Contents of Stomach of Woman, Who Died Under Peculiar Circumstances, Being Chemically Examined—Lawyer Under the Ban of Suspicion.

New York, Sept. 9.—To determine whether death was due to any agency other than drowning, Prosecutor Rogers, of Orange County, New Jersey, today directed that the body of Mrs. Rosa Szabo, the Austrian woman, who met death in Greenwood Lake, while in a rowboat with Burton W. Gibson, the lawyer, now executor of her estate worth ten thousand dollars, be exhumed. Chemical analysis was made of the contents of the woman's stomach. Gibson had the body buried under the name of "Mrs. Ritter," but he expressed willingness to have the body exhumed.

NO EARTHLY HELP COULD SAVE HER

Bar Harbor, Me., Sept. 9.—Mrs. John R. McLean, of Washington, died at her summer home at 6:50 o'clock this morning, after a week's illness, of pneumonia. THE SITUATION IS INTENSE

Uncle Sam May Intervene in Mexico

Possibility of an Extra Session of Congress Being Called—Border Patrol Strengthened and Many Troops at Posts Ready to Move—Anabel Raid into United States Feared.

Washington, Sept. 9.—The arms and ammunition, which President Taft authorized to be exported to Mexico, for use of Americans in danger from the Rebels in Cananea, were ordered held up at Douglas, Arizona, until there are assurances they will not fall into the hands of the Rebels, General Stever, commanding the American border patrol, reports that his forces are now sufficient to repel any raiders.

The tenacity of the situation along the Mexican border was reflected today by continuation of preparations for any emergency, with the possibility of President Taft calling a special session of Congress to pass upon the question of intervention. With the border patrols strengthened by additional cavalry and other troops practically upon their arms at posts throughout the west, ready to move at an hour's notice to supplement the forces on Arizona and New Mexico frontier, War Department officials felt they had the situation well in hand for the present, but were apprehensive of the next move of Rebel General Salazar, encamped within sight of the United States troops, protesting he meant no harm, but believed to be planning another raid into American territory. Reports of another revolt in Southern Mexico did not command much interest. The situation in which the United States is most concerned is along the border.

Mr. Yelverton, who is a native of Fremont, Wayne county, went to the Macon Telegraph from the Winston-Salem Journal. Trenholm McClenaghan accompanied Mr. Yelverton. The young couple will take an extended bridal tour and will then come to Raleigh.

L. M. Hamilton, who was killed by a Seaboard train Saturday night, was returning to his home on Park avenue from the city market, where he had purchased provisions for Sunday. The Seaboard and Southern tracks are parallel south of Raleigh for several miles and the presence of two trains close together was responsible for his death. Mr. Hamilton is survived by a wife and eight children and was a man of some means.

Secretary Pogue and Treasurer Roter of the North Carolina State Fair are busy these days making ready for the event, which will be pulled off in October. Secretary Pogue believes that the entries will be better and more numerous than ever before and he is confident that the fair will be worth more to the State.

Sherwood Brockwell, chief of the Raleigh fire department, will take a three months' course in the Fire College of New York and while in the big metropolis will serve a month with a New York fire company. The aldermen have elected Dr. Jas. A. Rudolph, of Anderson, S. C., as meat and milk inspector and he will report for duty October 1. It is planned to have a city abattoir and rendering plant and other sanitary equipment.

WILSON TO THE ATTACK

Comes Out Strong Against "Boss" Smith

Declares Against His Election to the United States Senate, as He Believes It Would be Restoration of Machine Rule—Charges Him With Helping to Defeat the Democratic Tariff Program of the Cleveland Times.

Seagirt, N. J., Sept. 9.—Governor Woodrow Wilson, Democratic Presidential nominee, yesterday declared war on James Smith, Jr., a Democratic candidate for United States Senator from New Jersey, an office which he held during President Cleveland's second administration.

Governor Wilson expressed himself in a statement addressed to the voters of New Jersey, issued last night. He pointed out that the return of Mr. Smith to power would mean "a restoration of machine rule."

Two years ago Governor Wilson opposed Mr. Smith's candidacy for United States Senator but on the issue that James E. Martine was the legal choice of the Democratic primaries. The Governor was sustained by the legislature. Yesterday the Governor went a step farther in his opposition to Mr. Smith by charging him with "utterly defeating" the program of the Democratic party once before when the tariff issue was pre-empted.

The Governor's statement follows: "Mr. Smith has, of course, a perfect right to offer himself at the primaries as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Senator of the United States. He is acting frankly and in the spirit of the new law and if he is preferred at the primaries, it will be the duty of every Democratic member of the next legislature to vote for him when a Senator is chosen. But I feel that I ought to speak very frankly about the significance of his candidacy."

"It is not only my privilege as a citizen but my duty as the leader of my party to point out just what is involved in this matter for the Democratic party in this State and for the party in the Nation."

"Mr. Smith's selection as the Democratic candidate for the Senate would be the most fatal step backward that the Democrats of the State could possibly take. It would mean his restoration to political leadership in New Jersey, the moment my services as Governor ended, and with his restoration, a return to the machine rule which so long kept every active Democrat in the State in subordination to him and prevented every Progressive program conceived in the interest of the people from being put into effect. I speak with knowledge in this matter because at every turn of my administration, since I became Governor I have found his hand against the new plans of the party—his influence working steadily but covertly against everything that has substance, hope and pride for discouragement and shame in the politics of New Jersey during the 20 months during which I have been permitted to serve the people of the State."

"Of sinister import. It is of particularly sinister import that Mr. Smith should seek to return to the Senate of the United States at this time. He was sent to the Senate once before when the tariff had been the chief issue of the National campaign and when the Democrats had, for once in a generation, an opportunity to relieve the people of intolerable burdens and the industry of the trammels which bound it like a straight-jacket. If the tariff could have been wisely revised then, we might have been spared some part at least of the crop of trusts and combinations which now rule and circumscribe our markets."
