Thousands flocked from the suburbs to the city West End to see the decorations and watch the preparations for tomorrow's great event. The day is filled with interesting events. Royal carriages, with scarlet clad footmen, moved to and fro, conveying the King's guests to entertainments in their honor. The attractions included a drive of the King and Queen through West End to the National Horse Show at Olympia.

NOTHING BUT GOITRE.

Austrian Scientists Get Corroboration of Harmlessness of Sea Denizens as Article of Diet.

Vienna, June 21.—Experiments at the Technical Institute have proved to the satisfaction of those concerned that water taken at meals is an aid to digestion and a general benefit to the system. The water, it was found, by testing several human subjects, leads to a more economical utilization of the protein constituents of the diet. The investigations here serve to confirm those made some time ago by Fowler and Hawk at the University of Illinois in America. The Austrian experimenters have a kind word, too, for light wines and malt beverages taken in moderation with the meals.

Scientists in the Hungarian Research Laboratory at Budapest are preparing to take up a question raised by Martine and Lenhart at Cleveland, Ohio. These men, acting under the direction of the Rockefeller Institute of New York, have cast doubt, it is learned, on the findings of the New York State Cancer Laboratory at Buffalo.

At the latter institution it has been asserted that cancer is a fish disease, and hence is likely to be introduced to the human system by a careless and indiscriminate fish diet. The Cleveland experiments, on the other hand, seem to show that what the New Yorkers have supposed to be cancer in fish is actually only goitre. The Hungarian scientists hope to settle the controversy, which is of the utmost consequence.

TO FROZEN NORTH

Washington Society Woman Braving Wilds of Northern Alaska.

Washington, June 21.—Miss Mary Carlisle, one of the most popular members of Washington's smart set, has the distinction of being the first unmarried woman to explore the frozen wilds of Northern Alaska. She is a daughter of the late Calderon Carlisle, a lawyer who had an international reputation.

Miss Carlisle recently joined the Coast and Geodetic Survey party which is to mark the boundary between the British possessions and Alaska on the extreme northern point. The party of American scientists left Seattle recently on an American vessel and are now somewhere far up in Alaska.

At Dawson they were joined by a band of Eskimoes, who will act as servants and guides. The objective point is the one hundred and forty-first meridian west of Greenwich. Here the party will make camp all through the summer months and carry on the survey work.

The party is in charge of Thomas Ross. One of his assistants is accompanied by his wife, who chaperons Miss Carlisle. No white woman has gone thus far north, according to the officials of the survey, and the exposure and lack of the necessities of life have resulted frequently in the death of members of surveys sent out by the Government.

Miss Carlisle's brother, Mandeville, says that he had heard little or nothing from her since the party left Seattle, and he does not know where they are at present.

FIGHTS WIFE'S SUIT

Count Says Court Has No Jurisdiction, and Wants Child.

Chicago, June 21.—Count Josef Glizycky of Austria and Russia has filed answer to the suit for divorce brought in the local courts by the former Miss Eleanor Patterson, daughter of the late R. W. Patterson and niece of Robert McCormick, former Ambassador to France, Russia and Austria.

The Count denies that the Illinois courts have jurisdiction in the case and sets forth that he already has obtained a divorce from the Countess in his own country on the same charge she brings against him—that of desertion. He furthermore denies the charges of desertion and indiscretions. The possession of their only child is the bone of contention. The Countess now has possession, but the Count demands that it be restored to him under an order of the Austro-Hungarian courts. It was this child, a daughter six years old, that the Czar of Russia ordered Count Glizycky to restore to his wife after he had kidnapped it at Vienna.

ATTACKED SEE IN COURT HOUSE

Father Assaults Apostle of "Absolute Life"

Sensational Scene Connected With the Trial of See Today in Chicago—Mildred Bridges Continues Her Testimony and Tells of Her Strong Faith.

Chicago, June 21.—Mildred Bridges, for whose alleged abduction Evelyn Arthur See, founder of the "absolute life" cult is being tried, again took the stand when the trial was resumed today. She declared she, See and Mona Rees spent many of their evenings in the See home reading, playing games and forgetting the study of the absolute life. During recess Stephen H. Bridges, father of the girl, whose abduction See is charged with, attacked See in the corridor of the court building. With a curse, Bridges leaped at the apostle, striking him on the body. Court attaches separated the men.

Mildred Bridges declared she accepted and believed every statement made by See in any of his writings. The girl identified a letter she wrote to See calling him husband and signed herself wife. She ended the letter promising everlasting love. The words "love" and "dear" she explained did not have the usual meaning. "I loved Mr. See as I do God, because he tells me the truth," she said. She testified that in her opinion, See alone was "God man," the herald of "absolute life."

BEING PAID TOO MUCH.

Government Giving Up Too Much For Mail Transportation to Big Trunk Lines.

Washington, June 21.—Many of the big trunk lines are being largely overpaid by the Government for carrying the mails. A saving of about $9,000,000 can be effected without doing injustice to the transportation companies, Postmaster General Hitchcock following an investigation.

The inquiry brings out the fact that of the 394 companies reported on, 278 are making profits from mail transportation while 116 are incurring losses. The rate of profit and loss varies widely with different companies.

The investigation, which has involved a vast amount of work, was instituted by Mr. Hitchcock under authority granted by an old statute that had never been effectively enforced. The railroads were never before required to disclose the cost of carrying passengers and express, as well as the mails.

In readjusting the compensation of railroads for mail transportation in conformity with the conditions shown by the inquiry it will be necessary to increase the pay of certain lines that are now carrying the mails at a loss while reducing the compensation of the systems that are making unreasonable profits from this service. By making such a readjustment on a basis of a 6 per cent profit to all railroads carrying the mails it will be possible to save the Government approximately $9,000,000 a year.

Congress will be asked to authorize a readjustment. This will pave the way still further for the introduction of one-cent letter postage which, according to Postmaster General Hitchcock, can be accomplished without a postal deficit just as soon as the postage rate on second class mail matter is properly adjusted.

MRS. AVA WILLING ASTOR

DOWAGER QUEEN ALEXANDRA

London, June 21.—Wide comment has been caused here by the announced refusal of dowager Queen Alexandra to attend the coronation ceremony of King George V., her son, and Queen Mary. The dowager queen is not on good terms with her daughter-in-law. They have not been speaking to each other for several months. King George remains neutral in the quarrel. Mrs. Ava Astor is another notable woman who refused to figure at the coronation. Although an American, Mrs. Astor has long been a prominent factor in the highest circles of British society. She does not consider that the attitude of Queen Mary toward her has been cordial enough—in fact, she has stated that her majesty has endeavored directly to snub her. Mrs. Astor's refusal to witness the coronation or to take part in any of the festivities has occasioned considerable discussion in English nobility circles as well as among the members of the American colony here.

SAVANNAH RACES

Application for Two Big Auto Events Referred Back to Contest Committee—Likely Savannah Will Be Required to Have Two Full Days Interim Between the Racing Days.

New York, June 21.—The Board of Governors of the Automobile Club of America has referred back to the contest committee, with power to act, its recommendation concerning the issuance of a sanction for the grand prize race at Savannah. Application was made by the Savannah Automobile Club, the date desired being November 30 which President Taft will name as Thanksgiving Day. Savannah will also have the conduct of the Vanderbilt cup race this fall and is desirous of running two contests on succeeding days. It is probable the committee will override the proposal to hold the two races on succeeding days and stipulate that two full days shall elapse between their running. The Savannah Club will therefore be obliged to hold the Vanderbilt race Monday, November 27, or on an earlier date, if it conducts the gold cup contest Thanksgiving Day.

Stocks Today.

New York, June 21.—Wall Street—A slight heaviness was shown by the stock market at the opening. Declines were general. In no instance were they more than fractional. Heaviness at the outset were off. There was a gradual hardening all around. Yesterday's heavy liquidation in American Telephone ceased. It rose to a point over yesterday's closing. Trading in stocks during the morning session was extremely light, and entirely devoid of significance. The market seemed affected by the bulliness in London, where financial operations were at a complete standstill by reason of the coronation.

Usual midday dullness was intensified by the conflicting character of crop news. Speculative operations were virtually suspended after prices established at level were slightly above yesterday's closing.

BILL WILL GO TO CONFERENCE

Direct Election of Sena- tors in the House

Southern Representatives Will Oppose Bristow Amendment and So Conference Will Be Held—Senator Root Today Explains His Amendment to Canadian Reciprocity.

Washington, June 21.—Senator Root's long expected explanation of his amendment in the Senate today gave the debate on the measure an impetus. Root's amendment deals with reciprocal exchange of print paper and pulp wood by Canada and the United States. He argues that the bill is incomplete without his amendment.

While the Senate is busily engaged with reciprocity the House had on its program consideration of the joint resolution for direct election of Senators. The amendment by the Senate, providing for Federal supervision of elections, when necessary, is not liked by the Southern Representatives. Before adjournment it is likely the resolution will be sent to conference with instructions by the House to oppose adoption of the provision.

CAN'T COOK HE SHOULDN'T WED

Let Wife Stay In Bed and Take Her Chocolate, Advises Chicago Judge.

Chicago, June 21.—The spoon that stirs the soup is the symbol of domestic felicity and the husband should learn to use it as well as the wife, said Municipal Judge Goodnow today when he was called on to censure a man who, unable to cook, had forced his wife to arise at 3:30 a. m. to get his breakfast. The Judge is a good chef himself, and is proud of it.

"The man that can't cook shouldn't think of getting married," said Judge Goodnow. "He is a pitiable object. Let the June bride beware of her husband if he cannot toss the piping hot flapjack or coax the flavor from the carrot to the soup."

"The engaged girl usually does not consider in her beautiful dream of things as they should be the drowsy breakfast time. That's where the husband's business of cooking comes in."

"Let him jump cheerily from bed, tell the wife to snuggle comfortably in the blankets and then let him go down and turn out a mess for himself and wind up by carrying her a cup of chocolate before he hikes for the 7:15. Don't you see that her harmless illusions will thrive and help their married life?"

"I'm a mamma boy, if that's what it is, and I'm proud of it."

MARY SMITH

Negro Woman Adjudged Insane, Kicked Jailed Branch in the Eye Yesterday.

Mary Smith, a negro woman adjudged insane, and who created all sorts of excitement on two different occasions last week when she resisted being carried to the county jail, reached the climax of her performance yesterday when she knocked Jailer J. W. Branch in the eye, nearly putting the member out of commission. The jailer was entering the cell with food for the woman when she landed on his optic member with one of her feet, inflicting a most painful injury. The eye is bruised and swollen today and has given Mr. Branch considerable pain. The woman will be sent to the hospital at Goldsboro this afternoon. In the meantime there is no telling what manner of performance she may pull off to serve a concluding chapter in her history of adventures.

TAFT ASSAILS DRUG FRAUDS

President Sends Special Message to Congress

Scorches the Manufacturers of "Dangerous Drug Frauds" and Urges Congress to Amend the Act Bearing on Same—Message Called for By Recent Decision of the United States Supreme Court.

Washington, June 21.—In a message prepared in New York and transmitted through the White House to Congress today, President Taft scathingly arraigned the manufacturers of "Dangerous Drug Frauds," and urged Congress to amend at this session the pure food and drug law, to strengthen that act in view of the points of weakness strongly pointed to by the decision of the Supreme Court. President Taft, believes that unless the law is amended forthwith the country will again be flooded by "injurious nostrums," and "cure-alls," common before the food law first was enacted. The message was transmitted both to the Senate and House. It is said the latter body probably will take the matter up at an early date. Representative Sherley, of Kentucky, has introduced a bill on the subject.
