

THEATRE

Looking down the line of past productions of "entirely new" there is one name that looms up as the producer of practically all the successful ones. It's no secret. Gus Hill has picked all of the winners in that particular class of players. "Mutt and Jeff", although still young, has the record of them all. This has been a season of a great number of successful productions. New York has a dozen hits—unfortunately there are so many that the patronage is not sufficient to make all of the deserving ones pay. This did not prove the case when "Mutt and Jeff" was at the Grand Opera House of the Manhattan Opera House, New York, where it walked away with the record business of the year. Among so many, "Mutt and Jeff" just simply loomed up as the one conspicuous success and caught the popular fancy along with most of the loose change. "Mutt and Jeff" with their entire family of singers, dancers and funmakers come to the Academy Saturday, for matinee and night.

Al G. Field Greater Minstrels.
One of the distinctive features of the Al G. Field Greater Minstrels this season is Professor William Walter's Gold Band. Every instrument used by the organization is finished in gold, and the band is the only one of its kind carried by a minstrel organization.

Music is regarded generally as the cornerstone of minstrelsy, and the gold band is an idea entirely new in this branch of amusements. The Al G. Field Greater Minstrel's gold band appears in the parade every day, and two free concerts will be given in Wilmington next Monday when the minstrels come here for a performance at the Academy.

During the opening spectacle of the performance, "Minstrelsy, Past and Present" the musicians appear as Spanish students and the scene opens as the Gold Band is concluding a concert on the veranda of the hotel at Ormond Beach just before the auto races are announced. Both the band program and the selections for the orchestra and performance this season includes the melodies of yesterday, the successes of today together with the popular classics for music lovers.

Seats will be on sale at Plummer's Saturday.

At The Bijou.
The popular Bijou—the joy spot of Wilmington—and the mecca of solid comfort—will head its big bill today with another "Captain Barnacle" film. It has been some time since one of these old favorites has been manufactured. So the one today will be hailed with keen delight, especially as it has been pronounced the very best ever conceived and created. It is entitled "Captain Barnacle's Legacy" and it tells of Africa and of some queer and also thrilling experiences there.

Another film that will shine as a star today is "As the Fate Decree." George Clark hears that the widow, a charming widow, is about to receive a legacy of fifty thousand dollars. Desirous of securing a portion of this fortune, Clark proposes marriage to the widow. Later he learns that the legacy has been used up in court proceedings and that Mrs. Wilson will receive but a small share of the money. He jilts her and goes to the seashore, where he meets Dorothy, the widow's pretty eighteen-year-old daughter. Dorothy and her sweetheart, Dick Gregory, have had a slight lovers' quarrel and Clark finds conditions ripe for a flirtation.

Dorothy is soon captivated by Clark. Finally Clark is shown up in his true colors, when the canoe in which they are paddling is upset and they are both plunged into the icy waters. Clark leaves Dorothy to her fate while he swims to shore. Luckily, for Dorothy, Dick sees the accident and swims to the rescue. He manages to save Dorothy's life and when the young reunited couple return to their friend's cottage, Dorothy finds that her mother has arrived to spend the week end. Mrs. Wilson denounces Clark and the young couple repair to a secluded retreat nearby where they can whisper sweet nothings to each other.

At the Grand.
A bill that will precisely fit into the day, one that will banish dismalness will be offered by the Grand today. Among the good ones is the Biograph's "The Tragedy of a Dress Suit," while another corker is "An Interrupted Development."

But the star will be Essanay's "Back to the Old Farm."

Frank Clayton, a young city chap, plans a vacation on his uncle's farm. Going to his friend, George Randall, Clayton shows him old Barnes' letter, asking that George be brought along as he has always been like a son to him and that someone will be glad to see him. George agrees to go and that night has a dream of the old days on Barnes' farm, where he worked as a young fellow and loved pretty Mollie. Telling on the old fashioned place becomes irksome to him and he determines to seek his fortune in the city. Packing up his few things he leaves a note for Barnes, then steals away in the moonlight and comes up on Mollie in the garden. Telling her of his discontent and his plans for the future he kisses her tenderly, receives her blessing and leaves. With a start George now awakes to find Clayton urging him to hurry and make the train. But what a change greets their eyes on arriving at the old place. Time and money have worked miracles and Barnes' farm is now equipped with the latest and most modern machinery and conveniences. With pretty Mollie by his side, George rides over the vast acres in wonderment, and the two plan a moonlight strolch that night. Proudly old Barnes shows them a new auto-wagon he has just bought and tells George it is good for anything. Next morning the young couple are missed and Barnes finds a note from George de-

Wrightsville Breezes

Mr. Will Pennington, the popular chief clerk at the Seashore Hotel, during the past summer, has returned to his home at Harboro.

The regular mid-week dance will be given at Lumina tomorrow evening by the Tidewater Power Company. The evenings now are very pleasant for dancing and it is expected that quite a large number of young people will go from the city tomorrow to participate in the dances.

A dance was given last evening at the Hanover Inn, complimentary to Misses Ethel and Lily Carter, of Wallace. The young ladies have been guests at the Inn for some days and they have been the recipients of many social attentions. The dance last evening was a most pleasant affair.

Mr. George W. Davis' fishing crew made a splendid haul of mullets yesterday afternoon at the beach. While several hauls were made during the day, the one in the afternoon was the most successful. It was estimated that about 4,000 pounds of mullets were secured from the total number of hauls. Mullet is running strongly now and the fishermen are meeting with fine luck.

The souvenir dance to be given at Lumina tonight by the Tidewater Power Company will undoubtedly attract scores of young people from the city, as well as those who are on the beach at present. The company has announced that a handsome brooch will be given away with the other souvenirs. The brooch will be placed in a box, similar to those for the other gifts. Therefore the lucky owner will not know that she has gotten the special prize until all the packages have been opened. These surprise souvenir dances have been very popular in the past. It is believed that the one planned for this evening will be no exception to the general rule. The Tidewater Company will operate special car service from the city.

MR. T. A. GREEN

One of the New Hotel Promoters, is in the City.

Mr. T. A. Green, of Spartanburg, S. C., one of the gentlemen interested in the plan to erect a hotel at the southeast corner of Front and Walnut streets, is in the city today. It is expected that he will be here for a day or two. It was stated that the special object of his mission is to settle definitely the title to the property, which was recently acquired by the promoters.

The tragic death of Mr. J. M. Jamieson, at Charlotte, who was interested in the plan, rendered necessary compliance with certain legal formalities in clearing the title. It is hoped that the plan for the hotel, will materialize and that work will be started within a short time.

Warren Candy Company.

The articles of incorporation for the Warren Candy Company were received today at the office of the clerk of Superior Court, for record. The papers show that the authorized capital stock is $25,000. Business may be started when $2,100 has been paid. The stock is divided into 250 shares, of $100 each. The incorporators and the numbers of shares of stock they hold are as follows: E. L. Mathews, 11 shares; W. C. Davis, 4 shares; W. G. James, 5 shares; A. G. Warren, 5 shares.

To Give Lawn Party.

A lawn party will be given this evening by the ladies of the Immanuel Presbyterian Church. The party will be given on the play-grounds near the church building. Refreshments will be served and there will be a number of amusements. The public is cordially invited to attend and everyone is assured a pleasant evening.

clearing the auto-wagon has been just the right medium for their elopement and that the fairs and Mollie are good enough for him for they are coming back soon. With a smile the old man prepares to kill the fatted calf.

Plenty of Proof

From People You Know—From Wilmington Citizens.

The greatest skeptic can hardly fail to be convinced by evidence like this. It is impossible to produce better proof of merit than the testimony of residents of Wilmington of people who can be seen at any time. Read the following case of it:

Mrs. W. W. Mince, 712 Voller street, Wilmington, N. C., says: "I am very thankful to Doan's Kidney Pills for the great benefit I received from their use. For a long time kidney trouble clung to me and I was caused great annoyance by the kidney secretion. My back ached and I did not seem able to get a minute's peace. Some days I was hardly able to move around to attend to my work. At last I got a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills from Bellamy's Drug Store and they restored me to good health." (Statement given February 24, 1908.)

Endorse Doan's Again.
Mrs. Mince was interviewed on December 27, 1910 and she said: "I can still speak highly of Doan's Kidney Pills and recommend them as being good for kidney trouble. During the past two years I have taken this remedy and it always has a prompt and beneficial effect."

Be Fair to Your Corns

They will soon stop troubling you if you handle them properly. All that is necessary is for you to relieve the pressure of the lump of callosus upon the sensitive nerves beneath.

Don't use "plasters" made of powerful chemicals designed to "eat" out the corn. If the chemical is strong enough to "eat" dead tissue, it is certainly dangerous to live tissue. Many cases of blood-poisoning have resulted from this practice.

The safe, quick, easy, common-sense way is to pare down the hard part of the corn a little at a time, with ANTICOR, the Perfect Safety Corn Shaver. It is simple and easy to use, can't possibly cut you, and gives immediate relief.

Throw away those plasters and soothe your foot comfort at once.
