The Crew of an American Schooner Wrecked on the Coast of Cuba Pass a Night of Horror-Wonderful Escape from Death.

The schooner Ann E. Caril, of Northport, has been reported as having been PASSENGER AND MAIL EXPRESS. Cuba. Capt. Tylor, her commander, has now reached home, and makes report of the disaster as follows : They were making a very quick passage when a hurricane struck the ressel. She was driven at its mercy for four days, and on the fifth, after heating over two coral reefs, she was forced hard aground on this key: a small, desolate sand island, the only inhabitants of which were a great number of alligators, which swammed around during the Arrive at Charlotte at . first night and came near devotring the erew, being only kept off by a fire which they succeeded in kindling, and the snapping of their large jaws being heard on every side. The key is about sixty miles from the mainland, and out of the usual track of vessels. SAVED BY THE LOST.

Soon after the Caril had thus been Arrive at Charlotte wrecked, her crew were the fortunate | Leave Charlotte means of saving a Spanish and an English trew, whose vessels had gone to pieces, Leave Laurinburg and Capt. Tylor, finding that he had to Arrive at Wilmington divide his seanty store of provisions with these brothers in misfortune—there being | Leave Wilmington | 5 now thirty-five persons on the island, and that starvation would soon be staring them in the face, sent his mate and one seaman in a boat to Cienfuegos, about 100 miles distant, with instructions to ask assistance from the United States Consul at Havana. On hearing the facts the Spanish government, as soon as possible, sent a gunboat with provisions for the relief of the shipwrecked crews, who, were found in an almost famished condition, Capt. Tylor having meantime shot with his rifle three alligators, which were skinned and eaten. The mate chartered in Havana the barque Perces Hinkley, in which to ship the cargo and what was saved of the wreck to New York. They had a very rough voyage, occupying thirty-eight days, when they put in at Hatteras Inlet, with all sails blown away and all on board ne rly starved. having for eight days been on snort allow. ance of biscuit and water. The schooner has been unfortunate, having twice before been wrecked-once off Norfolk, Va., and once on Block Island. By the final m.s. fortune Boss Jesse Caril, of Northport, who owned about one-half the vessel, loses about $7,000, on which he had but little

THE SUN.

The different editions of THE SUN during the next year will be the same as during the year that has just passed. The daily edition will on week days be a sheet ter that are already familiar to our friends. THE SUN will continue to be the strenuous advocate of reform and retrenchment, and of the substitution of statesmanship, wisdom, and integrity for hollow pretence, imbecility, and fraud in the administration of public affairs. It will contend for the government of the people by the people and for the people, as opposed to govern-ment by frauds in the ballot-box and in the the counting of votes, enforced by military violence. It will endeavor to supply its readers-a body now not far from a million of souls-with the most careful, complete and trustworthy accounts of current events, and will employ for this purpose a numerous and care. Ily selected staff of reporters and corre rond; its. Its reports from Washington, capeily, will be full, accurate and fearing, and it will doubt-ess continue to deserve and enjoy the hatred of those who thrive by plundering the Treasury or by userping what the law does not give them, while it will endeavor to merit the confidence of the public by defending the rights of the people against the encroachments of an unjustified power.

The price of the daily SUN will be 5 cents a month or $6 50 a year, or with the Sunday edition $7 70 a year.

The SUNDAY edition alone, eight pages, 81 20 a year, postpaid.

The WEERLY SUN, eight pages of 56 broad columns, will be furnished during 1877 at the rate of $1 a year, postpaid. The benefit of this large reduction from the previous rate for THE WEEKLY can be enjoyed by individual subscribers without the necessity of making up clubs. At the same time, if any or our friends choose to aid in extening our circulation, we shall be grateful to them, and every such per son who sends us ten or more subscribers from one place will be entitled to one copy of the paper for himself without charge. At one dollar a year postage paid, the expenses of paper and printing are barely paid; and, considering the size of the speet and the quality of its contents, we are conident the people will consider THE WIELL SUN in cheapest newspaper published in the world, and we trust also one
