A WIFE'S DEVOTION.

The Story of an Old Settler in New Zealand.

The wife of a missionary traveling with her husband in New Zealand, writing of her journey through the country says: We found, living in a log hut, a white man, old, gray-headed, with his wife, a native, and old like himself, but oh, how frightfully hideous and ugly. All her flesh seemed to have dried up, and her wrinkled skin hung in loose folds about her person; her face was all disfigured with lines of tattooing, and her eyes all bloodshot and bearded with the long effects of the wood fires she cooked over.

"After a week's trial of the stuff he had sent me, and mine being no great deal better, she determined to take me to him, and so she put me in her canoe, and then carried me twenty miles on her back—aye, I tell ye, every foot of the way; and I was there well nigh two months in a little hut she built me herself outside the town; and every week she went backward and forward between here and there laden with the week's provisions. At length I got well and came back with her home; and ever since then she has been, aye, and is now, beautiful in my eyes; letting alone she has twice saved my life from the niggers of the Ngatiwais, and once from drowning."

See Sickness and Profanity.

See sickness is a sad leveller, to which the strongest minds succumb, leaving nothing but the desire to touch terra firma again. An eminent dramatic artist, who has recently made a most successful tour to California, returned east by steamer. Scarcely had the ship got out of sight of land before the thespian was laid by the heels with mal de mer.

Still Dreaming of Rebellion.

General Ord has about as frisky and irresponsible a set of rebels to deal with in Mississippi as can be found outside of Tennessee. The heated action of the day, when over is often continued in the dreams of the sleeper. The rebels in his district are still "fondly dreaming" of their old devilry. We published yesterday an effusion from the sedition and insolent McCordie. The editor of the Brandon Republican is endeavoring to vie with McCordie. He says in his last issue:

Impeachment.

Hon. James F. Wilson, of Iowa, chairman of the House Committee on the Judiciary is prepared to offer a majority report against impeachment. He does not find the evidence required by the Constitution. It is understood that there will be three minority reports in favor of impeachment.

Artificial Flowers.

A pretty business is that of artificial flower making. I have been watching this afternoon the operations in that line, of five hundred French maidens, whose fingers seem to move as quickly as the loom through the weaver's shuttle. The beauty of many of these girls is not to be described in any ordinary terms, whose business is to imitate—and wonderful is their success—the flowers of nature. In one department the glories were being made out of feathers and insects I repeat the word insects—and the effect of the completed work was truly magical.

J. Busby Agnew

Judge Agnew has delivered an opinion before the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania upon the subject of colored people riding in the cars. We call it an opinion but inasmuch as recent legislation declares it an offence for railway companies to draw a distinction between passengers on account of race or color, we can look upon this long and windy discourse as merely a political document, written for the purpose of party capital. Of what party need we say. Again the Democracy puts in its claim or being the greatest misnomer of the age.

Mr. Busby has answered this learned Judge in so complete a manner that we may be excused from following up the subject. We refer the anxious inquirer to that philosopher's searching examination of the Hamdiah Jebeth problem. But let us only for a second consider this remark of Judge Agnew's: "If a negro take his seat beside a white man, or his wife, or daughter, the law cannot repress the anger or conquer the aversion which men will feel." Perhaps not. And this aversion is consistent and thorough, as everybody knows. Witness the few mulattoes who exist. Other mulattoes we suppose continue to be born every year. Nothing more it required to prove with what horror the black is regarded by the white race.

From New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 20.—At a meeting of the Council last night, stamping city issues of the denomination of $10 and $20, the notes to bear an interest of 7-10 from date, and stamping and cutting $5 and 50 cent bills was proposed. The following important order has been issued by General Mower: HEAD QRS. 5TH MIL. DIST., NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 20, 1867.

From New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Wm. N. McIntire, one of the Mayoralty candidates of the Democratic Union Convention, fired a revolver into a crowd, for which he was taken to the Tombs. The Union Democracy have nominated John H. Anthony. Arrived, the Arizona from Panama, with one hundred and eighty thousand dollars in treasure. The American ship Asia was wrecked near Cape Horn. Revolts continue in Peru. The Spanish government has recalled the Admiral and the greater portion of the Pacific squadron.

DEATH OF A WIFE OF THE SULTAN SELIM.

The fourth wife of Selim III died on Monday last at palace tradition declares, the extreme old age of one hundred and thirty. But this is most likely an exaggeration of at least thirty years, as Selim only reached the throne in 1789, and married the deceased when young. She must, however, have been close upon a hundred, and thus witnessed the checkered events of no fewer than five reigns—from Suwarrov's butchery at Ismail to the safe return of Abdul Aziz from Frangistan. She was buried with great pomp by the holy precincts of Evoub.

Reconstruction Expense.

Gen. Canby reports the expense of reconstruction in the 2d Military District to be as follows: Expenditures to Oct. 21, $54,803 87. The outstanding liabilities will exceed $194,803 87, the balance of appropriation now on hand.

To Return.

The American Missionaries and native Christian converts who have been exiled are permitted to return to Egypt. Japan has also modified its action in the same manner. Thus freedom goes marching on.

S. T.—1608—X.

The language of nature and experience demonstrates that whoever would enjoy the pleasures of food—the beauties of landscapes—the joys of companionship—the richness of literature—the honors of station and renown—must preserve their health. The stomach is the receptacle of all nourishment, and the fountain from which all parts of the body derive sustenance. The effect of foul injurious food entering the stomach, is to derange the digestive organs and produce headache, loss of appetite, unrefreshed sleep, fœtid breath, low spirits, feverish burnings, constipation, inability to perform any mental or physical duty, &c., and are the symptoms of that horrid disease

DRAKE'S PLANTATION BITTERS.

They act with unerring power, and are taken with the pleasure of a beverage. They perfect the most wonderful cure for Dyspepsia, Nervous Affections, Loss of Appetite, Intermittent Fevers, Diarrhoea, Stomachic Disorders, Headache, Fever and Ague, Weakness, Menstrual Derangement, &c. As a morning appetizer and after dinner tonic, they should be every family. They are a delightful exhilarating stimulant, without any subsequent stupefying reaction.

IMPORTANT CERTIFICATE.

ROCHESTER, December 23rd, 1861. Messrs. P. H. DRAKE & Co.—I have suffered terribly with Dyspepsia for three or four years, and tried many remedies without effect. I had to abandon my profession, and suffer daily from everything I ate. I have now tried the Plantation Bitters—they helped me—I continued their use, and am now nearly a well man. I know of several similar cases. REV. J. S. CATLIN.

CASCARILLA BARK

Was known and used in Germany for Dyspepsia, Chronic Diarrhoea, Colic, Dysentery, and Diseases of the Stomach and Bowels, as early as 1690

DANDELION.

For Inflammation of the Liver and Spleen in Dropsical Affections and Biliary Secretions, or Obstructions of the Abdominal Viscera.

CALISAYA; OR KING'S BARK.

Was unknown to civilization until the middle of the 17th century. Humboldt makes favorable mention of the febrifuge qualities of this article as an Antidote Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fevers, &c. It is an extensive South American travels. The Countess, wife of the Viceroy of Peru, having experienced the beneficial effects of the Bark, sent it to Europe in 1640. It was used by the Jesuits for the crismus san of its weight in silver and thus called King's Bark.

S. T.—1860—X.

Another ingredient of remarkable and wonderful virtue used in the preparation of these Bitters, is a native of Brazil, and is called St. Croix's Bark. It is a native of Brazil, and is used to the commerce of the world. A Spanish writer says: "It never fails to relieve nervous tremor, weakness, disturbed sleep, &c., and that it is used with great effect by the Brazilians, Spanish and Peruvian ladies to heighten their color and beauty. It imparts cheerfulness to the disposition, vigor to the appetite, and brilliancy to the complexion."

ST. CROIX RUM.

The tonic properties of St. Croix Rum, and its powerful invigorating effects, have been long known to the physicians of our country. Dr. J. B. Allen, in his Chill Fevers, engaged by the change of water and diet of travelers, particularly upon western rivers, are prevented and cured by the Plantation Bitters. They are also reliable to prevent sea sickness.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

PHILADELPHIA, 1st month, 16th day, 1862. "ESTIMED FRIEND.—Will thou send me another dozen of thy Bitters? Nothing has proven so beneficial to my invalid wife or myself, as the Plantation Bitters."

ISAAC HOWLAND. "The secret of the immense sale of the Plantation Bitters, is their guaranteed purity.—The St. Croix Rum, and every article used, is warranted perfectly pure, and the money will be returned if not as represented. The Plantation Bitters are put up in unique quart bottles, and sold by respectable Druggists, Grocers, Hotels and Restaurants throughout the world. Be particular that every bottle bears the fac simile of the Proprietor's signature. P. H. DRAKE & CO. 21 Park Row, New York.
