KING AND QUEEN GREET MASSES

Parade Today More Brilliant Than Yesterday

Gorgeous Procession Held and King George Bows to Mighty Multitude, That Yells Back Loud Cheers of Greeting—Special Music of a High Note.

Beautiful Special Music. The musical program performed during the coronation service in Westminster Abbey was for the greater part the work of representative British musicians and the performers were selected from among the most renowned English cathedral and college choirs, comprising the Abbey choir, and picked singers from St. Paul's cathedral, the royal chapels of Windsor and St. James, as well as a number of men from provincial cathedrals.

Among the music always used on such occasions, and again rendered was Tallis' five-part Litany, one of the most perfect pieces of harmony in existence.

The principal novelty was Sir Frederick Bridge's "Homage" anthem, in which the old Lutheran chorale, "Ein feste Burg," was very prominent.

Dr. Alcock's "Sanctus," Sir Charles Stanford's setting of "Gloria in Excelsis," and Sir Hubert Parry's festive "Te Deum" were performed with great success.

Some striking hymns were especially composed for the occasion, including the Bishop of Durham's "Lo the king in state and splendor," set to music by Sir Frederick Bridge, and Canon Angier's "O, God, who in the days of old," set to music by Sir Walter Parratt.

SPEAKS ON HIS AUTO TAX BILL

Senator Simmons Heard on the Floor Today

Explains and Strongly Advocates the Bill He Has Introduced for the Taxing of Automobiles—His Measure Carries With It a Big Appropriation for Good Roads Along Rural Mail Routes.

Washington, June 23.—Estimating that one out of five of the five hundred thousand automobiles in use in this country is employed in interstate travel Senator Simmons of North Carolina today expressed the opinion in a speech in the Senate that a million dollars annually can be raised for the improvement of wagon roads by imposing a license fee of $10 each on such machines.

The argument was advanced that the national government was under as great obligation to aid the farmers as to aid other classes, and manufacturers, the western railroads and the rivers and harbors were mentioned as instances of the benefit of government aid.

"We have," the Senator said: "The finest railroads in the world and the poorest highways. The Government has helped to build these railroads and develop this splendid system of long distance transportation. Why should it not help to build the equally important system of short-distance transportation—the country highways over which the products of the farm must be hauled before it reaches these national highways?"

Mr. Simmons said that of the 2,150,000 miles of dirt road the country was using one million in carrying the mails, and contended that it was under obligation to the farmers to aid in maintaining them.

The saving made by a general improvement of the highways was placed at $10,000,000 to $15,000,000 annually. He estimated that the proper improvement of the wagon roads would save the farmers $300,000,000 to $400,000,000 in the cost of transporting their crops.

Concluding Mr. Simmons said: "Shall the Government having so auspiciously started upon the work of reclaiming the great and honorable calling of agriculture from the drudgery to which conditions had condemned it, now halt and hesitate to do the one thing needful to restore it to its rightful position of primacy among the great industries of the Nation? I hope not, I think not, and I had almost said I knew it well not."
