land, as newly created organizations.

The Herald has the candor to frankly intimate its doubt as to what the Supreme Court would do under these circumstances, but remarks that at any rate such a settlement could not be upset till after the Presidential election which will settle everything perma-pursued by Congress, as a resolution instruct. | lution is not a specific but a general charge ing the Judiciary Committee to inform Congress what necessary legislation is needed to make a ratification of three-fourths of the represented States sufficient to establish the charges against the President of the United Constitutional Amendment as a part of the law of the land.

We must confess, that the South, in accordance with the theory on which it acted, and to which it has appealed as a vindication of the secession movement has no right to ask any more than this. Congress has no right to attempt to force upon the Southern States a ratification of a measure intended for their own humiliation; but as the representative of the revolutionized government by which we were defeated, respected at the Crop, we would beg leave to say that the present | North as the properly constituted legislative authority of a government which acknowl edges no Constitution but the will of a majority, Congress is clearly entitled to misdemeanor, as the Chair certainly thinks pursue this course, and we have no right to question its wisdom or the propriety of its

> our Southern theory, the States rights doctrine; for we had a right to secode, established a separate national existence, had that national existence overthrown by a foreign power, and fell into the hands of the conqueror and depend upon his will for all

on his own terms and we have no right to

When the responsibility of the Constitutional Amendment is assumed by the North and we are not asked to ratify it our opposition to the measure ends.

But when Congress takes the position ina revolution has been worked which has fully as the rebels did theirs?" destroyed the old Constitution, and reveals the fact that instead of a Federal Republican Democracy an Elective Mobocracy has been established in the United States.

The President Charged in Congress with the Assassination of Lincoln.

In the House of Representatives on Monday the following resolution, offered by Mr. Loan, and afterwards by Mr. Kelso, came up :

A page of Mr. Loan's manuscript was sent to the Clerk's desk and read, as follows: The crime (meaning the assassination of first and second class allowance in whole or light is used, than any other lamp invented, Mr. Lincoln) was committed. The Speaker remarked, that the speech being read from manuscript, it had not been taken down by the reporters.

This resolution makes a general charge of high crimes and misdemeanors, without specifying particularly what the high crimes and misdemeanors are. The resolution is now open for debate. If a member, in debating it, charges that the President was an accomplice in the assassination of Abraham Lincoln, that is certainly in order both under the Constitution and under the rules of the House, and for this reason: If it were not, then if any member charged the President with treason he could not state the grounds on which he charged him with treason. His point was that the President of the United States could be put on trial only by a solemn form of impeachment, and not on a resolution declaring simply, as this did, that it was the duty of the House to inaugurate such proceedings, but before that was done such charges could not be made in debate against the President.

The Speaker. That would be a good point of order in the Senate when trying specific charges made by the House of Representatives. DR. HAYES' OPINION OF THE B. D. SEA-FOWL GUANO.

NALYSES OF THIS GUANO, MADE IN A the way of learning the proportions of the gation to furnish any more of the manuscript active substances present, and their mode of changing in composition, show this Guano to be admirably adapted to the great staples of agricultural production.

The organic part consists of the excrement of fowls, organic and soluble salts of ammonia, animal matter in a state of decay, with oily and fibrous substances, and humus. These afford about 4 per cent of ammonia. The soluble part contains phosphates of various bases, equal to about sixteen per cent of bone phosphate of lime; while the whole phosphates present amount to 44 per cent, counted as bone hosphate of lime. Sulphates, chlorides, and crenates of alkaline bases, make up the remaining parts of this Guathe soil, and become assimilated by the crop .-This Guano has also a fermentative power, and will not only induce this action, but it will excite the humates in the soil to render up any ammonia they contain. It will be seen that phosphoric ucid, equal to about sixteen per cent of bone phosphate of lime, dissolves freely in water, and that the forty four per cent, of bone phosphate is all soluble, moisture and time being allowed. With these phosphates crime or misdemeanor." Another section of there will be about twelve per cent, of organic compounds, affording four per cent. of pure ammonia, apart from that obtained from humic compounds These are proportions which experience has demonstrated as forming a well-bal-Monday last the following resolution was anced Guano, of special value in cotton cultiva-

It cannot be used in consective seasons, as the B. D. Sea-Fowl Guano can be, as the latter leaves fer-tilizing matter in the soil each time it is applied, and thus adds permanent value to the land.

.The exact balance found between the soluble phosphates, of different bases, and the ammonia producers, as well as the condition of the less soluble phosphates, is a most important feature in this Guano, and one which places it by the side of Peruvian Guano.
