Washington, April 18.—The nineteenth annual convention of the D. A. R., met here today and the ladies were welcomed by President Taft. Continental Memorial Hall was gaily decorated for the occasion with flags and bunting. More than 1,000 delegates were in the hall. Great interest attaches to the meeting because it is the first to be held in the new hall and because of the row on between President General Mrs. Scott and those who oppose her policies. The afternoon session was given over to reports of committees.

PASSENGERS SAVED

Taken Off the Stranded Liner Minnehaha This Morning.

London, April 18.—All the passengers of the stranded liner Minnehaha, which crashed on the rocks of Scilly Islands shortly after midnight, were rescued in the darkness and fog this morning. The vessel ran aground in the heavy sea and fog. The transfer of passengers was accomplished safely. They were landed in small boats, though the "S. O. S." call brought several boats to the rescue. The captain and crew remained aboard the steamer and it is believed this morning that she can be floated. The passengers were rushed to London this morning.

A CORRECT LIST

Of Those to Whom Liquor Licenses Have Been Issued—Names of Those to Whom Oleomargarine Licenses Had Been Issued Were Included in Original List by Internal Revenue Department.

Considerable public interest was excited Saturday night and yesterday through the announcement to the public of those who have secured liquor licenses from the Internal Revenue Department at Raleigh. However, the list as first given out contained the names of several whose licenses for selling oleomargarine were included in the original list. The list was secured by citizens and was published by a committee appointed for the purpose of handling communications to the press of the city. The following self-explanatory communication was submitted to this paper today for publication:

Wilmington, April 18, 1910. To The Evening Dispatch, City. Gentlemen: In yesterday morning's issue of the Wilmington Star we printed the names of people in Wilmington holding Government liquor licenses obtained by us from Raleigh, and asked for any explanation connected with the same. The list, though furnished to us under the caption of Liquor Licenses, contained a few parties holding only Oleomargarine licenses, and having obtained this information from the parties, the following names are stricken out: Aman Bros., Baggett Bros., D. M. Davis, C. P. Montgomery, C. R. Pape, People's Supply Co., Thomas & Co., J. E. Marshburn and R. A. Montgomery and J. G. Kuhiken.

We hope further eliminations will be made and we will be glad to make any further corrections in the list, but we shall insist on the names of those who hold liquor licenses being known to the public. After eliminating the above names the list stands corrected as below.

New Berlin, N. C.—Berlin Supply Co. Carolina Beach—Carolina Beach pleasure Co. Wrightsville, N. C.—John T. Capps. The announcement of the above list to the public was intended by the citizens committee merely to let the public know who have government liquor licenses for the sale of whiskey and not to place before the community in a wrong light any persons who have oleomargarine licenses. A conference of a number of citizens was held several nights ago. It was then determined to inaugurate a movement for better government and for more specific results from the tax payers' money as it passes through different municipal channels. It is the intention of this citizens movement to institute an aggressive campaign and the publication of the names of the liquor license holders is the first step in the matter.

Mr. Jurgon Harr requested The Dispatch to state that he and his brother have United States license to sell malt liquors and not whiskey; that they sell "near-beer" and not whiskey. For Mr. Walter C. Boesch the statement is cheerfully made that the license held by him is merely for the sale of near-beer. Mr. Boesch says he simply pays $20 per year for his license and that it permits him to sell only near-beer and he strictly conforms to the privilege allowed.

Mr. Stone Better. Messrs. R. R. and J. H. Stone returned this morning from Shallotte, where they have been at the bedside of their father, Mr. W. H. Stone, during the past few days. The elder Mr. Stone has rallied from his desperate illness in most gratifying manner and strong hopes are now entertained for his recovery. This information will be received with much pleasure by his friends here.

TODAY IN THE HIGHER COURT

Sloan & Sweeney Case Goes Over

Interesting Argument in the Gregg $25,000 Damage Suit Against the City and Mr. James F. Woolvin Made a Co-Defendant—Several Non Suits and a Number of Continuances—Very Little Actual Work Done Today in the Superior Court.

There was very little doing in the Superior Court this morning, as the continuance of the case of Sloan & Sweeney vs. Edda Hart, et al, following the continuance Saturday of the suit of J. A. Burriss vs. the City of Wilmington, knocked sky high expectations and counsel appeared unprepared to try anything this morning. Hence, a recess was taken shortly after noon until 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Several important matters were, however, considered this morning. One of chief interest was the big damage action brought by Mrs. Susan M. Gregg, administratrix, against the City of Wilmington.

This case was set for trial for today, but when reached ex-Mayor A. G. Ricaud made a special appearance for Mr. James F. Woolvin, asking that his client be eliminated from the case. He stated that the complaint did not make Mr. Woolvin a party-defendant, and cited no cause of action against him, but that City Attorney Herbert McClammy in his answer endeavored to bring Mr. Woolvin into the case, claiming that he (Woolvin) was primarily responsible, if there was any responsibility. He asked that Mr. Woolvin be eliminated from the suit, and then after the termination of the case, the city could sue Mr. Woolvin if it saw fit. There was extensive argument in the matter. City Attorney Herbert McClammy contending that Mr. Woolvin had been brought into court, the suit having been originally filed against him and the City of Wilmington, and while the complaint only set up damages against the City of Wilmington, yet no non-suit had ever been taken as to Mr. Woolvin.

George Rountree, Esq., stated to the court that the plaintiff did not wish the case delayed, as it was one of importance to her; that his side had a right to elect which party—the city or Mr. Woolvin—it would sue and that in deference to the wishes of Mrs. Gregg they had eliminated Mr. Woolvin from the suit.

Judge Cooke, however, held that as Mr. Woolvin had been brought into court by summons, that he was still in court and the City of Wilmington had a right to make him a co-defendant. Mr. Ricaud protested strenuously and cited several cases, but the court held against him. Then Mr. Ricaud asked for ample time in which to file an answer to the complaint, or an answer to the answer filed by the City of Wilmington.

Hon. John D. Bellamy argued for the plaintiff and stated that they did not seek damages against Mr. Woolvin and would suffer a non suit as to him. The court held that it was too late to suffer such a non suit, and ordered Mr. Woolvin made a party defendant and that he be allowed twenty days in which to file an answer. It was also ordered that the case be set for trial for the third one of the May term of court.

It will be recalled that the suit is brought by Mrs. Gregg for damages suffered by the loss of her husband, E. M. Gregg, who was killed April of last year, by a pile of brick falling upon him. The brick were piled in front of the large stores being erected for Mr. Woolvin, on Princess street, and it is charged that these brick were insecurely packed and not properly propped. This, the defendant City of Wilmington, denies and claims that the accident was caused by Mr. Gregg's own negligence in leaning against the pile of brick, and catching hold of a piece of timber on top of the pile, which caused the brick to tumble.

The case of Sloan & Sweeney vs. Hart, et al, was continued this morning for the defense, owing to the indisposition of ex-Judge E. K. Bryan. However, it was peremptorily set for trial for the second case of the May term.

Entries were made in a number of other cases, as follows: Leger Myer vs. S. L. Smith & Son, continued.

REGULAR MEETING HELD

Ministerial Association Had Interesting Session at the Y. M. C. A. Building Today—At the Next Meeting an Address Will be Delivered by Ensign Williams, of the Salvation Army.

The regular weekly meeting of the Ministerial Association was held this morning in the Y. M. C. A. parlors. There was a fine attendance of the ministers of the city and the session proved deeply profitable to everyone in attendance. The regular talks which are held at each meeting were dispensed with today. The ministers told of the services held in the churches yesterday and the fine results which attended the work among the congregations during the past week.

Next Monday morning Ensign Williams, of the Salvation Army post, will address the association. He will tell something of the work of the Salvation Army throughout the county. He will also give interesting facts as to the work which is done by the local post in Wilmington. Ensign Williams is an interesting speaker and his address will undoubtedly be well worth hearing.

Tomorrow Mr. C. C. Robinson, Southern Secretary for the Boys' Department of Y. M. C. A. work will visit the local association. He will meet the boys tomorrow night after the gymnasium class has been concluded. Mr. Robinson will make a short address and talks will be delivered by different association members interested in this work for boys.

INFANTICIDE CHARGED.

Mina Bessent Will be Required to Stand Trial.

After working quietly for several days, Constable W. B. Savage Saturday night arrested Mina Bessent, a young negro woman on the charge of infanticide, the arrest following the discovery of the body of a dead infant beneath a house on South Fifth street some days ago. The woman yesterday admitted that she was the mother of the child and that she had concealed the body beneath the house. Her statement was voluntarily made in the presence of several officers after she had been warned that any statement she might make would be taken against her.

The woman was incarcerated in the county jail after arrest. Yesterday morning it was decided to remove her to the hospital for medical attention. The warrant against the young woman was sworn out under complaint of Mary Langston and it alleges infanticide. The warrant was issued by Magistrate George Harriss and the preliminary investigation will be held before him as soon as the woman leaves the hospital.

The woman's mother was arrested also as it was first believed that she was an accomplice in the crime. The defendant is being held under a $1,000 bond, permission for her removal to the hospital yesterday having been given by Magistrate Harriss.
