CAPE FEAR OFFICE.

GLORIOUS SPEECII OF GEO. DAVIS.

THE CITY HALL LAST NIGHT.

Mighty Outpouring of the People to Hear the Favorite Son of New Hanover-Address of Hon. George Davis-His Wondertnl Eloquence, Powerful Sarcasm and Profound Argumentation-Great Enthusiasm.

Seldom is such a speech made before a popular audience as was made at the City Hall last night by Hon. George Davis. Seldom is such a demonstration made in honor of any orator anywhere.

At 8 o'clock a long procession, consisting of the Cornet Concert Club, the Tilden and Vance Guards, the officials of the Democratic party in New Hanover and citizens filed into the vast upper room of the City Hall. Soon after Charles H. Robinson, Esq. Chairman of the County Executive Committee, arose and said:

"I am the humble instrument for inviting you to a feast of fat things. It is not necessary that I should introduce to you Hon. George Davis, whom you all know, love and cherish."

This was greeted, Mr. Davis rising promptly, with hearty applause. .

Mr. Davis said he came to speak of serious things, and accepted the applause as an earnest of the popular? interest in the welfare of the country and its liberties, rather than as a special compliment to himself. He would not address himself to the task of eulogizing the National and Gubernatorial scattered before the arrival of the candidates. They were all that the occasion-a great one-required. -They needed no eulogy or defence. It was unnecessary for him to defend Gov. Wilden from the charge of perjury or Gov. Vance from that of cruelty.

Mr. Davis then developed his line of argument, which was to arraign Grant ism as constituting Republicanism or Radicalism, and deduce the lesson of duty on the part of citizens to support the Democratic party as the only organization capable of saving the liberties and restoring the honor and prosperity of the country. The argument, while it seemed to the hasty glance as if veiled by the noble rhetoric and vehement action of the speaker, was admirably illustrated by them. Mr. Davis showed that Grant's administration in its course in Louisiana Arkansas and South Carolina was utterly subversive of civil liberty. The peace of Grant had been an eight years' peace of bayonets. The scathing review of the Louisiana and Arkansas transactions, especially, was worthy of the illustrious Chatham whom he quoted. All through this part of the address there were brilliant flashes of sarcastic wit, and here and throughout his quotations and illustrations were of Damascene polish. It is impossible to reproduce them-just as it is impossile to pencil here a faint inkling of his lofty eloquence when he came to speak of the sacredness of the writ of habeas corpus and the terrible wrong its infraction by a Chief Justice of North Carolina and his as sociate Justices had wrought. Mr. Davis' argument led him to consider the violence and the extravagance of the Administration. Its various acts of usurpation were graphically, powerfully recited, seriatim. The Republican party having in Congress and by their public speakers endorsed these acts of usurpation, were clearly, by logic and fact, responsible for them. Then he came to consider Holden and the Supreme Court-the mad haste and partisan bitterness of the first, the cowardice or base connivance of the second. His description of the grim old Tower of London and his account of the arrest of John Wilkes, made as a companion picture with the deeds done under the Shoffner Bill, and his representation of the woes of that period, were perhaps, with his glowing peroration, the finest parts of his truly magnificent speech.

The speaker so electrified his audience that there were thunders of applause lasting for minutes; shouts accompanied the stamping of feet and canes and loud clapping of hands. It was a popular oration rather than a campaign speech-an effort of full Senatorial power, chaste the choice of language, beautiful in pathos and nervous beyond any speech we have heard in the canvass: A great speech brimful of truth garnished with the rich flowers of fancy, aglow with the brightest fires of a classic eloquence. At the close numbers rushed upon the stand and congratulated the honored speaker in the most enthusiastic and even affectionate terms. The soul of the great orator of New Hanover must have been deeply stirred by the manifestation, which was quite as much a compliment to him as it was a token of the popular impulse for better things in government.

Mr. Davis spoke only an hour and a half, and under the severest disadvantages-the execrable acoustic arrangement of the Hall and the restlessness of some persons at the back, who by these arrangements were deprived of the privilige of hearing continuously, would have disconcerted an ordinary speaker.

Adjournment of the Federal Court.

The United States District Court, after a session of three days, adjourned late in the afternoon Thursday.

Judge Brooks gets through with business, with judicial deliberation, but with all necessary dispatch, and adjourns his Courf. He is a good judge and an excellant man.

GENERAL CITY NEWS.

A Disgraceful Disturbance.

Last night after the Cornet Concert Club and the Tilden and Vance Guards had escorted the Hon. Geo. Davis to his residence, on Second between Walnut and Red Cross streets, the former proceeded down Third Street to escort the T. and V. Guards to their hall, ou Front between Market and Dock streets. When they reached the intersection of Third and Market streets they turned down the latter street to proceed to the T. and V. Guard's hall. When the negro boys, who were listening to Ike King's wild harrangue in front of the Market House, perceived them marching down Market street they ran after them burrahing and yelling like demons.

The Band and the T. and V. Guards seeing that the street was blocked up, turned down Third to Dock street, thereby going out of their line of march a half block rather than create a riot publish the call for a meeting on next by marching through the crowd. The negro boys immediately ran after them followed by a reinforcement of colored men. They followed them around the block to Front street, up which the Democrats had to go to reach their hall. When the negroes saw the whites marching towards them they began to threaten and threw a brick or two into the procession. The procession had reached the Hall and were about to disband, when the bat was thrown and the negroes rushed among them. A few blows had been passed when the police, hearing the alarm, arrived and dispersed the crowd.

A few minutes after a colored man was arrested for being disorderly, and two policemen went off with him to the daily papers at the head of their lock-up. They had just started when a large number of negroes crowded around them, and a squad of police were required to prevent the negroes from rescuing the prisoner.

This is a fine state of affairs, for which we have to thank the Republican party, a party conscienceless and lawless in teaching and practice. The police deserve commendation for the promptness with which the arrests were

Annual Meeting of the Chamber o Commerce.

The annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of this eity was held on yesterday at the rooms of the Produce Exchange, and was called to order by Col. W. L. DeRosset, the President. who, while returning his thanks for the honor of having been chosen their presiding officer, respectfully refused to be a candidate for, or accept the position, for a longer time. The annual election was then had and resulted in the following named gentlemen being Naturalization.

The gentlemen who have availed themselves of the opportunity of becoming citizens of the United States during this term of the U. S. District Court, are as follows: Messrs. B. C. Anderson, a native of Sweden; Leopold Brunhild, a native of Bavaria; William Milligan, a native of Scotland; Patrick Donlan, a native of Ireland; Henry S. Taylor, a native of England; Julius Hahn, a native of Prussia; Antonia Staffno. a native of Italy; Marcus D. Wessell, a native of West Hanover; William Hayes, a native of England James Corbett, a native of Ireland, and Robert Seyboth, a native of Wertem-

About forty persons received their naturalization papers from Judge Mc-Koy of the Superior Court last night.

An Elegaut New Boat. A shell arrived in the city from Norfolk Thursday, where it was built expressly for parties here, which is one of the most elegant and apparently one of the swiftest boats ever known in our waters.

The Clio is 47 feet long, and 26 inches across beam. She is exceedingly light, and is beautiful in execution.

The trial trip of the Clio was entirely satisfactory. Her delighted young owners, who are her crew, will soon have her out in the river again. The boat is of superior build, and runs like a streak of greased lightning, or something to that effect.

The crew of the Cho is composed as follows: Dudley Burkheimer, cockswain; Edgar Parmelee, stroke; Roger Petteway, David Mitchell, Oscar Grant, Fletcher Manning and Hep. Beery.

There was a heavy rain on Masonboro Sound night before last, rendering the roads almost impassable.

Our Public Schools.

During the past month the number of scholars at the public schools in this city was as follows:

WHITE SCHOLARS.

There were 60 males and 70 females at the Union School, and 50 males and 60 females at the Hemenway, each of which has four teachers.

COLORED SCHOOLS.

At the Williston Public School there were 122 males and 108 females. This school also has four teachers.

The Campbell Square School had 68 males and 85 females, with three teachers; and the school on the corner of Ninth and Chestnut streets had 30 males and 20 females, and one teacher. The number of those who attended during the year was 285 white, and 764 colored pupils.

A Fine Ship.

The Swedish Barque John Foight, of about 550 tons burden, arrived yesterday from Liverpool after a remarkably quick passage (for this season) of forty-five days. This vessel is perhaps the largest that has visited this port since the war, and presents a fine appearance. She enters with Consul Hiede and is chartered by Messrs. Alex. Sprunt & Son.

GOOD NEWS FOR TILDEN.

FAVORABLE ADVICES FROM PENNSYLVANIA AND OTHER STATES.

Things Look Bright for Our Uncle Samuel-Review of the Field-Pennsylvania Miners Deserting the Republican Party-The Despondent Feeling in Washington-Betting in New York.

Associated Press Telegrams.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3 .- Mr. W. W. Corcoran, a member of the Congressional Democratic Committee, has advices from the mining districts in Pennsylvania which indicate defection among the miners from the Republican party, amounting in some sections to a stampede. Philadelphia must contribute more than fifteen thousand majority to save the State to the Republicans.

There are no notable changes in other States in the North. States that have Democratic State governments will cast their vote for Mr. Tilden. Wisconsin may give her electoral vote cents; yellow 48,554 cents. to the Democrats, while California may, with equal possibility, go with the Republicans. The personal following of Mr. Hendricks secures Indiana beyond a doubt.

The feeling here, where the comfortable living of theee-fourths of the people depends upon Tuesday's work retaining the present party in power, is despondent.

SPEECH OF GOV. TILDEN.

Fraternity-Honesty-Retreachment -The Governor's Confidence.

Associated Press Telegrams. NEW YORK, Oct. 3 .- The Democratic procession ended quarter past one this morning. Just before its close Gov. Tilden, in response to loud calls, spoke as follows: "Fellow-citizens: This grand demonstration is a harbinger of success. Do your duty on Tuesday next as nobly as you have done it to-night. Our success means peace, reconcilation and fraternity among all our people of every class and race; it means national credit, founded on a solid basis of the united people; a frugal administration and honest and just government. It would bring a reduction of half of one per cent. in the. interest on the bonded national indebtedness below the lowest rate at which any loan has been negotiated which in a period of thirty-eight years would save to the people $350,000,000 of the $700,000,000 proposed to be issued at four and a half per cent. It would mean giving fair play to the healing influences of nature in the restoration of our business and industries to the prosperity of which bad administration has impaired and for the time

NEW YORK, Nov. 3 .- Last night the several pool rooms were crowded to overflowing by thousands anxious to learn something about the election and a large sum of money was invested during the evening on the results. At Morrissey's on the general result Tilden sold for $500 to Hayes at $375; on the result in the State of New York Tilden $1,000 and Hayes $400, with 20,000 majority $500 even was bet twice, with 15,000 majority $600 was bet once against $500; that Tilden will have 5,000 majority in New Jersey $500 even was bet. In Johnson's and the Turf Exchange the odds vary a little on the general result-Tilden $100, Haves $85; on the result in the State of New York, Tilden $100 to Hayes $40; on the result in Indiana, Tilden $100. Hayes $45; on the result in New Jersey, Tilden with 7,000 majority, $200 even; Tilden, with 20,000 majority in

New York, $100 to $90. In Philadelphia the odds on Tilden are steady at $100 to $80 on the general result, $100 to $35 and $40 on the result in the State of New York and $100 to $50 and .$55 on the result in the State of New Jersey.
