THANKSGIVING.

Proclamation by the President. By the President of the United States of America :

A PROCLAMATION.

From year to year we have been accustomed to pause in our daily pursuits and set apart a time to offer our thanks to Almighty God for the special blessings He has vouchsafed to us with our prayers for a continuance thereof.

We have at this time equal reason to be thankful for His continued projection, and for the many material blessings which His bounty has bestowed.

In addition to these favors accorded to us as individuals we have special reason to express our hearty thanks to Almighty God that by His providence and guidance our Government, established a century ago, has been enabled to tulfill the purpose of its foundation -offering an asylum to the people of every race, securing civil and religious liberty to all within its borders fand meting out to every individual alike justice and equality before the law.

It is moreover especially our duty to offer our humble pravers to the Father of all mercies for a continuance of His divine favor to us as a nation and as individuals. By reason of all these consideration; I. Ulysses S. Grant, President of the United States, do recommend to the people of the United States to devote the 30th day of November next to the expressions of their thanks and prayers to Almichty God, and, laying aside their daily avocations, assemble in their respective places of worship and observe such day as a day of thanksgiving and rest.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done a the City of Washington this twenty-sixth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy- $\frac{1}{2}$  six, and of the independence of the United States the one hun-dred and first.

The Charleston (S. C.) News and Courier announces that with the United States troops at Abbeville the Democrats had the most gratifying and triumphant meeting of the campaign. This was after the President's proclamation, and after the rifle clubs had abandoned their intention of taking possession of the Republican meeting at the same place. The New gleefully announces the peaceful triumph over the Republican meeting as "the effect of Grant's proclamation on the Hamption canvass." But all the while the Democratic press of the North are howling about the "prostrate State;" and denouncing the proclamation. The Democratic papers in the South state plain facts. The presence of the troops was the thing needed to secure a peaceful canvass, and the proclamation has already had a good effect.
