ST. PETERS To-NIGHT.—It has been said "see Naples and die"; the same could as well be said of the grand appearance which St.

Madam Octavia Walton Le Vert, a lady of Mobile, and one of the most talented of our Southern women, about ten years ago spent two years in Europe. Upon her return to this country she gave to her countrymen two volumes of travels, one of which contains an account of the Holy Week in Rome, and from whose account of the ceremonies on Easter night we now quote. She

At sunset we drove in an open barouche to St. Peters', land stopped just within the colonnades. An immense concourse of people, almost equal to the throng of the morning, was assembled in the Piazza. The carriages were drawn up in lines precisely as upon our race-courses in America. The mounted police, with drawn sabres, kept order over the movements of the crowd. A hoarse murmer, like the sound of a distant cataract, rose up from the dense mass of human beings. As twilight melted into darkness, along the front of the church, sprang up innumerable gleaming lights, uatil frieze, column, cornice, and pillar, were all traced out in fire. This was the "silver" illumination. We gazed upon this for some sime, in wonder and admiration, when the great bell of St. Peter's tolled the hour of eight. At the first stroke a meteor, as though from the sky above, darted to the summit of the dome, and fixed itself upon the top of the cross; then as quick as thought, swift as electricity, thousands and thousands of blazing fires flashed over the noble structure, along the graceful colonnades, around the statues, and beneath the arches. The waters of the fountains, catching the vivid radiance, fell like drops of liquid gold into the marble basins. Glorious was the spectacle-a perfect architecture was all revealed in glittering light. A slight wind caused the fires to waver to and fro, as though they were stars which had fallen from their sphere above, and were now trembling and fluttering in their new abode.

For hours we-continued gazing upon this last illumination, styled the "golden;" then slowly disentangling our carriage from the multitudes around it, we wended our way to another and more giowing revelation of its wondrous grandeur. All around was deep darkness, save the dome of fire, which absolutely appeared built in the heavens. Oh! it was a radiant mystery wildly beautiful .--Like a gorgeous dream, it seemed as though each moment it would vanish from our sight. Just above the luminous dome, the evening star was shining in the clear sky, almost eclipsed by the brilliant blaze be-

Most reluctantly did we leave the Pincian hill, and look our last upon the grand cathedral. Long after the midnight, I stole gently from my chamber, and climbed a terrace above our hotel, whence I could still behold the "temple of fire." Not one light was extinguished, and thus it blazed and glowed until morning came.

Headley says of this illumination that it requires six hundred men to accomplish it, and as the ascent of the dome is a very perilous undertaking, they all confess and receive absolution, before they ascend.

Some idea may be formed of the size of the edifice, when it is said that half a dozen Trinity churches could be piled one upon another within its body, and the topmos Trinity would hardly touch the walls of the dome of St. Peter's.

On the occasion of the illumination one million lights are visible at the same mo-

EASTER.—This is the day upon which the Resurection of Christ is celebrated throughof which the sermon and fasting and penance and prayer of the forty days has been ended, and where the joy of the known Resurrection fills all hearts.

It has been definitely ascertained and settled upon that this day is the actual anniversary of that event, as near indeed as the fort. astronomical calculations of the year will allow it, and therefore it is sure that our Lord rose from the earth on this day, just one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight

The word Easter is probably derived from the old Teutonic feast of oster or osten which signifies rising, as all nature arises renewed in the spring. An old heathen feast was formerly held on this day, but it gave way to the new order of religious worship .-Easter-fires, Easter-eggs and many other customs and superstitions have all been derived from this old feast, which, as the celebration of the resurrection of nature, has been very appropriately succeeded by that which represents the Resurrection of nature's Lord.

The Roman Catholic and Protestant Episcopal churches of this city will not be behind others in their commemoration of the event. Yesterday scores of fair ladies, escorted by gallant gents.' bearing in their arms huge baskets and pruning knives left for the woods. Nature was then shorn of her beauties and made to lend her tribute to greet the Glory of her Lord. The churches of these denominations will all be adorned to-day with the most beautiful of our Spring flowers.

QUARANTINE ORDERS .-- General Canby has just issued, from Charleston, General Orders, relative to the quarantine of the different ports in this District. They are very nearly, if not exactly, similar to those in force last summer, and are to go into effect on the first of next month, (May.)

The two following paragraphs of this order contain all that is of general interest, the others being merely certain instructions for enforcing the quarantine:

All vessels coming directly or indirectly from any place where cholera, yellow fever, ship fever (so-called), or any other infectious diseases existed at the time of their departure, or which shall have touched at any such place, and proceeded thence to any port in this district, or on board which, during the voyage, any case of the above men-tioned diseases shall have occurred, shall be Inspecting Quarantine Officer at the point designated for that purpose, and shall be subject to such quarantine or other rules and regulations as the Quarantine Officer

Any person who shall wilfully or knowingly violate, offend against, or disobey any Peter's church, in Rome, will present this, of these orders or any orders of the Quarantine Officer, shall, upon conviction thereof be imprisoned for a period not exceeding twelve months, and be fined in a sum not exceeding two thousand dollars, or be subject to such other punishment as a Military Commission may direct, subject to the approval of the Commanding General, for each and every offence.

A NEW ARRIVAL.-Quite a sensation was produced yesterday by the launching forth of a staunch and pretty little steam craft of only about 31 horse capacity which took on a few favored ones and then started off down the river on a trial trip. She is a trim little thing and was built at this place by Messrs. Colville & Taylor, contractors, for a miracle of beauty! It seemed some vision of company of gentlemen at Point Caswell, on $2 35 for No. 2, and $5 25 for low pale. enchantment—a cathedral of flame, whose Black River, between which place and this she is to run. The machinery was built here and, was placed in position by Messrs. Hart & Bailey. The execution of the contract, we understand, is perfectly satisfactory to those for whom she was built. She is only 40 feet long by 7 deep.

OUR FRONT WORKS .-- Just in front of this the Pincian hill. The view thence was but office the pavement has become the most notoriously bad among the many notoriously bad ones in Wilmington. FLYING KITES. - Little boys should not be allowed to fly their kites so high, so often, nor on so many of the principal thoroughfares. Horses sometimes become frightened and lives are endangered by just such things. There is an ordinance against this, and it should be enforced.

A Good IDEA .- Mr. George Z. French is having built across the ally just south of his out the Christian world, and in the churches Grocery Establishment on South Front street, a commodious office, in which to luxuriate and to labor during the coming heated term. The office is suspended across the ally from the second story of each building and, when finished, will prove to him of much convenience as well as com-

> FOR SMITHVILLE.—The steamer Ida C. Potter will leave the dock foot of Market street on to-morrow, Monday morning at 7 o'clock, for Smithville. Returning will leave Smithville for the city at 41 P. M. of the same day.

> Those desirous of hearing Col. Dockery speak will have an excellent opportunity for doing so.

> BAR ROOMS TO BE CLOSED.—General Canby has ordered that all of the bar-rooms, or other places in this District where liquors are sold by the retail, shall be closed from 6 o'clock P. M., on the 20th inst., until 6 A. M. on the 24th inst. Severe penalties are attached, and the police and other officers are required to enforce its observance.

CRIMINAL COURT. - The Criminal Court for New Hanover, after an arduous session of the entire week closed its labors in this city yesterday. The summary of its action, although important, was yet not of enough general interest to be given here in detail.

Congressional. WASHINGTON, D. C., April 11. House.—Returning from Impeachment ad-

SENATE.—The Senate continued the Impeachment. It was elicited from Gen. Thomas that the Presidents wordstto him were to go and take charge of the War Office instead of possession of the War Office. Gen-Sherman was here in the middle of De-cember and had several interviews with the President, two in company with Gen: Grant.

The managers objected to receiving the declarations of the President.

Judge Chase said no question was yet asked.

Mr. Stanberry asked did the President ask if you would take charge of the War Department on Mr. Stanton's removal. Gen. Butler objected. Gen. Sherman said he had an interview with the President in Gen. Grant's presence the day Mr. Stanton resumed his office. Mr. Stanberry asked what that interview rela-Gen. Butler objected

Mr. Stanberry asked, did the interview relate o Mr. Stanton's occupancy of the war office? Gen. Sherman, it did.
Mr. Stanberry, what was purport?
Gen. Butler objected. Mr. Stanbery reduced the question to writing, n that interview what was said about Mr. Stanton's return to the War Department. Gen. Butler objected Judge Chase thought the question admissable.

Mr. Conness appealed, and the ayes and nays were demanded. The matter was now discussed very sharply at great length. Gen. Butler interrupting Mr. Stanbery repeatedly.

Mr. Stanberry insisted on his right to say what they intended to prove, and should go on unless the Senate ordered him to stop. He would prove that the President wanted Gen. Sherman to take the War Office to secure a Judicial decision. Messrs. Stanbery, Evarts, Butler and Wilson participated. Mr. Stanbery called on Chief Justice during the debate to stop Gen. Butler's personal assertions. Recess. Chief Justice Chase restated his opinion that the question was advisable under yesterday's ruling, because like that yesterday its purpose was to elect the President's intention.

Question was then put. Question ruled out Mr. Stanbery asked Gen. Sherman what he knew about the department of Atlanta, after discussion. The Senate declined to hear the answer without a division. Mr. Stanberry then asked if the President tendered Gen. Sherman the position of Secretary of War, ad interim. Gen. Butler objected.

The Senate decided to hear his answer.

The President tendered Gen. Sherman the office on two occasions. Namely, January 25th Mr. Stanberry asked if anything else occurred between witness and the President concomitant to the offer when it was first made. Butler objected.

The Senate refused to hear the answer by 23 to Mr. Stanberry asked if the President had in any interview stated his intention in offering witness the appointment, was to bring the mat
