THE ELECTIONS.

Ohio, Iowa and Nebraska have spoken. It is the second sober thought of the Republicans of the north, who last year wavered. It shows that they are still fast anchored to those eternal principles which saved the Union from destruction, and have guided it for fifteen years. Now it is the turn of Pennsylvania, New York and Massachusetts to speak. We cannot doubt the result in Pennsylvania and Massachusetts and have hopes of New York. The threatening clouds which were hovering over the country are scattering, and the glorious sun of liberty and equity is again breaking forth. The spasmodic success of treason is ended.

GLORIOUS NEWS!

The "Tidal Wave" Reversed.

The Great Northern States Wheeling into Line.

OHIO, IOWA AND NEBRASKA, ALL GONE REPUBLICAN!

OHIO.

Great Republican Victory!

BILL ALLEN BEATEN BY 30,000.

The State election in Ohio was held on Tuesday the 24th inst. The election was for Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Legislature and Judges. William Allen, the present Governor, a native of North Carolina, was the Democratic candidate for Governor, and General Hayes was the Republican candidate. Allen was beaten by about 30,000 majority, and the Legislature is Republican by a large majority. Ohio was lost to the Republicans at the last State election, but is now redeemed.

IOWA.

GONE REPUBLICAN BY 35,000 MAJORITY.

The election in this State was held on the 12th inst. for Governor, Legislature and Judges of the Supreme Court. Republican by a tremendous majority.

NEBRASKA.

Election held for Judges and Legislature. Clean Republican triumph.—How are you "Tidal Wave"?

There have been several attempts in Baltimore to imitate the example of the Georgia and Mississippi "nigger-killers"; but they have been nipped in the bud through the quick, timely and earnest advice of the press of that city. Of course they were made by the rowdy classes, whose prejudices of race or color carried them far beyond the bounds of discretion. If the press—particularly the Democratic press—of Georgia and Mississippi had pursued the same commendable course at the beginning of the political disturbances in those States, which have since resulted in wholesale murder and assassination of citizens, and the crime of every law-abiding man in the country. As it is, they deserve the execration of every peaceable citizen, and have incurred the fearful responsibility of inciting and condoning the most horrible crimes in the calendar.—Washington Republican.

CITY ITEMS.

THE FACT OF THE MATTER.—An article has been going the rounds of the State press to the effect that all letters on which the stamp is not affixed on the upper right hand of the envelope will be sent to the Dead Letter office, through directions from the Postmaster-General. This, we are informed, is an error, as no such instructions have been issued from Washington City. Certain it is that no letter carrying the proper stamp, no matter where affixed, has ever been cast out of the mails in the office in this city. At the same time it is undoubtedly a matter of great convenience to all postmasters to have the stamp placed on the upper right hand corner, and the letter writing public are urged, as a matter of accommodation to others, to so affix them.

The following officers of Golden Lyre Lodge No. 1608, G. U. O. of O. F., were installed October 7th, 1875: Tim Lee, P. N. T. Edward Bowen, N. F. Henry McDuffy, P. N. G. E. A. Dudley, N. G. David Deal, V. G. Cornelius Evans, E. S. A. A. Dudley, P. S. E. B. Jones, W. T. Geoffrey Willis, W. C. Robert Burton, R. S. to N. G. J. R. Banks, L. S. to N. G. David Walters, R. S. to V. G. Harry Taylor, L. S. to V. G. Steve Conner, Warden. Benjamin Ellison, L. G. L. H. Davis, Marshal.

ADVICE TO GIRLS.—Somebody gives the following advice to girls. It is worth the volume of fiction and sentimentalism: "Men who are worth having, want women for wives. A bundle of gewgaws, bonnets with a string of flaps and quavers, sprinkled with cologne and set in a corset case—this is no help for a man who expects to raise a family of boys on bread and meat. The piano and lace frames are gold in their places, and so are the frills and tinsels; but you can not make a dinner of the former, nor a bed blanket of the latter; and aerial as such as they may seem to you, both the former and the bed blankets are necessary to domestic happiness. Life has its realities as well as its fancies, but you make it all decoration, remembering the tassels and the curtains, but forgetting the bedsteads. Suppose a man of good sense and good prospects to be looking for a wife, what chance would you have? You may catch him or you may trip him, but how much better to make it an object for him to catch you. Render yourself worth catching, and you will not need a shrew mother or brother to help you find a market."

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.—The Board met in adjourned session Monday, present, John G. Wagner, Esq., Chairman, and Commissioners VanAurige, Morris and Nixon.

Application of H. Baunkit & Bro. for licenses to retail spirituous liquors was granted.

Application of Alfred Howe for reduction of assessment on property was referred to the Finance committee.

Application of W. J. Gordon in reference to his property was referred to the Finance committee.

Application of E. W. Manning in reference to his taxes was granted.

The delinquent tax of James Pickett of Harnett township, was abated.

Application of T. J. Hewitt, accompanied by a certificate of the Clerk of the Board of Commissioners of Onslow county, for board, nursing, and furnishing a coffin for a citizen of New Hanover, who died in that county, was disallowed and the Clerk notified to return the application.

Bills of Alex. Sampson and W. H. Moore were referred to the Auditing committee.

The consideration of the matter of injunction against the county was postponed until the next meeting.

The Board then adjourned.

HOWE'S CIRCUIS.—MORNING AND HYPHODROME.—At least five thousand people attend the exhibition of Howe's Great London Circus Hippodrome yesterday afternoon and night. The attractions promised were such as to excite general curiosity, and everybody went prepared to be disappointed in case everything was not of superior excellence. The performance and exhibitions over, the managers were assured by the many expressions of favor that their combination of canvas-covered wonders was not only above the average but far ahead of any show of the kind that has pitched tents in those parts for many a day. The street parade was really gorgeous. The six golden chariots as they moved through the thoroughfares drawn by caudales of richly caparisoned horses, presented an imposing architectural spectacle of fantastic three-decked magnificence on wheels that at once indorsed the high character of the show of which this feature formed only a minor incident. Under the pavilions, however, there were zoological and arctic novelties to be seen that challenged the admiration of the old and young. The entrance passage ushered the visitors into the menagerie department. Here were ranged the cages and stalls of some of the rarest and strangest creatures of the animal kingdom. Among them were the African eland; Bloss Bock; the porcupine or sable antelope; the zebu or sated bull; the brindled gu, kineumon, the black tiger of India, the only one in America, and the tapir. In addition to these were five elephants, camels, zebras, kangaroos, an aviary of beautiful tropical birds, nine hyenas, five Bengal tigers, leopards, lions from Asia and Africa, a drove of moustangs, and in fine, representatives of almost every department of natural history. The circus was exceedingly good. The artists gave their respective specialties without a balk. Mr. and Mrs. Austin, the trapezists, belong to the modern school of gymnasts, and their evolutions upon the suspended bar were very thrilling, and out of the usual run of such performances. The leapers and tumblers of the company were equally good with the rest. One of them made a double revolution in mid air over two elephants. The five performing elephants were brought in to the ring together, with their keeper, and actually formed the pyramid illustrated upon the posters, much to the surprise of the skeptical.

The accommodations for the throng were first class. In the reserved quarter the seats were provided with backs, which added greatly to the comfort of those occupying them. No one who may desire to attend a circus and manage through good good fail to visit the Howe Combination.—Courier-Journal, May 1st.

The following is a letter addressed to Mayor Canada by N. V. Spurey, Esq., Chairman of the Executive Committee, from whom (the Mayor) any further information desired can be obtained:

THE INTERNATIONAL CHAMBER OF COMMERCE AND MISSISSIPPI VALLEY SOCIETY, ST. STEPHEN'S CHAMBERS, WESTMINSTER, LONDON, 21st September, 1875.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee, held September 7th, 1875, the subject under consideration being the project for examining and reporting upon the resources of the Mississippi Valley by means of Deputations to be sent out by the Parent office during the summer and autumn of 1876, it was resolved, That the Chairman and Secretary be requested to open communications forthwith with the Mayors of cities and towns along the proposed routes of the deputations, with the view to have branches and agencies of the Society established and other arrangements made to facilitate the work of the delegates.

To the Honorable the Mayor of Wilmington, North Carolina.

DEAR SIR:—I have the honor to ask your kind attention to the above resolution, in consequence of which I am forwarding to you by this same post, (1) a copy of the regulations for the formation and management of branches and agencies of this Society; (2) a pamphlet explaining a project for examining and reporting upon the resources of your country with the view to direct the application of English capital and labor to their development; and (3) a number of membership vouchers, to be used in the event of your good citizens wishing to form a branch of the Society.

I am to invite your special attention to the second document referred to above, as the Executive Committee are of opinion that the project it explains is of much importance to the two countries. I am also to ascertain whether it be the desire of your good people that one of the deputations should visit them, and if so in what character they would wish to receive the delegates—whether as invited guests or otherwise—and also whether sufficient accommodations could be conveniently provided for a deputation numbering as many as fifty to a hundred persons in the event of its being necessary for them to remain over night.

We require this practical information in preparing a programme of the undertaking which we wish to make as attractive to our people as possible, and perhaps you will be so good as to obtain it for us by calling a public meeting of your citizens and submitting the matter for their consideration or by publication in your newspapers or by such other means as you may think best to adopt.

I am also to invite you and your good people to co-operate generally in the work of this Society. Its objects, the nature of its organization and its place of operation may all be gathered from the documents I am sending to you, and if your citizens wish to form a branch of the Society, I believe you will find the regulations for so doing sufficiently explicit.

With respect to the deputations, it may at the first blush appear to you that the date of the proposed visit is a long way off, and that no immediate action need be taken. But when you consider the magnitude of the undertaking and the amount of organizing work it entails, and the number of weeks required to exchange the communications that will undoubtedly become necessary between this office and the branches in your country, I think you will agree with us that the time at our disposal is short enough, and that if we would bring the project to a successful issue there is not a day to be lost. I have the honor to remain, dear sir, with much respect, your faithful servant,

NEWELL Y. SQUAREY, Chairman Executive Com. HENRY PRITH, Secretary.

TO THE FRIENDS OF THE LATE GOV. CALDWELL.—The undersigned, feeling an interest in the proper perpetuation of the memory of a great and good citizen, have constituted themselves a committee to solicit of the public a suitable monument, wherewith to erect at Morganton, N. C., a Monument over the grave of TOB ROBINSON CALDWELL, late Governor of North Carolina.

This is no occasion to set forth his many private virtues, his great services to the State—his true and tried loyalty to the government of the United States.

History will speak for him in these things. We simply ask of the people, whom he served so long and faithfully, and of the distinguished men whom he on so many occasions favored, to come forward with their mite or shikel to place over him a shaft worthy the reputation of the man. The preservation in brass and marble of their great heroic figures is one of the chiefest claims to honor laid by ancient Greece and Rome.

Let our good old State rivaling these renowned Commonwealths in the virtue and stamina of her living children, additionally credit herself with proper tributes to the distinguished dead of her own birth and breeding.

We have selected David L. Bringle, of Salisbury, N. C., as a good man to be Treasurer of this Sacred Fund.

Contributions sent to him in the usual channels will by applied to the purpose above specified. We hope to have the monument up by the 6th day of September next.

That our own and the friends of the dead man will cheerfully respond to this appeal we confidently and zealously believe.

- Very respectfully,

ROBESON COUNTY, N. C.,
October 11th, 1875.

DEAR EDITOR:—Thinking some of your readers would be interested to hear from the "CAMP MEETING GROUND" of the Methodist Episcopal Church, which broke last night, I will give you a description of it. The people commenced assembling from far and near on Friday the 1st instant, at the Grounds, located one half mile east from Shoe Heel depot, on the Carolina Central Railroad, surrounding the M. E. Church, known as St. George's Chapel, founded by Rev. George W. Price, Sr., of your city, in the year 1871. The Grounds are prettily situated and were donated to the colored people for the worship of God, by one of our old staunch citizens, Mr. John A. Saunders.

The people from adjoining counties erected tents for a regular siege in behalf of the cause of Christ. On Saturday, at night, the regular services of the camp-meeting was opened by Rev. W. C. Gibson, resident minister at Lumberton, in this county, who preached a good sermon to an attentive audience. On Sunday the 3d, the crowd was immense, variously estimated from 1,500 to 2,000 people being present, an extra train from Rockingham, also from Lumberton, arriving at 11 o'clock a. m., swelled the crowd. The morning services were conducted by the Rev. William W. Morgan, Presiding Elder, of Raleigh, N. C., the afternoon services by Rev. Geo. W. Price, Sr., and the services at night by Thomas Monon, of Richmond county. On Monday forenoon sermons by Rev. Geo. W. Price Sr., his remarks were highly commended and spoken of by a great many outsiders; it was his parting sermon, or farewell, and was listened to with great attention—he was compelled to return to W. The local preachers in attendance, of whom we notice Charles Fletcher, Comm. Gibson, Patrick F. Lowery, Alfred Letch, Moses Love, Simon Rainford, Wm. Jacobs and Thompson, assisted greatly by their zealous workers, to lead many to the throne of God. Richmond, Haden, Columbus and Cumberland counties, in this State, and Marlboro and Marion counties in South Carolina, were well represented during the work.

On Tuesday night our Pastor, Rev.

Aaron Moore, of Columbus county, preached. He has charge of what is known as the Laurinburg Circuit, for the year 1875, embracing Beaver Dam, Laurinburg and St. George Churches. On Wednesday the crowd in attendance was not so large, but the enthusiasm was not checked in the least. Rev. Charles Thomas, Pastor of the Blue Springs circuit, in this county, delighted his hearers by one of his own good talks on christian charity. Thursday, Rev. Edward Moten took charge, he is Pastor of Mt. Zion circuit; this is his second year in that vicinity. Friday, Rev. John Brown, Pastor of the Salem circuit, lower end of Richmond and Robeson counties, representing the churches of Bridge Creek, Piney Grove and Salem, preached to a large audience, also, Rev. O. Spaulding, of the New Hope circuit. Saturday by noon the Grounds were literally packed with people, and on Sunday, yesterday, the crowd was the largest ever witnessed in this part of the State—a special train from Laurinburg arrived early in the day. Presiding Elder W. W. Morgan preached at 11 o'clock, at 3 o'clock, sermon by Rev. Edward Moten, and at 7 o'clock at night, services by Rev. Aaron Moore, the Pastor, which closed the camp meeting. Everybody seems well pleased, the number of converts were sixty-nine, and thirty-two joined the church. The weather was fine. I do not see how the Lord could have suited his followers any more.

Strict order was maintained during the entire camp; no disturbance nor drinking marred our enjoyment in the least. The white citizens kindly lent their aid and did all they could to help us in the good Lord's work, for which they severally have our prayers. The meeting will long be remembered in this vicinity, and no doubt created much good for the entire people.

Yours, &c.,
H. L. E. JR.

The impudence of the Democratic Central Committee of Mississippi in declaring that "in no part of the Union does prevail a more perfect peace or a greater respect for the law, or a greater desire to preserve order, than in Mississippi," is very sharply accented by the Vicksburg Plaindealer of the 1st. "Order," says the Plaindealer, "reigns in Yazoo County, where bands of men go prowling through the country, doing their carrying ropes, for what purpose the committee knows full well. A great desire is shown to preserve order when the sheriff, the highest law officer of the county, is a fugitive from his home, and is threatened with death if he returns. It looks like perfect peace when respectable citizens of Clinton are kept away from their homes, and the labor of the year ingathered in the fields. It looks like peace when in the neighboring county of Rankin a band of eighteen armed marauders break up a Sunday night meeting of poor defenseless black people, who, after having been dispersed, and on their way to their cabins, are beaten and ordered like galley slaves. All over the State black men are harassed and intimidated, driven from their homes, and find in the swamps and canebrakes the peace and freedom from disturbance so blatantly announced by the Democratic Executive Committee. If there is quiet and peace, let us welcome anarchy and chaos, with the hope of bettering our condition." And the Plaindealer is not "an outrage organ." It is a Mississippi home paper, and depends upon Mississippi prosperity for its own prosperity. Such a paper has the best reasons for wishing quiet and order, and good repute to its State. Its statement of things is commended to the Northern dough-face journals that cannot sufficiently decry anything like a statement of the actual doings of their hero friends in the South.

SWINE BREEDING.

The breeder seeks first for animals of good form and good constitution; he looks next to their pedigree—which of their breeds he shall select may depend upon many circumstances, and largely, of course, upon his associates and tastes. For myself I chose Berkshire, and I have seen no good cause to regret my choice. I find them hardy, of good form, good mothers yielding excellent milk, and having little offal. They mature early, and are large enough for shipping. With those who seek larger hogs, the Poland Chinas are the favorites, while the pure, black, only little Essex on the one hand and the mammoth white Yorkshire on the other have their advocates. Each man must examine and decide for himself. I only suggest that thoroughbred should in all cases be chosen, and only from well known and responsible breeders can one buy with any degree of certainty of receiving that for which he so liberally makes payment. Begin with thoroughbred, and then keep strictly within the breed. Only thus can satisfactory results be counted on with certainty. Mixed breeds show the traits and faults of all their ancestors. They will be very uneven in their breeding. Keep strictly within the breed, but not couple near relations. This advice is founded upon the following principle: Every individual has its excellencies and its defects; near relations are likely to have the same excellencies and its defects. By coupling such relations, both excellencies and defects are aggregated and intensified; the defects may be so intensified as to destroy the utility of the produce again. Breed together animals of like character. The produce will be like the parents; they will be even and even.—Prof. Jones, of Iowa Agricultural College.
