THEATRE

Creator, the wizard bandmaster, the great musician who revels in every strain and lives in accord with every note, presented two brilliant events in Wilmington yesterday. At matinee and night he appeared with his band at the Academy. Artistically the occasions were triumphs. Financially, they were failures, sad to be related. In fact, it must be admitted that while individually Wilmington has many fine musicians, as a whole Wilmington is not an ardent lover of high-class music; at least not a supporter.

Each concert was of great merit, and the band rendered the difficult numbers with superb technique, and those who were present were deep in their appreciation and lavish in their applause.

"The Gamblers" Tonight.
Charles Klein's "The Gamblers," which remained at Maxine Elliott's Theatre, New York, for over 200 consecutive performances and was conceded the greatest success among serious dramas produced last season, comes to the Academy of Music tonight under the management of The Authors' Producing Company, of which John Cort is President.

In this play the defaulter's act is not condoned in spite of the fact that he is made lovable. The methods of bank robbers are bare and the folly of crime in business is distinctly shown in the

New Way to Remove Age Marks From Skin

(Modern Styles.)
By discarding powder and cosmetics and using a mayatone lotion, it is an easy matter to gradually remove wrinkles and facial blemishes and give to an aged, flabby or unlovely skin the rich embellishment of girlhood health. The lotion, which is made by dissolving an original package of mayatone in eight ounces of witch-hazel, should be applied daily. Before using, the skin should be thoroughly cleansed of dust and grime, and then the lotion gently massaged into the face, neck and arms until the skin is dry and smooth. With the aid of this inexpensive lotion the skin is freed of pimples, blackheads and other impurities, and the skin grows firm and smooth, and takes on an exquisite texture.

when the piece was produced in Berlin last season. Anthony Mars, the author, is known as the Emperor's favorite playwright and has been decorated for his many successes which have set all Europe laughing with delight. "The Girl in the Taxi" is acknowledged as Mars' best work, and contains more side-splitting complications than half a dozen of his other efforts combined.

"The Girl in the Taxi" will be seen at the Academy tomorrow night. Seats are now on sale.

"Graustark."
"Graustark," an adaptation by Geo. D. Baker of Barr McCutcheon's most popular novel, will be presented at the Academy Saturday at matinee and personal abasement that comes to each participant. The great point of interest is the coming together of the defaulter and the wife of the attorney for the prosecution, who formerly had been lovers and had been thrown apart through circumstances. Thus, it is not primarily a drama of moral purposes, although that purpose is not absent, but one of sentiment. In other words, the sentimental situation is not unfamiliar, but the circumstances and the treatment are.

An associate in the criminal action had weakened and had turned over notes and a statement to the attorney for the prosecution that would convict. In a scene of tense interest the situation is discussed by the men involved. A game of cards has been arranged for, and it is finally agreed among them that the turn of a card should designate the one who is to assume the responsibility and become the victim of the inevitable indictment. The lot falls to Wilbur Emerson. He enters the house of the attorney at night to abstract the documents from the desk of his personal and official enemy, Mrs. Darwin, the wife, discovers him in his search, secures possession of the papers herself, and will not listen to his pleadings that she give them to him. Darwin has had Emerson shadowed by detectives and confronts him there. He believes that he has come by appointment with his wife, but promises to listen to his explanation. He then sends him out of the room and calls his wife to have her confirm it. His questioning is of such a nature that she, in her indignation, declines to finish her story, and assents to his charges. She will leave him. Thus we have a drama of situation and sentiment. The incidents and detail are so cumulative that the reaction is instinctive with life and character and emotion and comedy as well. As a production it is said to reach the high water mark.

Seats will be on sale at Plummer's up to 6 o'clock this afternoon.

"The Girl in the Taxi."
The Emperor of Germany is said to have visited the theatre where "The Girl in the Taxi" under the name of "Like Father Like Son" was played preciated. It is a corker for both joy and novelty.

At The Grand.
The Grand today has a superb program for its hundreds of admirers. It is a bill filled with laughter, song and heart-throbs. It is one of the highest class for merit and best for variety ever presented, and those who miss it will go minus a big and rare treat. In the musical line, the orchestra has a new and brilliant program of popular hits, while Nat Hill will render a great character song, which depicts lowly life, in "Some One's Waiting for Me". It is filled with pathos, and this noted balladist renders it with splendid effect.

The films will be many, and will include the latest Vitagraph thriller, "A Western Heroine."

A big laugh provoker will be presented in "Town Hall Tonight" Two wandering Thespians, the Schütz Brothers, arrive in Snakeville, and bill the town for a show at the town hall that night, however their efforts to please the Snakeville cowboys are unsatisfactory, the audience leaves in disgust. Next morning they are caught stealing pies from a kitchen window and one of the boys is locked up. The other makes up as an old lady and tells the sheriff she is looking for her son, and she presents a photo of the other fellow, now in the lock up. The sheriff is moved to tears and releasing the poor boy starts a subscription to send the couple back East. Not until the two, on the back end of a fastly moving train, are out of the reach of the villagers does the old "lady" reveal her identity. Imagine the surprise and disgust of the cowboys when they realize they have buncoed.

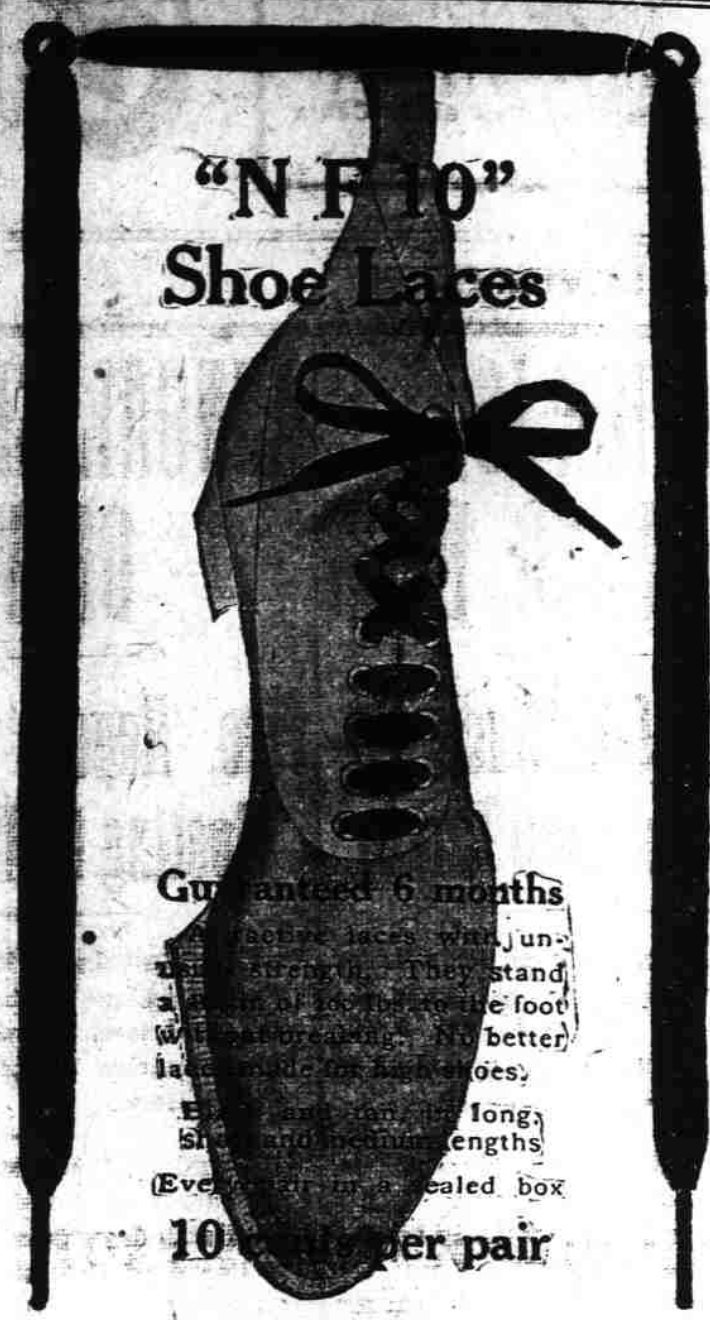

The Airdome.
Tonight, Seigel & DeLane and Miss Lovelace in vaudeville and the following pictures: "When Pals Quarrel", "The Love Portion" and "The Golden Rule". There are also free tickets to the Palace next week, with each admission at the Airdome.

TO GET RID OF RHEUMATISM
If we suffer with Rheumatism and desire to get rid of it we must make up our minds to subject our systems to the proper course of treatment for a while. The only way to cure oneself of Rheumatism is to remove the cause—expel the irritating uric acid from the blood; every other method of treatment has proved a failure. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism because it is the greatest of all blood purifiers. This medicine goes down into the circulation, and expels every particle of the sour, inflammatory uric acid which is the one great cause of the disease. The cure can be greatly hastened with a little care and self denial by the patient. In the first place do not let anything interfere to prevent your taking S. S. S. regularly and according to directions; be guarded in your eating, because an attack of indigestion will always aggravate the symptoms of Rheumatism. Do not expose yourself to damp and inclement weather any more than is necessary. When S. S. S. has had time to rid the blood of the uric acid; then these little restrictions may be left off. This simple course has cured many thousands of cases of Rheumatism. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice free. S. S. S. is sold at drug stores.

Foley's Kidney Remedy vs. a Hopeless Case.
Hon. Ark J. E. Freeman says: "I had a severe case of kidney trouble and could not work and my case seemed hopeless. I used several well known kidney remedies, and had the services of a doctor, all of which gave me no relief. One large bottle of Foley's Kidney Remedy cured me and I have also recommended it to my friends, who all received the same good results." R. R. Bellamy.
