

The Post

VOL. V.

WILMINGTON, N. C. THURSDAY MORNING FEBRUARY 8, 1872.

NO. 173

CITY.

No city court yesterday.

Every honest man will pay his honest debts.

Thanks to Gen. Rutherford for public documents.

Now is the time to subscribe for the Wilmington Post.

The Bank of New Hanover has commenced business.

One cow and calf in city pound, the owner had better call for her.

Mayor Martin is now absent in Fayetteville; will return to-morrow.

The City Treasurer was busy yesterday paying the police for the month of January.

Oranges sold yesterday at the wharf at $2 per hundred, and pine apples at $2 per dozen, at auction.

Send in your names for the Wilmington Post, the only Republican paper in the Cape Fear district.

GRADING THIRD STREET.—The city authorities are grading Third street, between Ann and Nun streets.

W. H. McRary & Co., advertise Guano for sale. "The Soluble Pacific Guano," also "Acid Phosphate of Lime."

NEW BERNE CORN MARKET.—We will hereafter publish the New Berne corn market, for the benefit of buyers.

The County Treasurer gives notice that coupons on New Hanover county bonds will be paid on presentation to him.

Munson is still in the clothing business; if you want polite attention and a good fit call at his store on Market street.

The Collector of Customs, Mr. Rumley, has returned from Washington where he has been on government business.

At a meeting of the Cape Fear Building Association Tuesday night last, eighty shares of stock were redeemed at $50 each.

At a meeting of the Mechanics' Building & Loan Association last night 35 shares of stock were redeemed; 10, at $115; 25, at $121.

IN A TERRIBLE CONDITION.—We direct the attention of the city authorities to the deplorable condition of Nutt and North Water streets.

Messrs. Hart & Bailey have employed in their foundry 75 workmen. This foundry was established 16 years ago, and has been of great benefit to our city.

We wish to call especial attention to the temperance address to-night by the Rev. Mr. Hiden; from the great reputation of this learned divine a masterly effort may be expected. The society of the Friends of Temperance will march to the Bethel in full regalia.

A HORSE THIEF ESCAPES THE PENITENTIARY.—It is rumored that a noted horse thief escaped the Penitentiary the other night by playing the ruse of making a man of straw, and setting him up when the men were counted at night, and then climbing over the palisade after everything got quiet.—Carolinian.

James S. Topham & Co., No. 8 South Front street, Wilmington, N. C., are manufacturers of every description of Trunks, Traveling Bags, Saddlery and Harness. A large stock of second hand government team and ambulance harness, saddles, bridles, collars, halters, reins, &c., constantly on hand, at wholesale and retail, at low prices for cash.

THE TESTIMONIAL LAST NIGHT TO PROF. GRABAU.—The Opera House was filled with a grand galaxy of the beauty and elite of Wilmington society. Brilliant gems of the great masters were interpreted by the lady amateurs, with that inexpressible sweetness of melody and admirable voice which are hardly to be expected from those who are not accustomed to tread the lyric stage. The gentlemen acquitted themselves most excellently, and the Professor may well be proud of the farewell ovation to him in Wilmington. May every success attend him in his future home.

DISASTROUS FIRE AT SMITHVILLE.—By the arrival of the steam tug Alpha, on Tuesday, we received news of a serious conflagration at Smithville. It broke out in a house owned by Dr. Frink, extending to the residence of C. C. Morse and to other buildings on the premises of W. G. Curtis. The residence of the latter had a narrow escape and was only saved by the strenuous exertions of the citizens. The losses are summed up as follows: Dr. Frink $8,000, insured for $2,000; C. C. Morse, $2,000, insured for $4,000; Dr. Curtis, $1,000, no insurance. The fire is presumed to have been accidental.

There are three hundred million people living in Europe, where only sixty million lived one hundred years ago.

THE "OLD RELIABLE" DRAMATIC TROUPE.—We are promised something very excellent in the performances of this renowned troupe. Their repertoire is an extensive one, presenting a list of standard dramas which will require casts embracing every member of the company. They come to Wilmington, bearing with them the unqualified endorsement and assurance of the press, of their entire credibility and intrinsic worth. Miss D'Este, the leading lady, makes her first appearance to-night as Lady Isabel, a character in which Miss Lucille Western has been said to "brook no rival," but we will fully warrant (so says the critics) that beside her, Miss Helen D'Este will "pale no ineffectual fire." Mr. J. G. Stutz is the leading actor and brings with him the highest meed of praise. It will be borne in mind that their performance commences promptly at 8 o'clock.

We have received a copy of the first number of a new paper called "The Southern Workman," published by Gen. S. C. Armstrong, at the Normal and Agricultural Institute, Hampton, Va. It gives promise of being a fine paper. It will be published once a month and the price is but one dollar a year. There will be at least three pictures in every number. This paper is printed by the students, in the printing office at the Institute, and it is for the men who are workmen of the South, all of them, wherever they are. The General is sure to make the paper a success. He is going to publish an account of the churches and schools here in Wilmington, and he will publish the news from this region in each number. He wants the people here to subscribe for his paper, and he will do all he can to make it interesting for them. Mr. H. W. Blake is showing the paper to some of our citizens, and we hope many will subscribe for it.

ONE WASHINGTON DISTRICT.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4, 1872.

It was Seneca who said: "Not to return a good office with another is inhuman; but to return evil for good is diabolical." The cause of the rebellion is the close of the rebellion, has been one long series of evil for good, and there seems to be no change for the better, even under the unexampled kindness of the nation. Left unpunished for their murderous assault upon the Union—trembling in their shoes for their worthless lives (I am speaking of the scheming and unprincipled leaders) would be sacrificed to the just anger of an insulted country; and when their lives are spared by a forgiving government, and their property left untouched, and they were merely required to pay a small portion of the immense debt which had been thrown on the country by their rebellious acts. How did they repay the leniency? By devotion to that government and its laws! No! But by exchanging the sword of open rebellion for the dagger of the midnight assassin; accepting all that a generous government offered, while in the still hours of the night they were plotting the death of the benefactor. Surely the annals of history can show no equal to these rebel leaders; that in this enlightened age and country, these pardoned brothers should be so lost to all sense of gratitude as to put the knife of the assassin to the throat of the men who were petitioned for their pardon. It is to be wondered at that the few honest democrats of the South should hold up their hands in holy horror, at the acts of these fiends in human form. While there was reason to doubt, it was not expected that the good men of that party would believe; but now that the guilt is brought home and the skeleton unearthed, what else can we show their devotion to the Union by a cordial support of the Republican party. For you to vote against that party will not result in its defeat, but will prove that you believe in ku kluxism, and demonstrate to the party, which is sure to be victorious in the coming campaign, that your cry is still for war.

OUR FOREIGN ELEMENT. It will no doubt surprise the many Germans in the South to know that nearly, if not all, of their Northern brethren are Republicans. We have never been able to discover any reason why the Southern Germans, with very few exceptions, should vote and side with secessionists; their interests and business are almost entirely with the poorer classes of whites and colored people; indeed, were it not for the cash trade of our colored race, they would be unable to gain a livelihood. The honest and upright German is almost as completely barred from the society of the "blue blooded secessionist" as is the "Yankee;" he is scoffed at by these would-be "lords of the soil," and called a "Dutchman," or a "Jew," and every advantage is taken to impose upon him. Why don't you vote where your interests direct?

EMANCIPATION CELEBRATION. Preparations are already on foot for this celebration, and appearances indicate that it will be a most perfect success. It is fitting and proper and shows beyond a doubt how sincerely grateful the enfranchised race feels for the right conferred. Never will they forget the hour that signed the edict. The once animate form is but a dust, but the deeds imperishable and unforgotten will live through the future ages, and the name of Lincoln be uttered with reverence and affection by the succeeding generations of those to whom he was a medium of human salvation. The same feeling exists to-day in Baltimore as in 1861, when the mob stoned the 6th Mass. Vol's on its way to the seat of war, as will be seen by the reported attempt of these narrow-minded, short sighted people to prevent the COLORED ORPHANS from being assembled together in an asylum. This is the same spirit that incited the mob in New York city to drag these children from an asylum of a like nature and hang them to the lamp posts. These destitute children are the orphans of colored soldiers who fought for their country and liberty, and are proper charges for the nation's care. But one who expect might else of people who allow the maimed soldiers of the South to beg, or starve and perish. Many a Southern soldier, with one arm or one leg gone, have we furnished with transportation to his home, who has said to us that the wealthy rebel had refused, with scorn, to help him. And this is Southern hospitality! After dragging these poor people into a wicked rebellion, and making of them cripples and paupers, to refuse to support or aid them. The grave of the poor conscript is unmarked and unnoticed, while that of the wealthy General is adorned with monuments, and visited by hundreds of mourners. Does this not speak to the poor man in thunder tones that the wealthy Southerner has no interest in common with him, and would only use him as an ignoble dependent?

SOUTHERN REPUBLICAN SOCIABLE. We are pleased to note that this sociable, which we were fearful would be a failure, has, in its success, more than equalled the most sanguine expectations. A large representation from the South, and the President and Vice President of the United States were present, and also many distinguished gentlemen from other parts of the country. Imagine a hall three times as large as in Wilmington, the walls gaily festooned with flags, the bright gas light and immense chandeliers, shining on an assemblage of beauty and dress hardly to be excelled; the delightful music, and the many light feet tripping to the "Blue Danube" of Strauss, or the "Mi-Cara-Cara" of Faust, or in the recess between the dancers, promising around the spacious room. I would I could convey to you one half the pleasure experienced, but pen fails to more than open the portals. From North Carolina we noticed Gen. Allen Rutherford, President of the Association, Judge Victor Barringer, W. W. Holden, Robt. Douglas, Private Secretary to President Grant, Col. Eastmond, Hon. C. L. Cobb and Judge Owen. Among the ladies present, from North Carolina, were Mrs. Gen. Rutherford, Mrs. W. W. Holden and daughters, Mrs. Judge Cloud, Mrs. Judge Barringer, and a number of others. The programme closed with the "Virginia Reel" which led our thoughts back to "Old Dog Tucker" and the many other purely Southern airs.

We were pleased to note the presence of Collector Rumley in Washington; we understand an business connected with the customs. The marks of care seem to have ruffled his placid forehead, and he retains the same gentlemanly air which will always distinguish him from the crowd. We were also pleased by meeting Mr. Fred Miller of the Custom House, who seemed to thoroughly enjoy his first trip to Washington. J. P. Sampson, of your city, is gaining an enviable notoriety by several very able articles published in the Washington papers. The colored race may well be proud of such a talented gentleman.

Transforming the Complexion.—The transformations produced by HAZEL'S MAJOLICA BALM are quite as astonishing as any scene on the stage of a theatre. That famous beautifier, transmutes a sallow, pecked looking complexion, into one in which the lily and the rose vie for admiration, and imparts to a dry, harsh skin, the softness of perfect loveliness. Tan and freckles, which country air and sunlight are prone to produce, in spite of face powder and sunshade, are completely obliterated by it; while it has a perfectly magical effect in banishing undue redness, blotches and pimples from the skin. When the lady who has used it for remedy her complexional defects looks in the mirror, she is equally astounded and gratified at the improvements in her appearance. Every blemish has disappeared; her nose, ears and bosom, now rival in whiteness the snowy collar which encircles her throat, her cheek mantles with a peach-like bloom, and she is ready to invoke a blessing on the inventor of the article which has wrought such a delightful transformation.

If you desire rosy cheeks and a complexion fair and free from Pimples, Blotches and Eruptions, purify your blood by taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

SOLUBLE PACIFIC GUANO.

CASH AND TIME PRICES MATERIALLY REDUCED.

The use of this Guano for Cotton and Corn for the past six years has established its character for REMIABILITY and EXCELLENCE. Experience has demonstrated that under favorable conditions of season an application of from 150 to 200 pounds per acre increases the crop from two to three fold over the natural capacity of the soil. The cost of growing cotton to the planter is in exact proportion to the yield obtained per acre from the land and labor employed in its cultivation hence the agency which so largely increases the production at so moderate an outlay of capital must be essential to profitable planting.

For price and terms for the season apply to WM. H. McRARY & CO., Agents Pacific Guano Company, Wilmington, N. C.

PACIFIC GUANO COMPANY'S COMPOUND

Acid Phosphate of Lime

For Composting with Seed.

This article is prepared expressly for composting with Cotton Seed, in order to supply it with SOLUBLE PHOSPHORIC ACID, which is necessary to render it most effective and economical as a fertilizer.

The compound made in this manner contains all the elements of value that can enter into any fertilizer. It is the only manner in which Cotton Seed can be promptly used. With this Phosphate the planter can supply himself with a fertilizer of the highest grade at the smallest cost, which will enable him to use it liberally, and thus realize the highest results from the time and labor employed in making his crop.

For printed directions for composting, and for price, terms, &c., apply to WM. H. McRARY & CO., Agents Pacific Guano Company, Wilmington, N. C.
