CLIPPINGS.

In Brussels, Belgium, and in many German cities, small mirrors are placed outside the windows of the private houses, by which the lady inmates are able to see, without looking out, those passing by in the street below, the figures being reflected in the glass. A visitor is seen by the same means when he appears at the door, and "at home" or "not at home" is often thus determined upon.

A Charleston newspaper, not Radical, refutes the foolish story current in Democratic journals that General Sickles, on being requested by a conductor of a street car to stop smoking, as it was in contravention of the published rules, told him to consider the rules suspended for a half hour, and continued puffing his cigar.

Officers of the engineer corps will tell you that, to breach a fortress, the balls of a gun must always strike the same spot. This law of ballistics is likewise that of advertisements. It is by successive and incessantly repeated attacks that they penetrate into the most reluctant brains. For instance, you will read the advertisement of "Dunbar's Revalenta" for a whole month without paying any attention to it.

At the end of that time the very importunity of the advertisement will be a motive for you to give it some attention.

The recent course of Mr. Johnson is accounted for by a correspondent of a Southern paper as being designed to influence the fall elections. That it will, but in the contrary way from the one anticipated by Mr. Johnson. The canvass in Ohio was dragging sleepily, and it required something like the removal of Stanton and Sheridan—one her favorite son—to waken the Republicans up to the proper degree of vigor and exertion. Thanks to Mr. Johnson the worst point of danger is passed, and all the Republicans will from now on fight with the zeal which the principles involved in the contest demand. A similar effect will be produced in Pennsylvania and other States.

CARBOLIC ACID FOR EXTERMINATING MOSQUITOES.—A correspondent writes that carbolic acid has recently been successfully used near Balway, N. Y., for the extermination of Mosquitoes and flies. A small piece of cloth, saturated with the acid, was hung up in a room, and in two hours the flies had entirely disappeared. In the evening the acid was tried in the kitchen where the mosquitoes were very troublesome, with like success.

Ward Organization.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Aug. 27th, 1867. EDITOR DAILY POST.—Seeing the great interest that exists in all the Republicans in the Southern States, and especially here in Wilmington, for a complete public political organization, in order that when the time shall arrive we may be fully prepared for any emergency, I desire to be included in the Post, the acknowledged organ of the Republican party in North Carolina, to submit briefly a few suggestions, which are so plain that all may understand their meaning. First. Each Ward should have a Campaign Club, the same as the first Ward has.

Second. They should meet once a week, and at each meeting, remarks on the political questions of the day should be made by different members.

Third. The Preamble of the Club should invite all Republicans to come forward and unite themselves.

Fourth. There should be a Committee on Finance and an Executive Committee.

Each Ward will make its own nominations for Aldermen, &c., and when the City Nominating Convention is called, it is done through committees from each Ward, and then the Ward is invited to send its delegates, said delegates to be elected at meetings of the Club, properly called by the officers thereof.

Secret orders, of which there are too many, are not the mediums through which the public are to be represented, or a candidate brought forward. Republican Clubs (as we have in the North), with the doors open to all who favor the cause, are the methods by which the secret orders; consequently, when you do a thing for the public, he or they can take an appeal, from the fact that it is not the people, but a "clique."

You see, fellow-citizens, the necessity for such an organization in each of your Wards. Now go to work! I suggest, in conclusion, that when the Wards are fully organized, (which I hope will be soon), that they will use their every effort to have the elections conducted on a better system than that which heretofore was the custom in Wilmington. Each voter should deposit his vote in his Ward. Each Ward should have a poll in the central part thereof. By accepting these hints, you may look for a quiet election. A. H. GALLOWAY.
