There is a curious story in Houston, Texas, of an indignant individual who kicked the cover off the coffin the other day as they were on the way to the "dismal grave." It seems that he was foolish enough to suppose that he wasn't quite dead, and hence the catastrophe. After some dispute with the pall-bearers, whether he was in his "right sense and mind," he was brought back and put to bed, with a fair chance of recovery.

A Dominion humorist gets off the following: "The man who left his name as McGeorghean O'Flaherty, from the Western Division, who is about seven feet in length, and drunk accordingly, and who called at our office on Monday, accompanied by an axe handle, to ask if the editor was in, is respectfully informed that the editor is not in the city, and is not expected to return within the memory of the oldest inhabitant."

An usher in an English school, seeing one of the boys with a thick lump in one of his cheeks, asked "Quid est hoc?" to which the lad, spattering out a large piece of chewing tobacco, replied "Hoc est quid," for which repartee the master forgave him.

Some new phrase for what is impossible must be substituted for "catching a white blackbird." Such an anomaly has actually been caught and caged in Cecil county, Maryland.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Sheridan's reception by the Union League was a showy affair. Sheridan said: I have scarcely language to express my very great appreciation I have for your very warm and hearty welcome; I only hope that I may hereafter be able to derive the same approval in my acts; I only know that heretofore, and I believe hereafter, I shall never by any act of mine attempt to make rebellion, honorable. (Loud Applause.) Rebellion is a crime, and it shall not be made honorable. (Cheers.) Gentlemen I thank you.

WASHINGTON DESPATCHES.

(Special Despatch to the Baltimore Sun.)

Pacific Railroad Directors—The Canvass in Ohio—Democratic Prospects—The President's Riley Letter—Interesting Personal Matters, &c.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—The President has appointed the following gentlemen as government directors of the Union Pacific Railroad: Jesse L. Williams, of Indiana; Timothy J. Carter, of Illinois; James S. Rollins, of Missouri; and George Ashman, of Massachusetts.

A letter received here to-day from a prominent citizen of Ohio, who has just finished a tour over that State, contains the following paragraph: "I find the Democracy are very sanguine of Thurman's election, and are taking all the bets they can get, while the Republicans are claiming ten thousand majority. I think there are strong grounds for hope, but I fear for success so far as the State ticket is concerned, though I am of opinion that the Democrats will carry the Legislature, and the negro suffrage constitutional amendment is certain to be rejected."

Several journals have animadverted upon the letter of President Johnson, recommending Frank Riley to the favorable consideration of Collector Smythe, as one suitable for appointment in the New York custom house. The letter is dated in December last, and was found upon the person of Riley when he was arrested in Chicago, a few days ago, on the charge of breaking open a safe in Louisville and taking therefrom $46,000.

It is learned upon inquiry of the President that the Riley to whom the letter was given was known to Mr. Johnson, whilst the latter was Governor of Tennessee; that whilst Nashville was invested by the rebel army Riley several times performed hazardous service by passing the lines of the Confederates, and returning with most important information for federal officers. On one occasion Riley undertook this service when all others refused to attempt it. He came to the White House last December, needy, and asked assistance, and the letter above mentioned was given him.

General Slocum, of New York, and General Forrest, late of the Confederate army, were among the arrivals in this city yesterday.

The latter left last evening for the South.

The Governor of Kansas has sent a letter to General Hancock, written upon the announcement that the latter had been relieved of the command of the Department of the Missouri, and is a very complimentary testimonial of the appreciation and services of the General in the West. DATA.

Information has been received here of the death, from yellow fever, at New Orleans, of Brothers Urban and Savinian, prominent members of the order of Christian Brothers. Both these brothers were well known in the Catholic communities of this District and Maryland.

The latter brother was, until very recently, sub-director of the Rockville College at Ellicott city, Md.

Pennsylvania.

General Dawson, ex-member of Congress from Pennsylvania, had a long interview with A. J. yesterday. It is evident that the political situation in the Keystone State is desperate, from a Democratic standpoint, or the old hunkers would not be obliged to observe the fourth commandment by communing with his Accidenty on the Sabbath.

General Scott's Will.

NEW YORK, September 29.—Gen. Scott's will, just probated, bequeaths all his property to his daughter, the wife of Colonel Scott; his Pulaski sword to the West Point Academy, and his sword, worn in Mexico, to his grandson, Winfield Scott Hoyt.

ANNAPOLIS, September 28.

The Naval School.

The subjoined is a list of cadets admitted into the Naval Academy on probation since my last writing, they having passed a satisfactory examination before the academic board: Chauncey Thomas, Jr., Pennsylvania; William P. Elliott, Iowa; Charles Ferrell, Kentucky; Jeremiah C. Burnett, Indiana; William E. Sewell, New York; George A. Vail, New York; Julian H. Brown, Maine; Edward C. Tittman, Missouri, and William M. Harper, Ohio.

The United States ship Savannah, one of the vessels recently returned from the summer cruise of midshipmen, left her moorings at the Naval Academy this morning for Norfolk, in tow of the United States steamers Mercury and Phlox, where she will remain for the present.

In Caswell county, North Carolina, during the war, a loyal resident, whilst escaping from the enemy's lines to ours, where he afterward did good service, took without leave, one night, a piece of bacon for subsistence on the march. When he returned home after the war was supposed to be over, he was arrested, tried on the charge of burglary, and sentenced to be hung, and to pay the costs.

While he was awaiting trial, and pending the execution of the sentence, the prisoner was chained inside of an iron cage and
