CONGRESSIONAL NOMINATIONS: 1st Dist.—JESSE J. YEATES, of Hertford. 3d Dist.—ALFRED M. WADDELL, of New Hanover. 4th Dist.—JOSEPH J. DAVIS, of Franklin. 5th Dist.—ADOLF M. TO THE WHITE MEN OF NORTH CAROLINA.

There is a white majority in North Carolina, if it should ever be fully polled, of Sixty-One Thousand. Think of that, fellow-citizens. Thirteen or fourteen thousand is our highest polled majority, and yet the Democratic party, if all white men were true, could roll up a majority, as great as Georgia's or Kentucky's.

Shame on those who stay from the polls through cowardice or indifference! A deeper shame on those who vote to sustain the centralized despotism, the organized dishonesty of the Radical party!

Let this election show an improvement. Let all of our negro fellow-citizens who sincerely desire to stand with white men on the reform platform come out boldly and vote for Vance and for Tilden. But above all things let the white men of the Old North State do their duty. The whole destiny of the Commonwealth is in their hands. Upon their manhood depends the future, for weal or for woe. They should cast their solid sixty thousand majority for the cause of honest government and liberty and Democracy.

DANIEL L. RUSSELL.

The subject of this article is undoubtedly a man of intellectual parts. The trouble with Judge Russell is, not a lack of subtlety and quickness, but a woful lack of that which gives tone and stamina to a public man—steadiness in pursuing right objects and that wisdom which guides to just conclusions.

Daniel L. Russell was one of the speakers at the negro pow-wow held at the City Hall Monday night. He was the most sagacious leader of the occasion, and threw out his hot words like furnace-heated shot, only they fell "sic" in the water short of their mark, not even indulging in the playful ricocheting habit of shells fired from afar. He likewise waved Morton's old bloody shirt until the air of that precious locality was dense with the smell of gore.

The ex-Judge (thank Heaven he is only an ex) must have become extremely disgusted with the white men during his late travels in the Western counties. Surely he cometh back to "this home by the sounding sea" with the gall of bitterness doubly-distilled through his system, and with a more beneficial light than usual in his eyes. Western Republicans are doing like Cantwell, Bailey and Thomas—leaving the hulk of the old ship as it floats about in the blackness of darkness, without rudder and sailless. Judge Russell grows bitter with disappointment and sore over the prospect for his party. Repudiated by the people he may have looked to Hayes for something, which he now sees is a futile hope. The day of judgment for such miserable leaders always comes, and when it comes it is awful.

THE STATE TICKET.

The ticket headed by Vance and Jarvis has the confidence of the public. Everybody knows Vance, and the fame of his brilliant talents and his sympathetic nature is no greater than the love that is felt for him. Jarvis is less known, but his career in the Legislature and in State politics is highly honorable. These men lead the canvass with ability and fervor. The people are rallying enthusiastically to their call.

Let us give the State ticket, headed by Vance and Jarvis, a tremendous majority.

REV. DR. FULLER.

We noticed yesterday the death of this eminent divine. A friend in this city tells us that at the meeting of the Southern Baptist Convention in Raleigh a few years ago, Dr. Fuller referred to the then recent death of Dr. Poindexter in the course of his sermon. The Reverend orator became thrillingly eloquent, and, as if inspired, he seemed to forget his audience, raised his eyes Heavenward, and made the most remarkable and beautiful apostrophe to the blessed spirits and angels it had ever been our informant's good fortune to listen to. Like a strain of Beethoven or Mozart's music, it lingers yet in memory.

What the Figures Say.

From the Charlotte Observer. One of our townsmen has taken a curious way to find out who is to be our next President, and the result of his investigation proved entirely satisfactory. He says that figures won't lie, and figures point directly to Tilden's election; and this is how it's done: Number each letter according to its position in the Alphabet, A being one and Z twenty-six. Add up the numbers corresponding to the letters in the names. The letters in the names S. Tilden and T. Hendricks and the result is 197. Add the numbers of the letters in the names of R. Hayes and W. Wheeler, and you get 175. The entire electoral vote is 369, consequently 185 is necessary to a choice. Now the names of the Republican candidates lack 10 of furnishing the requisite number, while those of S. Tilden and T. Hendricks give 197, being 12 over the number necessary to a choice. Carrying it a little further, 197 being greater than 175 by 22, or a little over 10 per cent., the Democratic majority will be 10 per cent. of the entire vote. This settles it.

Excellent and Well-Printed.

From the Petersburg Index-Appal. THE CAPE FEAR is the name of a new paper just established at Wilmington, N. C., by C. W. Harris, late a member of the Star editorial staff. It is an excellent and well printed sheet, and we hope Mr. Harris will make it a financial success.

A special dispatch from Philadelphia to the New York Times states that a Sheriff's summons was served on Miss Clara Louise Kellogg, in that city, on the evening of the 16th inst., while she was engaged in the performance of Lucia di Lammermoor. A controversy had arisen between the operatic management and some artists, out of which a lawsuit had sprung.

Bishop Gibbons, of Richmond, Va., is engaged in writing a history of the Catholic Church, which it is expected will be published some time during the coming year.

DIED.

DEROSSET—In Philadelphia, Pa., on Monday, 23d inst., at 6 o'clock A. M., of neuralgia of the heart, ELIZA J. DEROSSET, wife of Armand J. DeRosset, M. D., aged 64 years.

THE

THE CAPE FEAR WILL ADVOCATE in a straightforward manner the principles of a pure and manly Democracy in State and Country. In its humble way it will uphold the banner unfurled by Jefferson, carried aloft by Jackson and now proudly borne by Tilden. The CAPE FEAR will recognize no difference between those who fight the battles of the people against high-handed Radicalism entrenched in places of power and seeking to maintain its corrupt hold on the same. By whatever name called, the Defenders of the Country's Liberty and the Inalienable Rights of the People are Democrats. To them the CAPE FEAR will ever speak with the voice of reason and affection. In their behalf the CAPE FEAR will ever be found struggling.

The new paper will give warm encouragement to the agricultural, mining and manufacturing interests of the State. It will urge immigration. But while it will extend the hand of welcome to the sturdy foreigner or other immigrant, it will seek to impress upon the people already here the necessity for economy, thrift, labor and fidelity to home and State. North Carolinians must build up North Carolina.

In presenting certain popular Literary Features the CAPE FEAR is ahead of its contemporaries. No American daily newspaper places original fiction habitually before its readers except in the form of sensational intelligence. Stories for the bedside, both serial and complete, will be found occupying a short space in the CAPE FEAR. The literary matter of the paper will, however, always be subordinated to the news.

Brevity and Convenience, Accuracy and Impartiality will be leading characteristics of the Intelligence Department of the CAPE FEAR. The news of the day, City, State and General, will be presented in the clearest, concise and most attractive form possible. Usually the important news will be printed on the first page. Under this denomination we include the Market Reports and River and Marine Intelligence. Such matters are too frequently crowded by small type in a corner. The Commercial News will be carefully compiled and extracted.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

The basis is either on the week or the year. The CAPE FEAR will be furnished at Ten Cents per week. One Dollar and Twenty-Five Cents for Three Months, Two Dollars and Fifty Cents for Six Months, and Five Dollars for One Year. Delivered by Carrier in the City or Suburbs. No paper sent by mail unless the subscription has been prepaid. Collections made by Carrier every week, and no paper delivered for a longer time than a week to any one who does not pay for it promptly. Cash is the word.
