

THE CAPE FEAR.

NUMBER 27.

WILMINGTON, NORTH CAROLINA, WEDNESDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 15, 1876.

10 CENTS A WEEK

DUNHAM ELECTED. THE LEGISLATURE.

The Representatives from New Hanover—An Argument to Show that Maj. John W. Dunham is Elected to the House.

The subjoined argument is from the pen of a member of the Wilmington bar: It will not materially change the political complexion of the next General Assembly whether the Democratic majority be increased by the addition of one member to the number which are already ascertained to be elected, or whether that number be diminished by one; but it does materially affect the interests of the white people and property-owners of Wilmington and New Hanover, that they should be properly represented in the body which will necessarily be required to shape the legislation of the State under the adopted Constitutional Amendments. Since the adoption of the Constitution of '68 the people of New Hanover, who own ninety-nine hundredths of the property of the city and county, and who necessarily bear the burdens of taxation for the support of the city and county governments, besides contributing their very large proportion of the State's revenue, have had no voice in the legislation of the State, and no one who could properly present their grievances or explain their wants. Now that the Constitutional Amendments have been ratified by the people, and the Legislature has become thereby clothed with the constitutional powers which were necessary to tear down the costly fabric which the framers of the Canby Constitution erected, not for the protection but the oppression of an impoverished people, and now that a Legislature has been elected which has the will, as well as the ability to build up in its stead a system of laws which are adapted to the wants and requirements of all men of all classes, it is unquestionably desirable that New Hanover should have in the Legislature a representative man.

That it is impossible for the county to be so represented, it is the object of this communication to set forth. No one will question that W. H. Moore, colored, has been elected to the Senate, and that J. C. Hill, colored, and James Wilson have been elected to the House. It seems to be easy of demonstration that Maj. John W. Dunham, one of the Democratic candidates, has been likewise elected to the House, and is entitled to take his seat in that body on the meeting of the General Assembly. I beg for space to give the reasons for this claim.

The Legislature of 1874-'75 passed an act to establish the county of Pender. At the same session an act supplemental to this act was passed, in which it was provided that— "Sec. 4. At the election to be held on the first Thursday in August, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six, for members of the House of Representatives, the county of New Hanover shall elect two members and the county of Pender shall elect one member, which arrangement shall continue until the next apportionment."

Maj. Dunham's title to a seat in the House of Representatives, recently chosen, turns upon the question as to whether the Legislature of 1874-'75 had the constitutional right or power to enact the clause above recited. If the Legislature had the authority to put the above clause in the act referred to, then Alfred Lloyd, colored, who was the Republican candidate for the House in Pender county, and who received the majority of the votes polled in that county, is entitled to a seat; but if the above clause of the act be unconstitutional, there was no authority for holding separate elections for members of the House of Representatives in the counties of Pender and New Hanover, and therefore, the election in New Hanover and Pender was held as if the above clause had never been enacted. This being the case, the county of New Hanover is entitled to three members of the House, and the three candidates who received the highest number of votes are elected. Major Dunham received 1,621 votes—one more than Mr. Pearce received, and is one of three who received the highest number of votes.

A brief reference to the constitutional provisions which have a bearing on this question, must establish the fact that the above clause is unconstitutional. The Constitution, Art. II, Sec. 4, provides that "until the first session of the General Assembly, which shall be had after the year eighteen hundred and seventy-one, the Senators shall be elected from districts constituted as follows:"—then follows a list of the districts. This is an apportionment of the Senators made by the Constitution itself, and continued in force "until the first session of the General Assembly" which was had "after the year eighteen hundred and seventy-one." The Legislature of 1871-'72, in accordance with this clause of the Constitution, passed an act, (Battle's Revisal, Chap. 52), making a new apportionment of the State for both Senators and members of the House of Representatives, giving to New Hanover, one Senator and three Representatives—and provided (Sec. 2) that "until the General Assembly shall have made the new apportionment, as provided by the Constitution and laws of North Carolina, the House of Representatives shall be composed of members elected from the counties in the following manner, to wit:"—giving New Hanover three members.

Now, can the clause referred to in the act creating the county of Pender, which provides for the separate representation of that county, be said to be an apportionment? Even granting, for the sake of argument, that the Legislature possessed the constitutional authority to make a new apportionment at its session of 1874-'75, the session when the county of Pender was established, it can hardly be contended that the clause giving separate representation in the House to Pender and New Hanover, is such an apportionment as is contemplated by the Constitution.

But the General Assembly has no power under the Constitution to make another apportionment for the Senate after that made by the Legislature of 1871-'72, until a new census is taken in the year 1880 under the act of Congress, Sec. 5, Art. II, of the Constitution, as amended, clearly makes this provision. And Sec. 6 of the same article provides that the apportionment for the House "shall be made by the General Assembly at the respective times and periods when the districts for the Senate are directed to be laid off."

So that it would seem to be clear that the county of Pender is not entitled to representation separate from New Hanover. The conclusion follows that Maj. Dunham is entitled to his seat, he having received 1,621 votes, which makes him one of the three who received the highest number of votes cast in both New Hanover and Pender.

Movements of Cotton in Port.
There are seven foreign vessels loading at the wharves of the Compress Company with cotton and another, the Norwegian barque Saron, finished taking in and cleared on yesterday with a cargo of 1,700 bales. This is, with one exception, the largest cargo of cotton shipped from this port abroad since the late war. The British barque Premier cleared for Liverpool on the 27th November, 1875, with precisely the same number of bales, 1,700. With continued improvement in the depth of water on our bar, we hope ere long to report still larger cargoes.

Marine Temperance Society.
A very interesting meeting of the Marine Temperance Society was held Monday evening in the Seaman's Bethel. Over sixty persons were present and speeches were made by several well known speakers. The officers of the Society are under great obligations to the ladies who so kindly greeted the meeting with their presence and conducted the singing, as also to the merchants and friends who encouraged them with their presence.

Mayor's Court.
Maggie McKay, for keeping a disorderly house, was fined $50 and costs or 30 days on the streets. Alice Williams, for same offence, was fined $50 and costs or 30 days on the streets. Disabled.
By telegram from Portland, Maine, received last night, it is learned that the barque Roberts, from this port for Hull, had unshipped her rudder, shipped three anchors and had been towed into that port.

The W. L. L.
The Wilmington Light Infantry, at their meeting Monday night, received six new members. Some of the grey beards are going to fully arm and equip themselves to be on hand if the company shall escort Gov. Vance to Raleigh.

THE POLITICAL SITUATION.

Democrats Willing to Leave the Result with Honorable Men of Both Parties—South Carolina Republicans Wishing to Trade.
CHARLESTON, Nov. 14.—A Columbia special to the News and Courier says that the Republicans had made a proposition to give the State to Hampton and Hayes, which the Democrats rejected.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 14.—The following prominent Democrats are here: Ex-Gov. Parker, of New Jersey; Senator Randolph, of New Jersey; Hon. Montgomery Blair, of Maryland; Hon. A. H. Stuart, of Virginia, and Hon. G. O. Cox. All quiet and the Democrats are cheerful.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 14.—Hon. I. Q. C. Lamar says that duplicates of the supervisors' lists from all the parishes show a majority of 8,107. The people are quiet, but profoundly agitated, and are willing to leave the supervision and determination of the returns to honorable men of both parties.

CHARLESTON, Nov. 14.—The Supreme Court, with a full bench, has issued a rule requiring the Board of Canvassers to answer on Thursday why writs of prohibition should not issue restraining them from judicial functions and confining them to ministerial functions only.

[LATER.]
Nothing has transpired since the action of the Supreme Court this morning. The Democrats are cheerful. Everything quiet. The Republicans concede Hampton's election. The action of the Board of Canvassers renders it impossible to get figures of the returns.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 14.—The Democrats assembled at New Orleans have formally invited the Republicans assembled there at the President's request to meet them for organization with the view of carrying out the object desired.

MISCELLANEOUS DISPATCHES.
Boston, Nov. 14.—The third Church Congress of the Protestant Episcopal Church opened this morning with preliminary communion in St. Paul's Church. Bishop Paddock called Congress to order and delivered the opening address. Rev. Samuel Osgood, of New York, read a paper on the true place of art in Christianity.

CONDENSED TELEGRAMS.
The Alabama Legislature convened yesterday.
Three of the crew of the Oeromocto, at Wexford, were drowned.
The Czar has ordered the mobilization of a part of the Russian army.
Six persons were drowned by the wreck of the ship Caroline Agnes, says a Berwick dispatch.
Eighteen hundred bales of cotton and other freight were destroyed by fire on the Savannah Railroad.

GENERAL MAIL SUMMARY.
The Raleigh Constitution (Radical) is defunct.
The morning after the election the New York Sun sold 220,000 copies—the greatest newspaper of the country.
Another Radical emissary from Washington to doctor election returns was in Raleigh Saturday engaged in close consultation with the Radical leaders.

Jere Haralson, the colored Congressman from Alabama, who once sold himself for fifty dollars, failed to obtain a re-election on Tuesday. Gen. Joe Hawley, who drew up the Cincinnati platform, has the Hon. Jere Haralson's sympathy in a similar misfortune.

The United States garrison at Sumter Courthouse, under orders for Sackett's Harbor, were serenaded Friday by the Democratic citizens. Major Kelly, U. S. A., in response said he went to Sumter under orders, with instructions to abstain from all interference with the freedom of the ballot, and from what he had himself seen he was satisfied that the people of Sumter knew how to manage their own affairs, and that there was no necessity for United States soldiers.
