

Wrightsville Breezes

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Whyte have taken a cottage at Wrightsville Beach Extension and are now at home there.

Mr. Bruce C. Sugg, a former Wilmingtonian, now of Greenville, N. C., is stopping a few days at the Seashore Hotel. His friends have been glad to greet him.

Arriving at the Seashore Hotel this morning for a few days visit at that popular hostelry were Messrs. T. J. Cunningham and A. M. Parker, of Lake City, N. C.

The rows of seats on the south veranda at Lumina have been covered with a large awning. The improvement makes these seats a great deal more comfortable than they have been in the past.

Mr. Robert Strange, Jr., has accepted a position as Assistant Cashier at the Oceanic. He is at home from the University of North Carolina Smith and Master M. Smith left a general addition to the clerical force at the hotel.

Among those who arrived at the Oceanic Hotel yesterday afternoon were T. H. Raney, of Chapel Hill; R. B. Shine, of Faison; J. Berg, of Southport; T. V. Moore, of Acme; A. Cowser, of Chadbourn; R. S. Carr, of Rose Hill, and A. J. Roberts, of Mount Olive.

Friends of Mrs. M. L. Hardeman will be greatly pleased to learn that she is now recuperating after an extended illness of four or five months. Mr. and Mrs. Hardeman and Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Mills have taken a cottage at the beach for the summer. While Mrs. Hardeman is still very weak from her extended illness she is rapidly recovering her strength.

Among the registrations at the Seashore Hotel last evening were noted Mr. H. W. Winstead, of Rocky Mount; J. M. Royall, of Richmond, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Steele, and E. S. Steele, Jr., of Charlotte; J. F. Griffith, of Monroe; H. V. Henry, of Monroe; J. H. Craighill, and Walter Scott, of Charlotte, and Irving B. Tucker, of Whiteville.

"The Patch," Mrs. R. B. Dunn's comfortable cottage, has quite a number of guests, among these being Mrs. Chas. Metz, of Atlanta, Ga., and children; Mr. F. E. Kellogg, of Atlanta, Ga.; Mr. S. Inglesby, of Philadelphia, Pa.; Mr. Walker Meares, and Miss Adelaide Meares, Mr. D. H. Peniston and children, Mrs. M. F. Allen and children, and Miss May Houston, all of Wilmington.

Mr. H. Markley Crosswell, who has been a guest at the Hanover Inn for several weeks left this afternoon, returning to Houston, Texas, where he represents the local cotton exporting firm of Alexander Sprunt & Son. He was accompanied as far as Greenville, S. C., by his sister, Miss Mary Crosswell, who has been the guest of Miss Etta Brand for a few days. Friends regret their departure.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Fennell and family have moved to their handsome suburban home, Arcadia, at Wrightsville Sound. Friends will be interested to know that Miss Mary Hardison, of Rocky Mount, is expected to arrive within a few days to spend sometime as the guest of Miss Charlotte Fennell. Miss Hardison has visited Miss Fennell several times in the past and she is very popular here.

Camping parties among youths seems to be the latest form of amusement at the resort. On the west side of the car terminals at Lumina, four or five small tents have been "pitched." These will be occupied throughout the summer by energetic young Americans. Among the lads who are enjoying the fun of camp life are Willie Mack Turner, Mack Wilson, Arthur Savage, William Moore, Herbert Huhn, Kelly Jewell, Jr., Walter Collins, Chris Gerdes, Ernest Yopp, Russell Lord and Harry Lowenstein.

Friends have been delighted to welcome Mr. George D. Parsley and his bride, of Pittsburg, Pa., for a few days visit at Mrs. B. R. Dunn's cottage, "The Patch." Mr. Parsley is a former Wilmington boy who has made more than good in the engineering profession. He and his bride, nee Miss Edith H. Whitmarsh, of Pittsburg, Pa., were married in that city on June 4th. They are now spending their honeymoon at the resort. Mr. Parsley is connected with the Alleghany County Light Company, of Pittsburg. It has been a number of years since he moved from Wilmington to make his home in the north. His friends have been delighted to extend a cordial welcome to himself and his charming bride.

"There is no place at Lumina for the 'Turkey Trot' and other forms of fantastic dancing. This is the proper edict which has been issued by the Tidewater Power Company management. The ruling is proper on account of the wide vogue some of the fancy steps have had recently. Director John Kneisel, of the Lumina orchestra, has been instructed by the management to have the orchestra cease playing whenever he notices among the dancers anything approaching the naughty 'Turkey Trot.' Only once or twice thus far has it been necessary to adopt this controlling measure. The management feels that in barring such dances, the high plane which has always characterized dancing at Lumina will be preserved. The many favorable commendations as to the rule, in themselves reflect

WIGGS-FRY. Happy Pair Flight Their Troth Yesterday.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy McGwin yesterday the marriage of Miss Bertha Wiggs and Mr. Thomas A. Fry was solemnized. Owing to a recent bereavement in the bride's family the ceremony was quiet and simple, but was the occasion of a tender happiness such as was possible only in blend of grief of bereavement and joy of a happy marriage. Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure, performed the ceremony. The young people left on the afternoon train for the south, and will make their home in Florence, S. C. The couple has many friends in Wilmington, all of whom will extend their best wishes.

THEATRE

The war time spirit will crack in the air, and laughter will handed out in big chunks, while scenes of beauty and charm will be presented to dazzle the vision, at the New Bijou today. Truly, at this delightful spot, where comfort is always on tap, and where healthfulness, coming as the result of free and fresh ventilation and cool breezes, is a constant attendant, one of the greatest bills ever offered will greet the amusement public today.

There will be three reels of films, and its useless, perhaps, to reiterate that each film is a feature one, while the music will be awfully jolly. Among the photoplay stars today is "The Sunset Gun." It is a film of martial spirit, one that will carry war-time excitement surging through the veins, and yet one that will breathe sweetness into the heart. It is also a war presentation of novelty; away from the beaten path. Another top-liner today—one decidedly out of the ordinary—is "Missionaries in Darkest Africa." It is a heart gripping film in action, and one that at the same time will carry information to the mind, as the scenes in the African jungles are depicted in vivid manner. The adventures of the missionary and his daughter are at times thrilling.

At the Grand. At the Grand today, at this theatre swept by cool breezes and where all is "solid comfort," another swell bill will be offered today. Besides the three new reels of films, there will be all new and most delightful orchestral music, for which the Grand is justly celebrated.

A leading photoplay today is a big Vitagraph, "The Picture Idol," and it is filled with giant, wholesome laughs, showing that the matinee idol has nothing on the moving picture idol.

Two other premier star films are the following: "A Close Call"—A couple of street fakirs fail to draw a crowd, so decide to change their act, one of them blacking up and singing coon songs. This might have gotten the crowd had not the blacked-up singer been mistaken for a colored fellow, who was suspected of a kidnapping. His neck is saved by the child being found by the nurse, who had allowed it to stray away. "Helen's Marriage"—Helen and Tom try to elope, but papa catches them and drives Tom away with a gun. At first Tom's friends at the club give him the laugh, but the next day when he tells them a plan, which was suggested by seeing a Motion Picture Company at work, they consent to help him, bringing his scheme to a successful finish.

IMPRISONED TURKEY LAID HER OWN FOOD.

Reading, Pa., June 13.—Thomas Brossman, a prosperous farmer of Sinking Spring, drove into the city yesterday carrying with him a turkey yarn which he does not tell to everybody, because he fears it will put him in the "nature faker" class. Brossman owns a flock of turkeys. Two months ago one of them disappeared and he supposed it had returned to the wild state. This morning Brossman was digging around an old haystack when he heard a faint noise. He dug into the stack and eventually reached an emaciated turkey which he recognized as the missing member of his flock. Scattered around the turkey were the shells of forty-two turkey eggs. Brossman says he counted them. When the turkey became hungry she simply laid an egg and ate it. According to Brossman's version this particular fowl could have gone on living forever through the perpetual motion she had invented. The turkey got into the haystack through a small hole made by chickens and once it was unable to turn around or eat her way to the other side. Then she began to lay her daily eggs.

FASHIONS

This charming summer costume illustrates effectively the vogue of the short jacket which in this case is a sleeveless affair of lace worn over a gown of embroidered voile and cluny lace. Black satin is used for the petticoat, and for the short sash. The hat is carried out in black and white, these colors being also combined in the handsome parasol with its corded here cord.

JOYNER-SMITH NUPTIALS

Happy Event on South Sixth Street Yesterday.

A quiet but pretty marriage was celebrated at 6 o'clock yesterday evening at the residence of Miss Henrietta Ennett, 307 South Sixth street, the contracting parties being Mr. Thaddeus Joyner and Miss Ida Smith. Rev. E. C. Sell, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church, performed the ceremony. Mr. Joyner is a native of Duplin county and Miss Smith is from Columbus county, but Wilmington has been their home for some years. After the ceremony the happy couple left for Spencer, which place will be their home in the future. Their many friends regret to see them leave, and send after them to their new home their best wishes for a long and happy wedded life.
