FAYETTEVILLE, Nov. 16, 1877
KNIGHT WILMINGTON, Esq:

Sir.—The fifteenth annual fair for the county was on Saturday. There are more goods entered by several hundred dealers than ever before at any former exhibition in our Society, since reorganized.

As far as I can judge, a large portion of the articles will not be undertaken again next year, as it would be a waste of your space there, you cannot afford it. But since I will not be able to come to you, which would be a great loss to you, and much expense, I will give you access to the same collection, submitted by others.

At present, the manufacture of the country is greatly superior to previous exhibitions. A clear majority of the fair is becoming a success, more fully understood by the agriculturists than before, and much of the improvement is due, and should be attributed to the scientific teachers of our agricultural schools. The precepts have been so well taught before our farmers in our agricultural and the result of scientific farms is exhibited.

Col. Park's address was replete with good advice, as well as by exhibitors themselves. And I think the Colonel more than any other in the experience of our farmers, with some exception, who inspired them to another effort.

Floyd Hall's a perfect icon, so well spoken, not to mention the greater size hats that adorned this Hall. I will include only to the auxiliaries. None could help being deeply impressed with the ingenuity, taste and industry of the ladies whose handwork filled with a few exceptions, the entire Hall. And, though the was the work of pastime, or for domestic use, artists of known might profit by an inspection of the many scientific specimens on exhibit.

Concluding Hall was well filled up with the best specimens of all kinds of bread, preserves, pickles, butter &c. and over, with another department of fine boudoirs, which are whiskies I am not particularly familiar with, but I did not visit this Hall.

The greenhouse department was not so abundantly filled as I have seen it, though no means neglected.

The book show was good, though not so much of it as in former years. This department is rather expensive to transact, and more difficult to get in, crowded, take care of while there, and home again, than other articles. I wish that the Society is paying its expenses in premiums, though not disposed to incur a debt to pay them.

There is a large attendance here and a more intelligent and appreciative audience than has ever been my privilege. As I may want to close with a word to the lovely fair of the hall, I will dispose, first, of the shorter matter.

For the press I notice P. M. Holl and E. W. Sudley, of the Raleigh Observer; Capt. Jeff. Lee, of the Wilson and Gold Star papers, and M. N. Stearns, of the Wilmington Star, also, we have, as usual, visitors to the fair, but from no press. Hon. C. P. Meader and Hon. D. F. Calvert, of Greensboro, three gentlemen, I am told, are up in the interest of the Western Railroad, and intend to apply all the power and means at their command to force the road through to Greensboro. The it is hoped they will do, as large strides in the state demand this line of only 4 miles, from Egypt to Greensboro. With this connection the road in products would find in the town and your city the nearest and best market for their surplus produce.

There is a flood in the affairs of every corporation at which it is best to move in, though it is difficult sometimes to tell where that comes in. I fear that monopolies may take hold of the enterprise. I do not see how we are to start nothing again, confidence seems, for a time, to have bid the world farewell; men are unwilling to see money which costs them 15 per cent., a year, in a business that cannot pay over 3 or 4 per cent. There is no hope, in my judgment, in a resumption of business while there is such a discrepancy between the cash of money and the product of it.

There is, however, so much in this subject that I may make in another letter, and not further encroach upon this, as I intend to make it short.

The Fair closed to-day, with the usual racing, though the weather was rather warm for sports of that kind, but was an occasion of much interest to the sports-loving visitors.

Col. Alderman, our efficient Secretary, is the right man for the place; his efforts were untiring, for several days last the opening, to have everything in proper place, and though he had charge of it, he succeeded admirably; but, in every department well officered, does well, police officers at the ticket office, at the gate and on the committee; he also exhibited some very fine flags. Though the Colonel is an old soldier man, his efforts to please all were acknowledged by the largest collection of the practical judges that ever graced any Fair. Added to the lively daughters of this county, were many from abroad. Your city was represented, Raleigh, Pittsboro, Durham, and other towns and villages, with rows of flags from the rural districts.

HARPER'S BAZAAR.

NOTICES OF THE FAIR.—The Bazaar is the organ of the fashionable world, and the exponent of that world's taste, and its authority in all matters of manners, etiquette, costume, and social habits.

The Bazaar commands itself to every member of the household—to the children by drill and pretty pictures, to the young ladies by the fashion plates in endless variety, to the providers in its patterns for the children's clothes, to parfumiers by its tasteful designs for embroidered slippers and luxuriant dressing gowns. But the reading matter of the Bazaar is uniformly of great excellence. The paper has acquired a wide popularity for the fine side enjoyment it affords, and has become an established authority with the ladies of America.—New York Evening Post.

WILMINGTON AND NEW RIVER NAVIGATION COMPANY.—At a meeting of the incorporators of the above Company, held at the office of Colonel R. R. Moore, on Wednesday last, it was decided to open books of subscription at once, and proceed to organize as soon as a sufficient amount of money was subscribed to commence the work.

Mr. Hersey Hinton purchased a lot geese a short time ago, and on last Monday nineteen of them got out of the enclosure in which he had placed them, took up a line of march for the river. About six o'clock in the evening they were noticed swimming rapidly in the direction of the northwest branch of the river, since which nothing has been seen or heard of them.

His Honor, Judge Moore, was in the city on last Sunday, looking well.

A coon hunt on the banks, on the night before Thanksgiving, will take place.

Resigning inquire an epidemic among the police force. Three or four resign every day.

Charles Bradley, an old and much respected colored man, died on Wednesday last.

A son of Solomon Leaves was badly bitten on the leg, by a vicious dog, on Wednesday.

House and lot on Market street, near 11th and 12th streets, north side, in good order, 6 rooms. Apply to Dan O'Connor, next door west of Court House.

BODY RECOVERED.—Mc. E. Gause, one of the Smithville pilots, states that the body of a drowned white man was found washed up on Snow's Marsh, on the Brunswick side of the river, abreast of Federal Point and about four miles this side of Smithville, on last Saturday. There were eight dollars in money in one of the pockets of deceased, together with a number of orders bearing the name of Thaddeus Moore, the unfortunate gentleman from Point Caswell, Pender county, who was drowned off one of the waves of this city a short time back. Coroner Loudard, of Brunswick county, subsequently held an inquest over the body, the jury returning a verdict of accidental drowning, when it was interred on the Island, where it can easily be found by the family or friends of the deceased, who will no doubt wish to have it removed to Point Caswell.

The body dried with the current full twenty-five miles, and M. Gause says that during his long experience as a pilot up and down the Cape Fear river he has never before known one to be cast such a distance. It looked fresh when first discovered and had suffered little or no mortification.

One house for rent on the corner of 4th and Walnut street, in good order, 8 room. Apply to Daniel O'Connor, next door west of Court House.

What other preparations fall to do, Hall's Hair Renewer surely accomplishes. It renewes the hair and especially restores its color when gray and faded. As a dressing it is unsurpassed, making the hair moist, soft and glossy.

The most economical preparation ever offered, its effects remain a long time, and those who have once made trial of it will never use any other.

Advertiser and Union, Fredonia, N. Y.

which were ordered to be printed with the proceedings of this meeting.

The following resolution was offered and adopted:

Resolved, That the Directors of this Company be authorized to make sale of the three tracts of land, in the county of Pender, at and adjacent to the station on the line of the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad, called Burgaw, and also of about three acres of land at or near the town of Tarboro, upon such terms and in such quantities as may be deemed most judicious in accordance with the provisions of any resolution of the Stockholders of said Wilmington & Weldon Railroad Company on the subject matter of the sale of the lands referred to, that may be adopted at their annual meeting, to be held this day, this Company hereby assenting in all respects to the provisions and requests in said resolution.

The meeting then proceeded to the election of officers for the ensuing year, when Hon. R. R. Bridgers was unanimously elected President, and W. T. Walters and J. B. Palmer were elected Vice Presidents.

The following were elected Directors, viz., W. T. Walters, J. D. Cameron, G. George S. Brown, S. M. Sheeemaker, J. B. Palmer, L. D. Childs, B. F. Newcomer, H. B. Short and W. H. Graham.

On motion, it was resolved that the next annual meeting be held in Wilmington on the Tuesday next succeeding the third Monday in November, 1878.

The meeting then adjourned.
