FASHIONS

New York, June 10.—For the going away girl this steamer coat of striped tweed presents many points of excellence. It is loose enough and light enough to be thrown over any gown without destructive effects, and its long straight lines are just what the most exacting tailors now insist upon. The heavy automobile veil wound coquettishly about the head, suggests that the coat is just as suitable for motoring wear as for the steamer deck upon a cool day.

STEAMER COAT

New York, June 10.—On those sumptuous garments made to wear over summer evening dresses elaborate embroideries are the rule rather than the exception. This evening wrap of white broadcloth is decorated with an embroidery of French knots in Egyptian pattern, which outlines the wide girde and covers the square sailor collar.

EMBROIDERED EVENING WRAP

of Tidewater Power Company will stop at Wrightsville Sound.

The Tidewater Power Company has announced that beginning with tonight, all express trains for Wrightsville Beach will stop at Wrightsville Sound. This is an innovation as the through trains in the past have made their first stop at the Oceanic Hotel on the beach. The new rule will satisfy the convenience of many patrons at Wrightsville Sound and the new stop will serve in no manner to interfere with the fine through schedule attained by the Tidewater Company.

Your Neighbor's Experience. How you may profit by it. Take Foley Kidney Pills. Mrs. E. G. Whiting, 360 Willow street, Akron, O., says: "For some time I had a very serious case of kidney trouble and I suffered with backaches and dizzy headaches. I had specks floating before my eyes and I felt all tired out and miserable. I saw Foley Pills advertised and got a bottle and took them according to directions and results showed almost at once. The pain and dizzy headaches left me, my eye-sight became clear and today I can say I am a well woman, thanks to Foley Kidney Pills." R. R. Bellamy.

THEATRE

Headed by two of the greatest human-nature films and including a big and merry musical program, the Bijou is offering a brilliant gem in today's bill. It is one of the largest moving picture bill ever presented anywhere, and it is one of the most up-to-date and costly. It should certainly be seen, and all who go can be assured of ease and comfort in the delightfully cool and popular Bijou.

"Short-Lived Happiness" is a great film of reformatory life, with a brave youth as the central figure. It is both novel and highly interesting.

"The Visiting Nurse" is another great success. Grace Langdon, a society belle provoked by unintentional neglect of her fiancé, Doctor Park, a busy physician, breaks her engagement and the lovers separate.

Later, Grace's father loses his fortune and Grace, determined to earn a livelihood and to be useful to the world, joins the Visiting Nurses' Association. Succeeding scenes show Grace and some of her poor patients in the Ghetto and show districts of the great city, where extreme poverty crushes the lives of the people to whom the visiting nurse is truly an angel of mercy.

Among her charges, Grace finds a hair-worker, a consumptive, and his daughter, a pretty girl. The nurse places the father in a sanitarium and secures a position for the girl, "Fat" Terry, a loafer, takes a fancy to the girl, who is rescued from his clutches by Grace. We next see a widowed mother leaving her seven children to go to work in a factory. Grace enters and finding the small baby very ill, she goes out for a physician. "Fat" Terry attacks the nurse, and she is rescued by Doctor Park, her former fiancé. The doctor treats the baby and then he and Grace decide to join their lives and work together.

Grand Theatre.

Today the Grand offers one of the best moving picture shows that money can produce. Three reels of the very latest pictures are on the bill, also a new song by Mr. Baldwin, and a special program by the Grand orchestra.

It has been some time since Graduates have had the pleasure of seeing a real good new Kalem, the headline picture today is the very latest release by this Co., will be a feature picture in every respect.

"Advertising For Mama" A poor workman and his wife are estranged. The husband with hard work and long hours, becomes in a measure coarse and brutal. The wife in turn finally loses patience and courage and runs away, leaving a note stating that she cannot endure the hard loveless life. The husband realizes the situation when too late. The family get along as best they can. The two little girls keep house for the father. Finally the man is injured through an accident on the dock where he is employed, and is confined to his bed. The little girls are in deep distress. At length Peachie has an idea. She proposes to advertise for her mama. She is certain that if her mama knew of their trouble she would come home. The plan is carried into effect and with success. The Grand is the right place if you want to rest and see a good show and cool off.

Operation of Dog Cart.

It is probable that the dog cart will be started on its rounds Monday or Tuesday of next week. Those who have not secured tags for their dogs are notified that the animals will be impounded when the cart starts its tours about the city after canine victims.

MELTING POT OF TIME

After Fifty Years of Popular Trial the Great American Public Has Placed the Seal of Approval on Cardui, The Woman's Tonic.

Chattanooga, Tenn.—If the letter of every lady who has written in praise of Cardui (the woman's tonic) were to be printed in this size type, it would cover over a year's edition of this newspaper and leave no room for news.

The great melting of time turns out the gold of success and the dross of failure.

As stated in this way, Cardui, the tonic for weak women, is pure gold.

For over fifty years, five-sevenths of a life time, it has been in use for this one thing, and in that time, public opinion has indorsed it, because of the success it has accomplished.

For pain, weakness, irregularity, for any of the troubles from which weak women suffer, Cardui has proven its helping, curative power.

In every community, there live some who have been benefited by Cardui. Have you tried it?

If not, do so today. It may be just the medicine you need.

Your druggist sells it, and will recommend it.
