THE PRESBYTERIAN STAOD.

AN OUTLINE OF ITS PROCEED-INGS.

Rev. Dr. Wilson and Rev. Dr. Dab. ney Preach Sermons.

The Synod of the Presbyterian Church in North Carolina commenced in Fayetteville, Wednesday the 19th of October. There was a large attendelders. The hospitable homes of Favetteville were thrown open, and every ne received a generous welcome. The Rev. M. McQueen was elected loderator, Rev. J. Doll was Stated

The Rev. F. M. Jordan, of Oxford, ranville County, and Ruling Elder lamilton of Lenoir, Caldwell County, were Temperary Clerks.

On Wednesday evening, the sermon was preached by Rev. Mr. Rumple of Thursday, Friday and Saturday there were morning and evening sessions of the Synod, besides services in church every evening conducted respectively by Rev. Dr. Smith of Greensboro, Rev. Mr. Whart of Concord Presbytery and Rev. Dr. Yaughn of Raleigh.

Sunday morning, the Rev. Dr. Dabney of Union Theological Seminary, Va., preached; Rev. Dr. Wilson preached at night to an audience that illed to overflowing the pews, galleries and aisles. We are quite sure that the congregation forgot, for the time, atigne, and even sectarian difference, under the spell of his eloquence, originality, learning and piety.

The Synod adjourned on Saturday, to meet in the Second Presbyterian Church of Charlotte, on the Wednesday before the last Sabbath in October.

GENERAL CITY NEWS.

Reception of the Body of Mrs. Armand J. DeRosset.

A large cortege of friends and relatives met the mortal remains of this honored lady at the depot last evening. Since paying her the slight tribute in yesterday's paper we have heard that many of the poor people of the city are very much affected on account of her death. We learn of instances where she had condescended to do for them, with her own tender hands, acts of humble kindness that the passing acquaintance would not suspect her of doing for members of her own, family. These deeds of Christian charity and service add lustre to her name; and what is better than this, they shine as jewels in the angelfrown given by Him she served, faithfully and well, from childhood to the grave. Her memory is embalmed in the heart of the destitute and afflicted, s well as in that of the social circle of hich she was so distinguished an orna-

The funeral of Mrs. DeRosset will ake place from St James' Church at Bo'clock P. M. to-day, thence to Oakdale Cemetery.

County Commissioners.

The Society starts out with flattering prospects. It will assuredly be of service in the two great departments of learning which constitute its sphere. such an organization is a most valuable idjunct to the savan and the historian. ts double purpose is a decided advanage. Notall of its members have a preference for history, norall forscience. The city is not yet large enough to support n flourishing society for each of these special studies. But a single society can be maintained with ease—a society which will trace the history of a mollusk as well as that of the rise, progress and nature of free institutions in human government.

For the Centennial.

The through passenger train going North over the W., C. & A. and W. A W. R. R., yesterday morning, bore about three hundred persons bound for the Centennial, of which number some wenty-five were from this city. Yesexcursion rate to Philadelphia.

THIRTEEN TO ONE,

An Unlawful Combination Against Cheap Labor.

It seems that night before last Charlie Guyer and Warwick Perry had agreed to load a vessel at the Cotton Press for a certain price, and had begun work, when Moses Boney, another colored man, came up and offered to do it cheaper; whereupon Guyer and Perry jumped on him and began to beat ance, both of ministers and ruling him. Durtng the fight Guyer ran his hand into his pocket and drew out a majority of the soldiers are wearing brass knuckle or a sling shot and struck Boney on the head with it, inflicting at severe cut. They will have a hearing before the Mayor to-day; also the following for aiding and abetting Guyer and Perry: Henry White, William Chesnut, Primus Bowen, Peter Evans, Henry Johnson, Andrew Halsey, Bill Green, Geo. Hill, Geo. Strivers, Elijah Green and Martin Young.

Neat Typographically. From the Tarborough Southerner.

We have received the first number of the CAPE FEAR, a 24-column daily published in Wilmington N. C. and edited by Cicero W. Harris. It is neat in its typographical execution, replete with well selected articles, condensed news, literature &c. The first number contains a spirited gem by Mrs. Harris, already known to fame as a native literary writer of rare merit.

Of Mr. Harris we need say nothing. The Wilmington Star, for several years under his editoral control attained its present high stand in the newspaper world, in great part, through his enlightened and instructive articles. We know Mr, Harris personally, and whether as editor of the old Battleboro Advance, Wilmington Star, or CAPE FEAR, we bespeak for him that share of beneficial recognition to which he is eminently entitled. [Our friend is too kind. As assistant editor of the Morning Star we could not control its Editorial columns .- [ED. CAPE FEAR.

SOUTH OAROLINA.

A Reign of Terror.

CHARLESTON, Oct. 24.—Gov. Chamberlain has sent a written order de manding the disbandment of the German Fusilliers and surrender of their arms. This noble company was organized in 1775 and served in the Revolution and war of 1812. [The whole condition of affairs is thus stated in an editorial in the News and Courier of Monday:

As soon as they could be assured of protection, the colored people could venture to listen to Democratic canvassers, and to join Democretic Clubs. The prime necessity of the Radicals was to deprive them of that protection. This is done by the Executive proclamation. The effect of that proclamation is, to prevent the Democrats from attending political meetings, as they otherwise would have done, in numbers sufficient, and with force enough, to ensure fair play. And while the Democrats are branded as insurgents and rebels, for striving to save themselves and their colored supporters from injury, the State militia, composed of colored Republicans, retain their arms, are used to intimidate political meet ings, and are to fulfil the same sinister purposes on election day. For example, Ben. Rivers, an officer of the militia publiely announced at Wilson's Store in this county, a few days ago, that, on election day, he was going to the polls with his militia company fully armed Besides this, he said that, "if a single - Rebel raised his finger at the polls, he would kill the Democrati out, and burn the country from "Adam's Run down." This is not rumor. The names of the gentlemen who heard Rivers utter these words con be given; and such intimidation as he now threatens is merely what has been practiced, year after year, at elections in this county. Even in the city a colored Democrat has not been safe. as is shown by the riots last September, which, as Governor Chamberlain admits, are an ineffaceable blot upon the Republican party.]

A TERRIBLE DISASTER.

LOSS OF A WHALING FLEET. Story of Appalling Sufferings-The Whole Arctic Whaling Fleet Destroyed in the Ice.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 22.—The whaling bark Florence has arrived from the Arctic Ocean with one hundred and ninety men aboard, a part of the crews of the whaling fleet of twelve vessels which were lost in ice. The survivors make the following statement:

The fleet consisted of fourteen vessels. who worked northward towards Point Barrow as fast as the ice opened. The Arctice was crushed by the ice July 11th, but the crew escaped to the shore and were finally rescued. On the night of the 16th of August, it blew a gale which lasted several days. On the 24th of August while a black fog was prevailing the Clara Bell lost her rudder and drifted ashore. The Florence got under the ice of the grounded ice which saved her. The ships Josephine, St. George, Cornelius and Howland, and the barque Camilla, Jos. Allen. and Onward were enclosed by the pack ice during the afternoon, and drifted rapidly to the northeast between Moody and Refuge Inlets. The ship Marenge under all sail got within three or four ship's lengths of open water and then cated her willingness to agree to a six- Point Barrow the current slackened. and for two days swe drifted slowly.

The Rainbow and Three Brethers, under Point Barrow, lay in comparative rengo, St. George, and the barque Acors Barnes each sent a boat ashore, intendprovisions and supplies in case of disaster, but owing to the ice starting afresh were unable to do so. On the A dispatch to the Times from The- 27th of August the first officer of the Eleven were rescued by sacres, and have even appointed a day | Capt. Owen of the Three Brothers, the other two were frozen to death on the ice. The prospect was now gloomy. The ships were held helplessly in the but from all the provinces of European ice, and were drifting rapidly northwest. On August 28 we reached the citement among Mohammedans, of con-venticles held in Mosques and of arma-rent changed to the east. The ments. The Ministry is divided against ships at Point Barrow were no longer itself and the Sultan is too experienced visible, and the situation was worse to take the leadership of affairs. This was only a touch of what might be expected. months' provisions; not enough to last through the winter. After a full discussion, seeing no way out of the difficulty, it was decided that the only means of escape was to reach land, before escape became impossible. September 5 was chosen for starting. The ships were twenty or thirty miles from land, abreast Meet Head, Smith's Bay. On September 5, all being ready on board the Howland; St. George, Marengo, Desmond, Jose Ollin, Acors Barnes and Onward, the signal for departure was given. The boats had been put in the best possible condition; the baggage consisted of about twentyfive days' rations of bread and meat, a change of clothing and a blanket for each man. Everything else but guns and ammunition was left on board. The main hope was to find open water enough inside the grounded ice to navigate the boats southward and so reach the two ships which we supposed were outside the pack. The start was made at 3 P. M. We would first carry the baggage a half mile or so ahead, then turn and drag the boats along. The ice was very rough in places, there being many holes which would not bear the weight of a man, and many fell through and suffered much from cold. The first night we camped in ice four miles from the ships, and the next morning resumed the march in a blinding snow storm from the northeast. The prospect was most discouraging. Several men deserted and returned toward the ships, where numbers of the crews remained, who refused to face the hardship of the journey towards the land. Ol their fate we know nothing. At noon on the 9th we sighted the Three Brothers and Rainbow at Point Barrow, and reached them before night. We found the ice all solid beyond, and the only chance of escape was to drag the boats over land to the open sea, a distance of one hundred and thirty miles. We made sleds and attempted the journey. but reaching Cape Smith found the bark Florence there. Atter consultation it was decided that any efforts to proceed would be madness, and preparations were commenced for wintering as best we could at Point Barrow. The boats were prepared for whaling, as that was the only resource for food, and work commenced on a house. On the night of September 13th the ice began to break up before a strong east wind. The next day the Florence was able to get under way. All hands and baggage were put on board, and we ran down the coast and found the Clara

the former bringing the crew of the Clara Bell, which remained fast in the ice, with no hopes of getting her out. A part of the people in the Florence were then put on board the Three Brothers and a rendezvous appointed at St. Laurens Bay, where they would stop for water. Both arrived there on the 22d, and left the next day for San Francisco, the Three Brothers for Honolulu. The following is a list of the abandoned vessels; Barques Onward and Clara Bell, of San Francisco; ships St. George, Marengo and barques Cornelius, Holland, James Allen and Java, of New Bedford; ship Camilla and barquentine Josephine, of Boston; bark Acors Barnes, of New London, and the Hawaiian barques Desmond and Arctic, The veasels had on board altogether 15,000 barrels of oil, besides a large amount of whalebone and ivory. It is the undivided opinion of every master that no hopes can be entertained of a rescue of the ships or those who remained on board of them. All are undoubtedly lost, carried away to the northeast, in the immensetice pack which closed them in for miles around. CONDENSED TELEGRAMS.
