THEATRE

In the appearance next week of Miss Ruth Grey, "The Woman Wonderful," the Academy will offer a sensation, as this noted artist has been astonishing some of the most scientific with her exhibitions. Her work is far above what is commonly called second-sight and in Charleston she created such a stir that her engagement was prolonged to two weeks; hence, her engagement here was deferred from the present week to next.

Many of the leading citizens of Charleston, including the mayor, went upon the stage to see if her work was genuine. They had to acknowledge that it was, so far as they could see. Miss Grey is a highly educated and a beautiful woman.

Popular prices are to prevail for the engagement here, these being 10, 20 and 30 cents.

At the Bijou.
One of the strongest motion picture bills, from every standpoint, will be presented at the Bijou today. There will be just the strongest kind of dramatic pictures, a masterful picture creation of travels in Switzerland, which will instruct, as well as delight the vision, and a film dealing with woman suffrage. The latter, "When Women Strike," will cause the sides of all to split with laughter.

The two powerful dramatic films are "The Rival Barons," which unfolds a thrilling tale of the Middle Ages, and "A Republican Marriage," telling in graphic manner a romance of Paris life.

Then will come a film of beautiful scenery, "An Alpine Retreat." The scenes are of Switzerland. Perhaps no country in the world so lends itself and its beauties to the camera as does this favorite resort of pleasure seekers from every land. The present series affords exquisite panoramic views of nature at her best, in combination with the results of human ingenuity which has taken advantage of every spot favorable to the purpose of full enjoyment of the picturesque and majestic surroundings.

Wooded heights rise from the water's edge; noble mansions nestle amid horticultural beauties on the banks and islands of the lake; mountains, now half enshrouded in soft morning mists, now bathed in brilliant mid-day sunlight, rise height above height in silent sublimity to the far distant horizon, and the loveliness which will appeal to the stay-at-home and to the traveler alike.

Grand Theatre.
Today is Hospital day at the "Theatre Beautiful" and indications point to a tremendous business, the proceeds of which are to go to the Hospital fund. Not only is the day a feature day but the bill at the Grand is also a feature, having as it does three of the greatest motion picture triumphs of modern times.

One of the most interesting pictures made in some time is the great Society drama, "An Aching Void."

This picture portrays a great story and the one big feature of it is the gorgeous costuming and stage setting. "An Aching Void" is presented by the Vitagraph Stock Co. and we can safely say that it is one of the finest that this excellent Company has ever produced.

"A Thwarted Vengeance" is the new Essany offering and tells the story of plucky western girl. Nell Oloot a pretty western girl is the proprietress of a bar and gambling hall in a western village.

She has many admirers among the cowboys and one Bob Grisvold whom she favors is the hero of this western drama. The acting while sensational is way above the standard and the scenic portion of this picture has never been surpassed.

A Biograph offering "A Plain Song" will close this superb bill and as most everybody is familiar with the Biograph films it is needless to say much about this picture.

The story centers around a young girl who is a saleslady in a department store and who is the sole support of her father and mother.

She is denied all the pleasures that her shopmates are enjoying as it takes all her money and time to keep the family going.

The story is very dramatic and is one of those lessons that tend to make everybody better for having seen it.

Mr. Henry will sing "Rings On My Fingers" and the orchestra will play several song hits from "Madame Sherry."

Famous Painting Ends Saturday.
Tomorrow at 10 p. m. will close the engagement of the mystery painting "The Shadow of the Cross." The engagement has been one of the most successful in the South and the Custodian expresses himself as delighted with the reception the painting has received.

Those who have not viewed the wonderful work of art have but two more days in which to do so. The Palace wherein the picture is exhibited has been crowded with enthusiasts and its engagement will long be remembered in Wilmington.

Many clergymen have commented on the wonderful phenomenon seen in connection with the painting and the great lesson it teaches.

The last exhibition will be given Saturday and will last until 10 p. m.

If all citizens were to do like some and not register, what would be the outcome? Think—Do it now.

"BLIND TIGER" TRIED

I. G. Pickett, indicted yesterday by the Grand Jury, faces the Recorder—Submitted in One Case—Decision in Two Cases Reserved Until Tomorrow.

Only one matter, but that matter of the proportion of three "blind tiger" cases, came up in the Recorder's court this morning. The three cases were against I. G. Pickett, the white man who runs a store at Castle Hayne and against whom the grand jury yesterday returned three indictments for violation of the prohibition law, same being turned over to the Recorder. In the very first case the defendant submitted, though afterwards he tried to squirm out of it. In the three cases Pickett was charged with selling liquor to W. C. Hardison, T. G. Futch and Mark Savage. In the first case, Hardison testified that he went to Pickett's place and called for whiskey. He was given what he called for, paid for it and drank it. After hearing this the defendant submitted. In the other two cases about the same state of facts developed, but on cross examination, the witnesses stated they could not swear absolutely that what they were given was whiskey. Counsel for the defense immediately raised the point that it had not been shown that it was whiskey sold them, and then asked to re-open the submission case, in which Hardison had testified; to recall Hardison to the stand, with the evident purpose of trying to show that he could not possibly testify that what he bought was whiskey, even though he called for such and it tasted like whiskey.

Marsden Bellamy, Esq., representing the State, objected to re-opening the case on any such point and the Recorder sustained the objection. Mr. Bellamy then argued strongly that the defendant was guilty in the other two cases. Counsel for the defendant, L. Clayton Grant, Esq., argued that his client was not guilty, as it had not been absolutely shown that what was obtained was whiskey.

Recorder Furlong took under advisement his decision in the two cases, until tomorrow, and at the same time left open the judgment in the submission case, pending his findings in the other two cases.

Pickett in the meantime was placed under a $400 justified bond, which he gave.

The Sound Sleep of Good Health
Can not be overestimated and any ailment that prevents it is a menace to health. J. L. Souther, Eau Claire, Wis., says: "I have been unable to sleep soundly nights, because of pains across my back and soreness of my kidneys. My appetite was very poor and my general condition was much run down. I have been taking Foley Kidney Pills but a short time and now sleep as sound as a rock, my general condition is greatly improved, and I know that Foley Kidney Pills have cured me." Good results always follow the use of Foley Kidney Pills. They are a prompt corrective of urinary irregularities. Try them. R. R. Bellamy.
